How To Build A House.

We have just received from the publishers a book with the above named title. It is a book no one who anticipates building a house should be without. It contains plans for twenty-five houses, of all sizes, from two rooms up; also finely executed engravings of the buildings of which plans are given. Its value can not be over-estimated. Any one of the plans is alone worth very much more than the price asked for the book. In addition it has valuable information on subjects relative to building and building contracts, gives the quality of material for building, and many suggestions to those who intend to build that may be worth hundreds of dollars. We urge all who think of building to send for a copy of it. It will be mailed on receipt of 25 cents, by G. W.
OGILVIE & CO., 233 Lake Street, Chicago, Illinois.
