Trades Assembly of Chicago, three delegates from the New York Typographical Union detailed their grievances against Whitelaw Reid, and announced their purpose to urge the Republican National Convention into boycotting him.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Owing to the recent "departures" of swindling bank presidents and officials from the United States to Canada there has grown up a desire to make the extradition treaty between our Government and that of Great Britain somewhat more stringent and comprehensive.

The American Congregational Association held its thirty-first annual meeting at Boston. The year's receipts were $23,359, and the balance on hand $233. The changes in the directory include the dropping of Charles G. Hammond, of Chicago-T. V. Blatchford taking his place. Annual memberships were abolished, and life memberships raised from $30 to $50.

An expedition which lately left Nassau on a British yacht has been safely landed in Cuba. At Sainte Claire, on the island, Col. Varona is organizing a large force.

The iron manufacturers of the Mahoning and Shenango Valleys signified their willingness to sign last year's scale with the new additions omitted. It is believed that there will be no ironworkers' strike in the Youngstown district, but at Pittsburgh matters are unsettled.

Employees of the Wabash Road at Chicago quietly stopped work because they had not received their wages.

William Brown, a colored man, who murdered a peddler named Lavigne at Cahokia, Illinois, and buried his body in the flophouse, was executed at Bellevue. He confessed his crime, and scarcely had strength to reach the scaffold. John Tucker was hanged at Paris, Alabama, for the murder of a companion named Aaron Baker.

Decoration Day was observed with unusual pomp throughout the country. At Chicago the street parade was very large and fine. Addresses were delivered at the ceremonies by Hon. Emory A. Storrs and Col. H. G. Ingersoll. Gen. Rosecrans officiated at the unveiling of the soldiers' monument at Delaware, Ohio, in presence of fifteen thousand persons. During the memorial exercises at Louisville the speaker's stand collapsed, fifty persons being precipitated to the ground, but none received serious injuries.

Mr. Thomas Sexton, the most eloquent of the Parnellite members of Parliament, is about to proceed to Australia on an Irish patriotic mission. He will be accompanied by the younger of the Redmond brothers.

Dynamite explosions at London caused widespread alarm and indignation. The police, says a cablegram, are completely baffled, and, for the first time in the history of great crimes in the metropolis, have not even a theory to offer. In fact, they find the public are becoming hourly more restive and agitated over the apparent incompetence of the police, and the widest schemes of reprisals against Irish agitators are mooted.

The appointment of local vigilance committees on the American Western plan is seriously discussed in some hitherto very conservative quarters.

Nubar Pasha, the Egyptian Premier, in a statement to European powers, asserts that Egypt is not able to support the present rates of taxation. The land-tax, he says, exceeds the value of the crops.

Long-continued drouths have had a damaging effect on the crops in England. The farmers anxiously hope for rain.

King Tawhiam, of the New Zealand Maoris, is on a visit to England to urge his recognition as King, so that he may be able the more successfully to prevent the New Zealand whites from grabbing the lands of the natives. It is mentioned in the dispatches as a remarkable fact that Tawhiam was sober on his arrival in England.

At Lille, France, the car of a balloon containing twelve persons fell forty metres. Three were killed, and the remainder severely injured.

LATER NEWS ITEMS.

The steamship Yaquina reached Yaquina, Ore., and with a full cargo had no difficulty in reaching the wharf. The event has caused rejoicing throughout Central and Eastern Oregon.

Yellow fever has broken out at Guaymas, Mexico.

Because of the revenue-stamp tax five Mexican States have proclaimed war against President Gonzalez.

The Washington Post, a Democratic organ, announces that Samuel J. Tilden is not an aspirant for Presidential honors at the hands of the Democracy, and that he will not accept the nomination under any circumstances.

The Directors of the Reading Road, after numerous meetings, announced that the coupons on the consolidated bonds will be cashed at par. A bill was introduced to appropriate $25,000 in aid of the Southern Exposition at Louisville and to admit exhibits free of duty. A resolution was presented asking the President to issue a proclamation carrying into effect the Mexican reciprocity treaty whenever he is satisfied that the President of Mexico has issued a similar proclamation. The legislative bill was debated and amendments reducing the number of internal-revenue districts to forty-three and the number of customs districts to sixty-nine were adopted by large majorities. An amendment abolishing Storekeepers at small districts was adopted by a vote of 118 to 74. Mr. Hiseock moved to suspend the rules on a motion favoring the abolition of the internal revenue tax on tobacco, on alcohol used for artistic purposes, and on fruit brandies. Pending a vote on the motion, the House adjourned.

How often do men build better than they know. In Philadelphia a wrathful citizen hurled an iron bootjack from a fourth-story window, at a maddening organ-grinder, and knocked a Street Commissioner into the gutter. Thus, oftentimes, a noble aim will round out the humblest actions of our lives into a fullness of glory and merit that places us on easy and familiar footing with the angels.—Burlington Hawk-eye.

The Union Springs Advertiser tells of a widower of a few weeks only, who proposed to an old maid acquaintance with all the gush and fervor of his condition, setting forth the inducement of a fine house as the leading feature of his suit. But the o. m. had her opinion of the suitor, and replied: "And what on earth is the use of marrying a hog for the sake of his pen?"—Ex.

THE PRESIDENTIAL YEAR.

Tilden the First Choice of the Badger State Democracy.

Kansas Democrats Indorse the New York Statesman and Revenue Reform.

Wisconsin Democrats.

The Wisconsin Democratic State Convention for the selection of delegates to the National Democratic Convention at Chicago, met in the State House at Madison. The attendance was uncommonly large, nearly every district being fully represented. The gathering was notable for containing a very large number of old-timers, many of whom had not attended conventions for many years. It was almost a foregone conclusion that Tilden delegates would be chosen; and although a strong effort was made by Mr. George, of Milwaukee, to get together a following for his uncle, Roswell P. Flower, of New York, the sentiment for the old ticket was overpowering, and the delegation is a unit. The convention was called to order by Judge L. R. Larsen, of Eau Claire, who in his speech took strong ground in favor of free trade. His remarks were received enthusiastically. Delegates were chosen as follows:
