

Democratic State Ticket.

Secretary of State,
WILLIAM R. MYERS,
of Madison county.
Auditor of State,
JAMES H. RICE,
of Floyd county.
Treasurer of State,
JOHN J. COOPER,
of Monroe county.
State General
FRANCIS T. HORN
of Bartholomew county.
Clerk of Supreme Court,
SIMON P. SHEERIN,
of Cass county.
Superintendent of Public Instruction,
JOHN W. HOLCOMBE,
of Porter county.
Supreme Judge—First District,
W. E. NIBLACK,
of Knox county.
Supreme Judge—Second District,
GEORGE H. HOW,
of Floyd county.
Supreme Judge—Fourth District,
ALLEN ZOLLARS,
of Allen county.

For Congress,
THOMAS J. WOOD, of Lake county.
State Senator,
FREDERICK HOOVER, Jasper Co.
For Joint Representative,
THOMAS BUSWELL, Newton county.
For Prosecutor 50th Judicial Circuit,
WILLIAM DARRON, of Newton.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY TICKET.
For Clerk—NATHANIEL S. BATES.
For Auditor—EZRA C. NOWELS.
For Treasurer—
For Sheriff—JOHN W. DUVALL.
For Recorder—JOHN T. FORD.
For Coroner—SYLVESTER HEALEY.
For Surveyor—CHARLES W. LOWMAN.
Commissioners—
First District—GEORGE STALBAUM.
Second District—DAVID GRAY.
Third District—EDWARD W. CULP.

The Kentland Gazette says the Democratic party of Indiana has a campaign fund of $75,000, furnished by the Liquor League. D. P. Baldwin who is anxious to continue as beneficiary of the salary and emoluments of the Attorney General's office, started that falsehood, we understand. In any event old twenty-four per cent, and the Gazette, wofully lie.

What mistake was it, that the jail cost about one thousand dollars more than it ought? Certainly not the commissioners—Rensselaer Republican.

Well, you tell me. Ask Messrs. George T. Robinson how much he is allowed, and for what, etc., and Babcock, as to whether he was not instrumental, in the interest of friends, of course, in causing delay and labor that may have increased the amount some. More anon.

If any article is cheaper now than before the war it may be properly attributed to the introduction of labor-saving machinery, discoveries of new supplies of materials, ingredients, etc., increased facilities for procuring the same, and so on. Iigh far an article does not serve to cheapen it. Mr. DeMotte's logic, as the Republicans terms it, to the contrary, it is simply a plain absurdity.

DeMotte's argument on the knit-goods bill was simply what we expected from him, viz: A clerical error in revision reduced the tax for the future to 35 percent. He and his associates voted to correct that error and reinstated the tax of 85 percent. The tariff is prohibitory. The manufacturers regulate their prices, get what they demand, are fast increasing the number of millionaires, while home industry employed in their establishments are frequently engaged in strikes for living wages, and if they persist their places are supplied with negroes, Chinese, or the pauper labor of Europe, about which we hear so much, and the power of the government invoked to protect the wealthy monopolists.

Mr. DeMotte "logically" argues—"The Government should take care of the rich and the rich will take care of the poor."

Mr. DeMotte had considerable to say in favor of the fostering care of the Government to promote manufacturing interests, but nothing with reference to the Government adopting a plan which would render "strikes" unnecessary and unclean, ed.

Mr. DeMotte said he had been reared on a farm, but did not know what a trace was. He must be the same chap sent from farm life to college who forged a rake was, until, stepping on its teeth, it flew up and struck him in the face. Without any further interrogator, he instantly exclaimed, "damn the rake." By the way, if they are so obscure and useless an article as DeMotte would have it, how did a tariff duty ever happen to fish them out for a tariff duty?

The appointment of a Tariff commission was with a view to carry the matter over this campaign. Only manufacturers appear in its sessions. We have noticed that fanners, mechanics, laboring men or employees of the monopolies, the many who are taxed to render opulent the few, put in an appearance at their meetings.

