

A Walking Skeleton.

Mr. E. Springer, of Mechanicsburg, Pa., writes: 'I was afflicted with lung and abscess on lungs, and reduced to a walking skeleton. Got a free trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which did so much good that I bought a dollar bottle. After using three bottles, found myself once more a man, completely restored to health with hearty appetite, and a gain in flesh of 45 lbs.' Call at F. B. Meyer's Drug Store and get a free trial bottle of this certain cure for all Lung Diseases. Large bottles, $1.00. 32-3

The Crown Point Register of week before last says: "Bro. Zimmerman, of the Valparaiso Messenger, was in Crown Point on Monday making inquiries, and probably arrangements for the publication of a red hot democratic paper in the English language. He says the mechanical work of the paper will be under the control of a young man from Valparaiso.—The editorial work will probably be done by Thos. J. Wood and Johannes Kopelke, Esq. They are looked up to as the most influential democrats in the 10th congressional district, and have the official patronage of the district at their disposal. Bro. Lehman, of the Crown Point Free Press looks upon the scheme as one not likely to succeed." But what has the Register to say as to the probability of its success?

A Great Discovery.

Mr. William Thomas, of Newton, Ia., says: 'My wife has been seriously affected with cough for twenty-five years, and this spring more severely than ever before. She had used many remedies without relief, and being urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery, did so with most gratifying results. The first bottle relieved her very much, and the second bottle has absolutely cured her. She has not had so good health for thirty years.' Trial Bottles Free at F. B. Meyer's Drug Store. Large size $1.00. 35-6

A Telling Temperance Lecture.

Two colored barbers, one an old man and the other a young one. The young one took off his apron and started out of the door.

"Yo's gwan to get a drink, Jim?" asked the older.

"Dat's what I's gwan to do."

"Go and git yo' drink. I yoost to do de same ting when I wuz young. When I wuz fust married dah wuz a gin mi; next to de shop wha' I wuz k-ed, and I spent in it flity and sebeynty cents a day outen de dollah 'a half I eahned. Wall, one mawnin' I went into de butchah snap, and who shoold cum in but de man wat kep' de likker shop."

"Gib me ten or twelve pounds po'terhouse steak," he said.

"He got it and went out. I sneaked up to de butchah and looked to see what money I had lef'."

"What do you want?" said de butchah.

"Gib me ten cents wuf ob libber," wuz my remark.

"It wuz all I cood pay fur. Now you go and git yo' drink. Yo'll eat libber, but de msa wat sells yo' de stuff will hab his po'terhouse steak. De man behin' de bar eats po'terhouse steak—de man in front eats libber. I ain't touched de stuff fo' thirty yeabs, and I am eatin' po'terhouse meys-if."—Tarboro [N. C.] Register.

The Hog Plan.

Every newspaper publisher is cursed with an occasional subscriber whose soul seems to have been made of the fag end of material and a shrimp pattern at that. We are always thankful when such lift themselves from our list. The sooner the better. They generally refuse to take the paper out of the postoffice after taking it for two or three years with out paying a cent for it—a plain steal with insult added, or else they move away without saying a word or paying a nickel. Some others all at once discover that they never ordered the paper, never wanted it, or received it irregularly—no more than half the time—won't pay for it. In either case it is a cowardly snap, such as h nest men would not be guilty of. The proper way is to pay for the paper first and stop the paper afterwards. If you are a gentleman, and don't owe a cent, walk into the office, look the gentleman in charge full in the eye, and tell him you don't wish it or can't afford to keep it longer. If you are on the hog plan, chuck it back in the postoffice and mark it 'refused.'—Kokomo Dispatch.
