

A Little Girl Burned to Death.

A correspondent in Barkley township furnishes the following particulars:

On the second inst., about 6 o'clock in the evening, at the residence of S. I. Quick, of Barkley township, a fatal accident occurred, by the burning to death of his ten year old daughter. While Mr. and Mrs. Quick were feeding the stock and milking the cows, the girl was left in the house. She took the broom and fanned the fire, in the cook stove; while thus engaged her clothes caught fire. There being no one present to help her, she ran for the barn, some sixty yards from the house, where her father was unharmed by the fire. Willie Quick, his son, being in the mow of the barn, at his time, seeing his sister coming, all in fire, said "fire", and his father looking up to where Willie was in the mow, seeing the light from the burning girl shining through the cracks of the barn thought the barn was on fire. Stepping to the door of the barn he saw his child leaning forward, as she ran for the barn, enveloped in flames. Her head was the only part of her body visible, owing to her leaning posture the flames shooting six feet high. Mr. Quick went to her rescue and with superhuman effort soon tore away the remainder of clothes that the fire had left, but she was very badly burned. Dr. Washburn, of Rensselaer, was brought and did all he could, but she died on the 3rd inst., at 10 o'clock in the morning.

A Jasper county Man's Valuable Invention.

Mr. A. H. Arnold, an ingenious young man of Barkley township, has lately taken out a patent on an invention which promises to bring him in a fine sum of money. It is a simple but ingenious contrivance to prevent telegraph and telephone wires from interlocking, and interrupting communications, during the prevalence of winds and heavy storms, a source of great annoyance and loss to telegraph and telephone companies. We understand that Mr. Arnold has already been offered $15,000 for his patent, and telegraph experts estimate its value, anywhere from the above sum way up into the hundreds of thousands.

General Carnahan and The New Orleans Exposition.

Mr. James B. Carnahan, Indiana's commissioner to the New Orleans Exposition, has returned to Indianapolis. Of the Exposition he told a News reporter: "In a fifteen minutes walk, he said, you see the whole world. You see people of every nationality and the products of every country in the world. The exhibits and the arrangement of the display are far ahead of the centennial. A visit to the government and state building is alone worth the trip to New Orleans to any man." "I would advise visitors, however, not to go until February, as the displays will then all be in position." General Carnahan says the Indiana exhibits will be second to that of no State. Several thousand square feet are covered with Indiana grains, grasses, potatoes, fruits, woods, building stones, and pre-historic relics.

VEAL LOAF.—Three pounds of lean, raw veal, and one-half pound of salt pork, chopped fine. If you have an accommodating butcher he will chop it free of charge, but it is best to select the meat yourself and see it weighed, for it should not contain any gristle or stringy pieces. It must be chopped very fine, then mix thoroughly with it six small crackers, rolled, two eggs, a piece of butter nearly the size of an egg, a teaspoon of pepper, one small tablespoon of salt, a little sage or any other herb you may prefer to use for flavor. Pack tightly in deep, square tin, cover with bits of butter, sprinkle cracker crumbs on the top and bake slowly for two hours. When cold slice it thinly. It is very nice for lunch or supper.