The result in Ohio has made the opposition desperate. "My Dear Hubbell," has sent to this State a goodly portion of his assessment fund, and evidently their checkers will expend considerable wind now until the election, for which they will be well paid.

The Democratic party is in favor of a tariff for revenue—tariff which will defray the proper and legitimate expenditures of the Government without a resort to direct taxation. A tariff which recognizes just, fair and liberal remuneration, and opposed to extortion to increase the gains of monopolists. A tariff which, while it may not create millionaires, will make investments profitable, improve the living chances of the hardy sons of toil, remove the incentive to array labor against capital. The Democratic party is not in favor of free trade and free whisky, as declared by republican orators. The lie should blister their throats.

Our neighbor Indiana appealed to us for a cessation of the controversy which he inaugurated, and in this week's issue either he or the fellow left in either charge publicly withdraws from it in a rather dampish style. The Republican will understand, when it tackles a criticism of the SENTINEL will permit a reply. When it tackles the SENTINEL, why—why—judge the issue from the past.

Chicago Times: The discussion of the income tax suit against Senator Tilden was suspended to give a chance for the two contestants to get a hearing, and a circular was issued to the public to the purpose of affecting public opinion against a continuance of the opposition to the party's principles in power. The circular is absolute and unconditional. An attorney general does not care to be a party to the suit, so presenting him as an independent and willing to let government move in the matter, to pay all the costs. This was wholly unauthorized by Mr. Tilden, and now the government in its own motion, incidentally, the attorney general has given a hearing to any part of the circular. Continues.

The demands of luxury, the demands of comfort, and a more thorough application of the laws of hygiene, are spread more among all classes of society, and have consequently increased in industry constant efforts which have resulted in prodigies of good in the art.

Yes, it will impinge on the costly efforts of industry to make up for the tax, which will be absolute in favor of the government, for the loss of industry, and the consequent loss of which will be keenly felt in any part of the civilized earth. Continues.

The conference of these days knows that the hands in the hands not only of the human being, but also the health of the entire species.

He comes now with the Senator from Ohio. He will know hereafter that Mr. Tilden holds in his hands at least a majority of the dignity and health of the "families of society." He desires to give them a free range in the use of those things which contribute to these desirable results.

These are the facts. Now we admit that the "key" man might have for gotten his promise. But we are just as free to admit, that, that is the weakest and lowest form of argument, and shows, that a once great party that has lived for years on the wind of its former glory, must feel it self wonderfully straightened or dislocated, toddling on its last legs, and on the very verge of speedy liquidation. The Lord God Almighty hurry on the day of this coming downfall of money lords and monopolies which will hurry us a more glorious, prosperous and happy day for the oppressed and toiling masses of this great country. I would not be afraid to bet a three year old cross eyed and spavined red steer (though I don't bet) that the house will be opened up and lighted for DeMotte. If such intolerance don't react upon the party, nature has forgotten her laws.

P. S. "I do not want to charge any wrong or neglect on the Sheriff, for I think he knew nothing of the affair. It was his deputy that promised to leave the house open.

S. W. RITCHY.

Hair Switches, real genuine Hair, all colors, only $5 at the Notion Store of Hemphill & Honan's.

Bedford, Pa., Republic: We are indebted to Alex. R. Agnew for the same sure cure for hog and chicken cholera: Two ounces of aum, two of resin, two of cayenne pepper, two of flour of sulphur, two of gamphor, and two of copperas. Mix in six quarts of corn meal. For chicks give two tablespoonsfulls of the mixture twice a week. For pigs feed the same quantity daily. Mr. Agnew says this remedy never fails to cure.

Nets! Nets! Gold and Silver Mesh; also a full line of silk mesh very cheap at Hemphill & Honan's Fancy Notion Store.

It has gradually leaked out that the Republican State Central Committee adjourned two days after the Ohio election utterly disgusted with the things they have taken. It was understood that the "State was gone to the devil," as one of the disgusted remarked.

Mr. DeMotte, a member of the tariff commission, in giving a Philadelphian reporter an outline of the commission's work and travels, said that in New England, where free-traders would be supposed to be numerous, he was surprised to find the manufacturers, tradesmen, etc., in their judicial state the Free-Soilers.

