Concise Record of the Week.

EASTERN.

Upon opening a ventilator in a tiger's cage at Forepaugh's circus, at Waterbury, Conn., Richard Clark was seized by one of the animals, two others immediately attacking him also. He was dragged inside the cage and horribly mutilated before being rescued, the tigers having been beaten off by iron bars.

A carriage at Greylock Crossing, Mass., containing George and Alice Hall, was struck by an express train. The corpse of the young man remained on the pilot, while that of the lady was thrown on a high bank.

The remains of the celebrated Iroquois Chief, Red Jacket, and those of other distinguished warriors were reinterred the other day at Buffalo, on the lot donated by the Forest Lawn Association. A large number of Indians were present at the ceremony. While the remains were being carried in cedar caskets from the rooms of the Historical Society, chiefs, wearing native costumes, shanted Indian funeral dirges.

The United States steam cruiser Atlanta, which was successfully launched last week at Chester, Pa., was christened by Jessie Lincoln, daughter of the Secretary of War.

In demolishing a building on the summit of East Rock, at New Haven, the laborers discovered several spacious underground passages leading to a vault, and in the latter were found counterfeit coin and a broken die.

The house of a farmer named Joseph Gates, near Johnstown, Pa., was invaded by five masked men, well armed, who forced the family to surrender $1,100 in cash.

The International Electrical Exhibition at Philadelphia closed last week. The net profits of the affair were about $50,000.

The New Haven Morning News announces that President Theodore Roosevelt has resigned from Yale College, the reason assigned being his advanced years.

Joe Buzzard and gang, the terror of Pennsylvania towns, were released from jail at Ephrata, and celebrated the event by committing several daring robberies. They were pursued, but escaped.

WESTERN.

A terrible disaster occurred south of Chicago in Lake Michigan, just opposite the Hyde Park Water Works, by which ten men lost their lives. Fifteen men were employed by the contractors in constructing an inlet tunnel to the water works. They lodged in a shanty constructed on piles at the crib about a mile from shore. A furious gale came up during the night, which washed the shanty off, and with it three of the men. One of the three drifted to shore on a plank and was saved. Of those who clung to the piles, eight were subsequently swept off by the waves and drowned. The four who managed to cling to their places were rescued by the life-boat, which braved a very dangerous sea in order to save them.

Small-pox has broken out at Brookings, Dakota, and is spreading rapidly. It is thought that it was introduced into the place by immigrants.

The wholesale and retail dry goods firm of Day Bros. & Co., of Peoria, Ill., has made an assignment. The liabilities are placed at $122,000 and the assets at $86,000. There are 187 creditors, the principal ones being New York and Philadelphia dry goods firms.

Mrs. Walls, a little woman, found a thief in her room in the St. James Hotel at St. Louis, and sending word by a friend for help, slipped into the apartment, locked the door, and threw the key through the transom. Then she took from the sneak the money and valuables he had appropriated, and when people from the office opened the door handed him into their charge.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. Church for the Northwest, in session at Jacksonville, Ill., elected Mrs. J. I. Hill, of Evanston, and Mrs. T. A. Hill, of Chicago, President and Recording Secretary, respectively, and will meet next year in Kalamazoo.

The Third Presbyterian Church of Chicago, located on the corner of Ashland and Ogden avenues, was gutted by a fire which evidently arose from the carelessness of some tinner at work on the roof. The loss is nearly $100,000, and the insurance is $91,500. Rev. Dr. Kittredge had intended to accept a call to Philadelphia, but it is understood that he will remain until the Third Church is again ready for use.

Charles W. Butler was hanged at Columbia City, Ind., for the murder of his wife. He was the son of an honored and wealthy physician of Columbus, Ohio. On the scaffold the condemned man predicted that all connected with his execution would experience regret.

Near Troy, Ind., the nude and headless body of Mrs. Stillwell Hendershot was found in a cistern, and, suspicion resting on the family, the husband and his two sons, F. H. and William Hendershot, were arrested. At the investigation, F. H. Hendershot acknowledged killing his mother, but the old man also eliminated himself, and both were held, while William was released. A mob lynched the eldest son, and started to string up the father and other boy. The woman held a deed to the farm, and was killed because she would not relinquish it.

At Livingston, Wis., the safe of John Allen was broken into and robbed of money and securities amounting to $23,000.

SOUTHERN.

Gas has for three years been supplied to the people of Baltimore at $1 per thousand feet, but the rival companies have formed a pool and advanced the price to $1.75.

Capt. Waddell, of the Confederate cruiser Shenandoah, has been given command of a new steamer in the oyster navy of Maryland, patterned after the Federal revenue cutters.

The Illinois Central Road has ordered the survey of a line from Yazoo City to Memphis, to tap the territory tributary to the Mississippi and Tennessee Roads, which recently passed into the hands of a rival company.

Joseph Webster, of Nashville, Tenn., drove to an undertaking establishment, selected a costly coffin, had the inscription "Rest in Peace," inscribed on it, went home, took laudanum and rat poison and died.

A barrel of whisky exploded at Canton, Miss., the liquid immediately taking fire, though there was neither light nor fire in the room.

Louis G. Shafer, proprietor of two billiard halls in Baltimore, was run over and killed by a Baltimore and Ohio train.

The extensive snuff factory of A. J. Campbell & Co., in the suburbs of Petersburg, Va., valued at $200,000, was destroyed by fire.

POLITICAL.

The straight Republicans of Missouri met at Macon, and nominated a full State ticket, headed by Odon Guitler for Governor. J. Milton Turner is the candidate for Railroad Commissioner.

