

Newspaper Decisions.

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered wishing to continue their subscription.

2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodicals the publishers may continue to send them until all arrears are paid.

3. If subscribers do not pay their bills they take their periodicals from the offices to which they are directed they are held responsible until they have paid their bills.

4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publishers, and the papers are sent to the former address they are held responsible.

5. Publishers have decided that "if a subscriber takes periodicals from the office or removing and leaving them encased for a prima facie evidence of non-payment."

6. Any person who receives a newspaper and makes use of it, whether he has ordered it or not, shall be liable in law to a subscriber.

7. If subscribers do not advise they are bound to give notice to the publisher at the end of their term, if they do not wish to continue taking it. The publisher will then be bound to discontinue it and the subscribers will be responsible for all express notice, with payment of all bills sent to the publisher.
