FRIDAY NOVEMBER 13, 1885.

NOTICE OF CHURCH DEDICATION.
—The new M. E. Church in Barkley township, on the Rensselaer Circuit, seven miles east of Rensselaer, on the Francesville road will be dedicated Sabbath, November 15th, 1885. Rev. J. H. Claypool will preach at 10 a. m., and Rev. J. T. Abbett in the afternoon.

Dr. M. B. Alter and family have returned from Kansas.

Thursday, November 26th, has been designated by the President as a day for Thanksgiving.

John B. Ruger of Lafayette, has been appointed postmaster for that city. A good appointment.

The Republicans in Ohio are trying as hard to steal the election in Hamilton county, that State, as Jim Blaine did to steal that in New York State a year ago.

A special meeting of the Town Board, last Monday evening, the resignation of John Q. Alter, as Marshal, was accepted, and Henry Wood appointed to the vacancy.

The drawing of Mrs. Alice Dunlap's Silk Quilt will take place on Wednesday of next week. It will be conducted by three disinterested parties, and in a manner which will not admit of a suspicion of unfairness.

The drawing will be held in the Court House.

The Chicago Grocery, R. F. Priest, proprietor, is now in full blast, in the Williams-Stockton block. Extensive stock, new, fresh, and at prices that defy competition. Everybody respectfully invited to call and see for themselves.

Since the President's return from New York it is very evident "suspensions" have not been "suspended" to a very great extent notwithstanding the list published in the Chicago Times, and approvingly referred to by our neighbor.

Clark Price, formerly of this county, has been elected to the Republican wing of the Kansas Legislature. Clark is a clever young gentleman, of fine talents, and will make his mark in the broad national views and discards the sectional demagogues of the leaders of his party.

The South Bend Tribune states that ex-Congressman Ashley, the mover of the impeachment resolutions against President Andrew Johnson, backs up Chauncey M. Depew's statement in regard to the Johnson-Grant controversy. Ex-Congressman Ashley was one of the conspirators to overthrow President Johnson's reconstruction policy, and would swear to a lie quicker than the editor of the Tribune could say "Jack Robinson."

A Sad Accident.

On Monday morning last MIL LARD B., infant son of Capt. and Mrs. F. W. Babcock, while playing about the room secured a bottle of carbolic acid, which was being used as a disinfectant, and supposed to be beyond the reach of a child, and drank a portion of the contents. Dr. Hartsell was called instantly, and Dr. Washburn later, but the solution had done its work and they could afford no relief. The child lingered in great agony until 8 p. m., same day, when death came to its relief. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, from the Catholic church, Rev. Father Zumbuel officiating. The public sincerely sympathize with the afflicted family.

Wartner to Suffee Death.

The trial of Wartner for the murder of John Dreger commenced on Tuesday of last week, and closed with the sentence of death pronounced by Judge Ward, Tuesday night of this week. Prosecutor Walker and Ralph W. Marshall, Esq., represented the State, and F. W. Babcock, Esq., and Hon. P. S. Dwiggin, appear for the defense. The following named gentlemen compose the jury: W. S. Coen, of Marion township; Enoch S. Clark, Milroy; John Coen, Marion; Chas. E. Loshbaugh, Milroy; James W. Cowden, Barkley; Perry Marlatt, Barkley; James H. Green, Carpenter; Geo. Kissinger, Jordan; Jos. G. Hunt, Gillam; Robert F. Irwin, Carpenter; George Blaze, Gillam; Robert Michals, Jordan.

Witnesses for the State were: S. P. Thompson, Alexander Tyler, J. W. Haan, Daniel E. Fairchild, P. F. Fieldman, Witsey Punter, Albert Brooks, Charles Dolson, Benj. Dolson, O. P. Robinson, Jas. W. Douthett, John Kosky, Jno. W. Gant, C. O. Spencer.