Congressional nominations include I. W. Van Schaick by the Republicans of the Fourth Wisconsin District, William W. Eaton by the Democrats of the First Connecticut, J. N. Sarber by the Republicans of the Fourth Arkansas, Robert S. Stevens by the Democrats of the Thirty-first New York, and Charles S. Baker by the Republicans of the Thirtieth New York.

John Quincy Adams has declined a Democratic nomination for Congress in Massachusetts.

Charleston (W. Va.) dispatch: A sensational scene occurred when the train bearing Gen. Logan and party reached Hinton. The General was speaking from the rear platform of his car, when he was interrupted by a man named West, who pushed forward through the throng to within a few feet of the vehicle. "You raised the first rebel flag in Illinois, and I want to shake hands with you," the fellow shrieked, stretching out his right hand. "Who said so?" bellowed Logan, furiously. "I don't know who," returned West, unabashed, "but I know it's so." "You are a liar!" howled Logan, and craning his neck over the railing he spat in the intruder's face. The man slunk off, and Logan afterward remarked to a friend that he regretted not having a mouthful of tobacco juice to make use of in punishing West's audacity.

Bradstreet's Journal, in its commercial summary for the week, says: The general distribution of merchandise continues on the strictly conservative basis heretofore noted. Special telegrams tell of a somewhat better trade at Kansas City, Toledo, and at leading Southern distributing centers, but no gain has been recorded at the leading commercial centers. Mercantile collections are reported better in some localities and less satisfactory in others. The money markets West are all close, and loans are made only on exceptionally good paper. Most of the funds loaned by the Chicago banks have gone into the Northwest west region. The failures throughout the United States during the week numbered 196.

LATER NEWS ITEMS.

In the engagement between the Chinese and French at Kep, in Tonquin, the Celestials lost 1,000 men, including three Generals. The French troops behaved gallantly. Their loss was slight.

The St. James Gazette, an English Tory organ, announces editorially that a grave crisis is threatened in India which may result in the overthrow of British supremacy in that country. Through the nepotism, favoritism, and chicanery of English officials the natives have been driven almost into revolt. The condition of affairs is as bad as in the time of Warren Hastings, and Russia is taking advantage of the natives' discontent.

The drought continues in sections of East Tennessee, North Georgia, and North Alabama with disastrous results. The Tennessee River at Chattanooga is within three inches of the lowest point ever reached.

George Rowsey was assassinated in Parkville, Ky., presumably by his brother-in-law, James Shurren, whose son Rowsey slew last February. The families have been engaged in a vendetta for years, one having been lynched, another shot by officers, two killed in fights, and still others engaged in bloody affairs.

Bank, and the two former were also indicted for embezzling $1,200,000. In the case of the New Brunswick (N. J.) National Bank, the United States Grand Jury made a presentment, averring that more than the surplus of the concern had been swallowed up before the end of June by the cashier's frauds and possible countenance of the President, both of whom it will be remembered committed suicide.

On the 15th day of September the Japanese cities of Yokohama and Tokio were visited by a terrible typhoon. In the latter city 3,000 houses were wholly or partially destroyed. Twenty people were killed. The loss of life at sea was appalling, and no estimate could be made of the number. The typhoon was followed by another of great force on the 17th, but of brief duration.

WOMEN are more cheerful than men, and yet are getting the reputation among men of complaining. The wife stays in the house too much. The evil of "dressing to go to market" is in the way. Let it be considered bad taste to see a housewife "dressed up" while she is doing her marketing; then there will be more "time" to get the fresh air.—The Current.

QUALIFICATIONS OF VOTERS.

An Epitome of the Laws of the Several States Relating to the Subject.

Naturalization, Registration, and Residence Requisites—The Disfranchised Classes.

Under the electoral system practiced in this country the States have the exclusive power of declaring each of itself, which of the citizens shall vote; but in no case shall any person be excluded from voting on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude. The States, however, cannot grant the franchise indiscriminately, for the National Government has the exclusive authority to declare who shall be citizens, and it may exclude an education or property franchise or condition, providing it applies equally to all citizens.

Under the Constitution of the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State where they reside: (1) All persons born or naturalized in the United States; (2) All persons who, before the adoption of the Constitution, were citizens of the United States; (3) All persons who, before the adoption of the Constitution, were citizens of the United States; (4) All persons who, before the adoption of the Constitution, were citizens of the United States; (5) All persons who, before the adoption of the Constitution, were citizens of the United States; (6) All persons who, before the adoption of the Constitution, were citizens of the United States; (7) All persons who, before the adoption of the Constitution, were citizens of the United States; (8) All persons who, before the adoption of the Constitution, were citizens of the United States; (9) All persons who, before the adoption of the Constitution, were citizens of the United States; (10) All persons who, before the adoption of the Constitution, were citizens of the United States; (11) All persons who, before the adoption of the Constitution, were citizens of the United States; (12) All persons who, before the adoption of the Constitution, were citizens of the United States; (13) All persons who, before the adoption of the Constitution, were citizens of the United States; (14) All persons who, before the adoption of the Constitution, were citizens of the United States; (15) All persons who, before the adoption of the Constitution, were citizens of the United States; (16) All persons who, before the adoption of the Constitution, were citizens of the United States; (17) All persons who, before the adoption of the Constitution, were citizens of the United States; (18) All persons who, before the adoption of the Constitution, were citizens of the United States; (19) All persons who, before the adoption of the Constitution, were citizens of the United States; (20) All persons who, before the adoption of the Constitution, were citizens of the United States; (21) All persons who, before the adoption of the Constitution, were citizens of the United States; (22) All persons who, before the adoption of the Constitution, were citizens of the United States; (23) All persons who, before the adoption of the Constitution, were citizens of the United States; (24) All persons who, before the adoption of the Constitution, were citizens of the United States; (25) All persons who, before the adoption of the Constitution, were citizens of the United States;
