WOOD! WOOD!! WOOD!!!

Miss Ella Tuley of LaPorte county is the guest of Miss Beth Richardson, Rensselaer.

Henry Sparling has been allowed about three years back pension, and will receive monthly allowance of $6.

Jno. Innes and his cousin Miss M. M. Faris, of White County, visited friends in Rensselaer the present week.

J. W. Duvall, the accomodating and enterprising livery man has added a handsome new sleigh to his livery "rig."

Our old-time friend, Jno. Shafer, of Idaville, White County, Ind., made us a very pleasant call last evening. John, as of yore, is solid in the Democratic faith.

Miss Mary Washburn, daughter of the doctor, who has been very ill with typhoid fever is in a fair way of recovery.

The mother and brother of Mrs. A. L. Willis, of Rensselaer, after a short visit here, returned to their home in Illinois last Friday.

Mrs. Jno. Zimmerman, of this place received a dispatch from Osborn, Ohio, Sunday evening last, announcing the death of her mother; Mrs. Anna Kline, after a brief illness.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Sears started Tuesday evening for Florida. We trust they may return to Rensselaer ere long full restored to health.

The large number in attendance at the funeral services of Mrs. Maeker at this place, last Saturday, was an evidence of the great esteem in which that lady was held, by those who knew her.

Jno. Lanigan, proprietor of the Saloon on VanRensselaer street south of Washington st. was on trial Tuesday before Justice Churcell, on the charge of selling liquor to the Wilber girl who was tried a few weeks since for intoxication. Deputy Prosecutor Douthit appeared for the State, and M. F. Chippete for the defence. Trial by jury. Jury out all night and failed to agree. The case, we understand, will be tried over again next Wednesday.

Goodland Herald: The advance agent of the Humpty Dumpty company borrowed 50 cents at this place to take him to Remington and at the latter town increased his prospects and borrowed five dollars. We are the fifty-cent fool. Who is the ignoramus at Remington?

Reward of Industry.

A poor friendless lad might have been seen wandering along the streets looking for employment. He presently halted in front of a butcher shop, and, walking boldly up to the proprietor, asked for a job. There was something in the young man's frank, honest countenance, which struck the proprietor favorably.

"Not afraid of hard work?" he asked.

"No," responded the lad with a trembling voice. "I have supported my mother and two sisters for five years by hard work."

He was put on trial at $5 a week mauling leather beef, and his sturdy frame and healthy constitution came in good play. One day an old lady came in to get some beef, and the proprietor told him to attend to the customer.

"A tenderloin steak, if you please," said she.

"Here's a cut that nobody but the first families get," responded the boy smilingly as he sliced off four pounds of tough round and cast it with a heavy hand on the scales, jamming it down with a quick, dexterous movement, until the indicator marked six even pounds. Then he snatched it off before the delicate machinery, used to weigh beef, had time to recoil.

"Six pounds and a half, madam," he said, looking her square in the face with his clear blue eyes.

The proprietor of the stall called him in that night, and remarking that he had watched his course carefully, added that as a reward for his quick, comprehensive grasp of the business he would raise his salary to $25 per week. This shows the advantage of doing everything well, and when the boy's mother back in New Jersey hears of his success there will be joy at that household. Young men starting out in life should learn to adapt themselves to their surroundings and never let an opportunity pass.—Salt Lake Tribune.

Very Remarkable Recovery.

Mr. Geo. V. Willing, of Manchester, Mich., writes: 'My wife has been almost five years, so helpless that she could not turn over in the bed alone. She used two bottles of Electric Bitters, and is so much improved, that she is able now to do her own work.'

Electric Bitters will do all that is claimed for them. Hundreds of testimonials attest their great curative powers. Only fifty cents a bottle at F. B. Meyer's.

The Value of Cashiers.

An Ohio merchant who kept three clerks, each one of whom made his own change and had free access to the money-drawers, was the other day asked by a commercial traveler why he did not keep a cashier to receive all money.

"Cost too much," was the reply.

"But are your clerks honest?"

"Perfectly honest."

"Have you any objection to my trying them?"

"Certainly not; go ahead in any way you wish."

The traveler went away, but in about three hours he returned and said in a loud voice that so all might hear:

"When I was here this forenoon I paid you a bogus quarter by mistake. In case you find it in counting up tonight, lay it aside and I'll redeem it."

Then the traveler, accompanied by the merchant, took position where the back door and the alley could be kept in view, and in less than ten minutes out came the head clerk and emptied a handful of silver on the head of a barrel and pawed it over. The bogus quarter was not there. He returned to the store and out came the second clerk and went through the same programme. He was followed by the third, and after he disappeared the merchant calmly observed:

"I've been waiting thirteen years for trade to pick up, and I rather think I'll try the cashier system."