The case, briefly stated, is as follows: Wartner came to this country, from Holland, in the spring of 1883; lived in Pullman Ill. one year; came to Keener township, this county, in the spring of 1884; made a precarious living by fishing and disposing of fish, and by doing odd jobs for neighbors; his victim, John Dreger, was his nearest neighbor and best friend, having assisted and accommodated him on numerous occasions; Wartner pretended that money was due him in Holland, and was expecting a check for the amount, $400, with which he would purchase Dreger's personal property, consisting of cows, etc. On the 8th October, 1884, Wartner secured Dreger to go with him to the river, a few miles distant, to bring home some fish, he claimed to have there; in the wagon he deposited the implements with which he designed to commit the crime. Dreger was that day murdered, his body weighted and sunk in the river. On returning home, Wartner took possession of the property he coveted, claiming to have purchased with his check from Holland, and that his victim had gone to get it cashed. About the last day of October, 1884, the body of a man was discovered floating in the river and recognized as that of Dreger. The above are the points made by the witnesses, and in the confession made to Mr. Douthett. Last January, on plea of guilty, he was sentenced by Judge Ward to suffer death, but the Supreme Court remanded it back for jury trial, and the jury, last Sunday affirmed the same penalty.

The defense was insanity but was not sustained. On Monday morning the proceedings were interrupted by the occurrence of a sad accident in the family of Mr. Babcock, one of the attorneys for the defense. On Tuesday evening Messrs. Babcock and Dwiggin moved for a new trial and argued it with force and ability; Mr. Frasier, representing the State, resisted the motion. After hearing argument the Court refused the motion and proceeded to pass sentence. The Judge, through an interpreter, announced to the condemned the verdict of the jury, and asked if he had anything to say why the judgment should not be pronounced? He responded: "Only that I should like to live." A short pause occurred at this point, and the prisoner faintly, falling heavily to the floor. Considerable confusion followed. After restoratives were administered by Drs. Washburn and Hartsell, he was placed on a table and when consciousness was restored, lying there the judgment was announced.

February 26th, 1886, is the date fixed for his execution.

Than' Reeve has purchased the property of F. W. Cole on South VanRensselaer street.

The Excursion Train, next Wednesday, will run on regular schedule time and arrive in the city at noon.

The last Excursion of the season will go to Chicago on next Wednesday, November 18th. Fare for round trip, $1 50. Train leaves Rensselaer at 7:30 a. m., and on return leaves Chicago at 11 p. m. Trains stop at Marlboro and Pleasant Ridge. Fare from these places $1 50.

E. E. Quivey, who has practiced dentistry in this city for the past six years, moved, this week, to Rensselaer where he opens a dental office. Ed is a young man and a good dentist withal, and although he has done a good business in this city he tells us he has prospects for something better in his new location. We can cheerfully recommend him to the people of Rensselaer and vicinity, who have aching molars and to the general public.—North Manchester Journal.

Dr. Q. is located in rooms over the Hardware store of N. Warner & Sons.

November 9th, 1885.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE for December is received, surpassing in beauty even what we had expected. It contains two costly steel engravings; a mammoth colored steel fashion-plate; a superb colored pattern, such as would sell at retail for fifty cents; and more than half a hundred wood-cuts of fashions, embroidery, etc. Only the immense circulation of "Peterson" can explain how this can be afforded. The literary contents are even better than usual. Mrs. Ann S. Stephens finishes her powerful novel, that has awakened so much interest during the year. Professor Boutelle contributes a story so intensely exciting, that it might have been written by the late Hugh Conway himself. Besides these, there are numerous other first-class tales and other articles, some of them charmingly illustrated. This number ends the volume. Great improvements for 1886 are promised, though "Peterson" seems to us already as nearly perfect as a lady's book can be. Every woman ought to take it. It is exceedingly cheap: only Two Dollars a year.—Great deductions are made, moreover, to clubs, with costly premiums for getting up clubs; among others, an extra copy to a person getting up a club of four and sending $6 50. Now is the time to get up clubs. Specimens are sent gratis, if written for in good faith. Address CHARLES J. PETERSON, 306 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.