We trust Mr. Tilden will adopt a course which will enable him to a certain extent to get even with these men, and teach them a lesson that will fit them like other officials from such perfidious workmen.

Judge Ambler, a member of the tariff commission, in giving a Philadelphian reporter an outline of the commission's work and travels, said that in New England, where free-traders would be supposed to be numerous, he was surprised to find the manufacturers, tradesmen, etc., in their judicial state the Free-Soilers.

The art of creating perfumes was originated at the beginning of this century.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Mr. President, I am dealing with this bill with perfect fairness. You, gentlemen, propose to make certain provisions that will offend all the forms, fictions, and securities of art, and only appeal to the eyes of the vulgar, chimerical and vicious.

Ladies Rubber Gossamer's only $2 at Hemphill & Honan's.

General Slocum is the only representative of the soldier element on either of the New York party tickets, and it is said that a movement has been inaugurated among the Grand Army posts and veterans to give him their united support. This will assuredly be gratifying to General Slocum.

Umbrellas! Umbrella! only 125 at Hemphill & Honan's.

RENSSELAER, Oct. 14th 1882.—Mr. Editor: You say "Col. DeMotte speaks at the court house next Wednesday evening, (last evening) why should he not be allowed to speak in the house?"

Editor, or SENTINEL: Please announce that you find this lasting combination of exquisite perfumes a delightful novelty.

TEQUERANCE.

Dr. R. Hutchins, of Iowa, will address the people of Jasper County under the direction of the Grand Temperance Council of Indiana as follows:

Center School House, Barkley town, Sunday, Oct. 22nd, 1882, at 10.30 a.m.

Rensselaer, Court House, Sunday, Oct. 22d, 7 o'clock p.m.

Egypt School House, Jordan town, Monday, October 23d, 7.30 p.m.

Remington, Sunday, Oct. 24th 1882, at 7 p.m.

Dr. Hutchins is an able and eloquent advocate of the principles of temperance.

Dr. B. MILLER,
S. IRWINS, Committee,
S. B. WASHBURN, Committee.

WORTH REMEMBERING.

Now that good times are upon us it is worth remembering that no one can live in health and comfort in a house with bad surroundings. If there are hundreds of miserable people going about to stay with disordered stomach, liver or kidneys, when a bottle of Parker's Ginger Tonic would do them more good than all the medicines they have ever tried.

Ladies and Gentlemen are invited to see the publication of the World's Cyclopaedia of Science, it is an event of remarkable interest to many. For the first time, it brings the scholarly productions of the masters in modern science within the reach of students and all readers who most need, and most highly appreciate, their work.

The publication of the Cyclopaedia of Science is an event of remarkable interest to many. For the first time, it brings the scholarly productions of the masters in modern science within the reach of students and all readers who most need, and most highly appreciate, their work.

The publication of the Cyclopaedia of Science is an event of remarkable interest to many. For the first time, it brings the scholarly productions of the masters in modern science within the reach of students and all readers who most need, and most highly appreciate, their work.

The publication of the Cyclopaedia of Science is an event of remarkable interest to many. For the first time, it brings the scholarly productions of the masters in modern science within the reach of students and all readers who most need, and most highly appreciate, their work.

The publication of the Cyclopaedia of Science is an event of remarkable interest to many. For the first time, it brings the scholarly productions of the masters in modern science within the reach of students and all readers who most need, and most highly appreciate, their work.

The publication of the Cyclopaedia of Science is an event of remarkable interest to many. For the first time, it brings the scholarly productions of the masters in modern science within the reach of students and all readers who most need, and most highly appreciate, their work.

The publication of the Cyclopaedia of Science is an event of remarkable interest to many. For the first time, it brings the scholarly productions of the masters in modern science within the reach of students and all readers who most need, and most highly appreciate, their work.

The publication of the Cyclopaedia of Science is an event of remarkable interest to many. For the first time, it brings the scholarly productions of the masters in modern science within the reach of students and all readers who most need, and most highly appreciate, their work.