NOTICE.—The members of the Democratic Central Committee will meet at the Cleveland & Hendricks Club Room, in Rensselaer, on WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1884, at 1 o'clock, p. m. Let there be a full attendance. EZRA C. NOWELS, Chairman. JAMES W. DOUTHITT, Secretary.

Dudley predicted 30,000 republican majority in Ohio.

John A. Logan predicted a republican majority of 30,000 in Ohio.

Concentrated effort on the part of monied monopolists barely succeeded in defeating Hurd, in Ohio.

Both Dudley and John A. Logan declared West Virginia reliably republican. Ooh, Mahone, where are you?

Hon. T. J. Wood is making a gallant contest. The efforts of the "dirty sneaks" to belittle him, meets no corresponding response with the people.

"Democrats of real political sense, like Loughridge and Nowels, know that their party has a most awful black eye."—Rensselaer Republican.

"Democrats of real political sense, like Loughridge and Nowels," know full well that the above item was unauthorized by them, and that its author is a "damphead" devoid of sense of any kind.

The joint discussion between Col. Gray and Hon. W. H. Calkins, at La Fayette, didn't come off. Calkins was sick. By pressure of the Democratic committee, the Republican committee consented to have it take place on the 21st. But Calkins won't have any of it. He announces that he just won't get well in time for any more joint discussions. He has had three, and another would kill him.

Four thousand people listened to Col. Gray, at Goodland, Tuesday, being three times the number that attended the meeting of Calkins and Owens. Col. Gray made a very good impression.

At Goodland, Tuesday, Col. Gray denounced the statement that he ever had been connected with the Know Nothings and the Marriage Dowry Association as "a cowardly, infamous lie, and he who circulates it is a dirty sneak." That strikes our gentle neighbor right between the eyes.

Falsehoods will fly fast and thick from radical blusterers, from this until after the November election. Let Democrats pay no heed to the inventions of the enemy. All sorts of stories will be concocted and circulated with a view to create distrust and disaffection. Turn a deaf ear to them; press steadily on and all will be well.

A lockout at Oliver Bros. & Phillips' rolling mills, Pittsburgh, began on the morning of the 7th, and 3000 more men are added to the already large number out of employment in that city. The men positively refused to accept a 12 1/2 per cent. reduction, and the firm gave no orders to light the fires, so that instead of a strike it is a lockout.

A Colorado correspondent of The Springfield Republican (Ind.) writes; "there are independents out here not only among the Germans, who are almost to a man against Blaine, but among thinking business men, who question the ability and honesty of either Blaine or Logan, as compared with the tried executive reform governor of New York or sturdy and honest Tom Hendricks."

There are many indications, says the Springfield Republican (Ind.), that an elaborate conspiracy of scandal-makers is preparing to celebrate the close of the campaign with a shower of plausible and filthy stories, supported with affidavit and other pretense of evidence, as to Grover Cleveland's character. Now, the fact is, that Mr. Cleveland's injunction to his friends to "tell the truth," has been carried out so faithfully that there is nothing more to tell, and future efforts to blacken his character must be manufactured out of whole cloth. It is well to remember this.

It was no cause of reproach to Jas. G. Blaine that he owned a share in the Hocking Valley Mines property, but it was infinitely disgraceful to lie about it. It is, however, in perfect keeping with his character. He has yet to venture on an explanation uncoupled with a falsehood. His strong points are sweeping assertions and utter contempt for truth. He has attained that point where any one undertaking to defend him damages not only Blaine but himself. William Walter Phelps is one, Mr. Lee is another, but why extend the list.

A Republican Elector's Trouble.

A vacancy on the New York Blaine Electoral Ticket is probable. One of them who calls himself "one of the unfortunate 36 Republicans who have been designated to cast, if elected, the electoral of this (at) State for that eminent politician, James G. Blaine, writes to the N. Y. Times:

"If perchance we are elected will it be legal to cast my (his) ballot in the following manner: 'Electoral vote—District. In order to advance the work of the party of moral ideas,' the 'grand old Republican party,' in order to promote honesty, economy and political reform in the administration, this vote I cast to elevate to the chief place in the party and the Government, the unsuccessful stock broker and bond manipulator, that eminent trickster and tried and proved liar, James G. Blaine, magnetism and civil service reform forever."

And follows with: "If you can enlighten me in any way so that I can vote the republican ticket and still retain my self respect as an honest man you will greatly oblige me and other Republicans still groping in darkness."

We quote part of the Times' pointed answer to its befuddled correspondent:

"To those whom partisanship blinds to native dullness robs of the power to distinguish any of the grades of wrong-doing below arson and highway robbery it may seem that the act of voting for Blaine involves no question of self respect.—The Elector whose letter we print is evidently of another opinion, and while there is a very remote probability that he will ever be called upon to exercise the function of his office, we see no course open to him but to resign from the ticket and plainly give his reasons."

OHIO & WEST VIRGINIA.

In the face of the expenditure of $2,000,000 of Corruption Fund, the intimidation of voters and obstruction to a free ballot by the Negro Deputy United States Marshals, Importations, etc., the Presidential Year majority in Ohio has been reduced one-half and the Democracy have elected eleven of the twenty-one Congressmen!

WEST VIRGINIA rolls up an increased Democratic majority—it being 7,000 to 10,000, and the entire Congressional Delegation. Well done!

Now for November! Let Cleveland, Hendricks and Reform be the battle-cry.

The Bank of the Republican Corruption Fund this year has the following officers:

President—James Guano Blaine, of Maine.
Cashier—W. W. Dudley, of Indiana.
The depositors are Vanderbilt, Gould, Fields, the several great monopolies, the several collectors of assessments from government clerks, Elkins, Jones and others.

W. W. Dudley, Pension Commissioner frequently complains of lack of clerical force in his department, and yet he can assume the duty this campaign which devolved upon Dorsey in 1880—Distributor of "Soap"—and, assisted by 192 of his clerks, has been engaged in the work since before the election in Maine. Although the pay of Dudley and his 192 clerks goes on all the same, the business of his department must lag, and pension claimants must wait, and suffer may be, until the republican corruption fund has been exhausted.

On motion a committee of three was appointed by the chair on resolutions, viz James Yeoman, Norman Warner and John Lewis, who retired for the purpose. In their absence W. F. Singleton, of Shelby, member of the State central committee was called upon and delivered a very able and interesting address, after which the committee on resolutions submitted the following:

We your committee submit the following: The Prohibitionists of Jasper Co. in convention assembled do declare as follows: 1st That Christianity, morality and Political economy forbid the licensing of the Liquor traffic, which is the admitted cause of four fifths of the crime and misery of the land.
