

EXCITEMENT UNABATED.

Proof that That Physician's Terrible Confession Is True.
[Cleveland (O.) Herald.]

Yesterday and the day before we copied into our columns, from the Rochester (N. Y.) Democrat and Chronicle, a remarkable statement, made by J. B. Henion, M.D., a gentleman who is well known in this city. In that article Dr. Henion recounted a wonderful experience which befell him, and the next day we published from the same paper a second article, giving an account of the excitement in Rochester, and elsewhere, caused by Dr. Henion's statement. It is doubtful if any two articles were ever published which caused greater commotion both among professionals and laymen.

Since the publication of these two articles, having been besieged with letters of inquiry, we sent a communication to Dr. Henion and also to H. H. Warner & Co., asking if any additional proof could be given, and here it is:

GENTLEMEN: I owe my life and present health wholly to the power of Warner's Safe Cure, which snatched me from the very brink of the grave. It is not surprising that people should question the statement I made (which is true in every respect), for my recovery was as great a marvel to myself as to my physicians and friends. * * *

J. B. HENION, M. D.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 21.

Sirs: The best proof we can give you that the statements made by Dr. Henion are entirely true, and would not have been published unless strictly so, is the following testimonial from the best citizens of Rochester, and a card published by Rev. Dr. Foote.

H. H. WARNER & CO.

To whom it may concern:

We are personally or by reputation acquainted with Dr. Henion, and we believe he would publish no statement not literally true. We are also personally or by reputation well acquainted with H. H. Warner & Co., proprietors of Warner's Safe Cure (by which Dr. Henion says he was cured), whose commercial and personal standing in this community are of the highest order, and we believe that they would not publish any statements which were not literally and strictly true in every particular.

To the Editor of the Living Church, Chicago, Ill.:

There was published in the Rochester (N. Y.) Democrat and Chronicle of the 31st of December, a statement made by J. B. Henion, M. D., narrating how he had been cured of Bright's disease of the kidneys, almost in its last stages, by the use of Warner's Safe Cure. I was referred to in that statement, as having recommended and urged Dr. Henion to try the remedy, which he did, and was cured. The statement of Dr. Henion is true, so far as it concerns myself, and I believe it to be true in all other respects. He was a parishioner of mine and I visited him in his sickness. I urged him to take the medicine, and would do the same again to any one who was troubled with a disease of the kidneys and liver.

ISAAC FOOTE, D. D.,
(Late) Rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Rochester, N. Y.

It seems impossible to doubt further in the face of such conclusive proof.

The Art of Sitting Down.

Not one woman out of a thousand is able to sit down in a chair gracefully and elegantly. A few, a very few, sit down, and their opposite neighbors cannot determine whether their shoes are of English, French, or American manufacture, but these are quite the exception, and in a very small majority. In England all young girls are as regularly taught to sit down properly, just as they are taught how to play the piano and sew, and that is by practice. Consequently female shoe leather is by no means so apparent as it is in this country. At dances, more particularly, this is noticeable, as movements there are more hurried, and the place, music, and conversation hinder attention to minor details, and the display of ankle is somewhat alarming, and often by no means captivating. Very few women have really pretty feet, and the best made and best fitting chaussure will fail to hide defects in the pedal extremities. Girls do not think of this when they "flop" down into a chair, as many of them do, and should practice the art of sitting down before a cheval glass before they perform in public. At a dance recently given in this city a man present took the trouble during the intermission to walk round the room and make a count of the various degrees of open work hose visible. Out of about thirty couples only five girls knew how to sit down, the rest showing more or less ignorance or indifference in or to the art. That men do not like to see girls sitting down like this is certain, as the remarks that are constantly made testify, and surely they need only be once told of it to rectify what detracts seriously from the appearance of many a sweet, pretty, and simple girl.—New York Hour.

Only Half Alive.

There are hosts of men and women who, to coin a phrase, are only half alive. That is to say, they have seldom, if ever, any appetite, are nervous, weak, fidgety and troubled by numberless small pains and aches. In the presence of vigorous, exuberant vitality they seem mere pygmies. Such persons are naturally fond of frequently dosing themselves, swallowing in the course of the year enough drugs to stock an apothecary's shop of average dimensions. This, of course, defeats itself in furthering the end in view, viz., the recovery of health and vigor. When they to see it from an unfailing source of vitality, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, how different would be their case. Then vigor would return to their debilitated frames, the glow of health to their wan cheeks, their trembling, uncertain gait would grow firm and elastic, appetite, that grandest of all sauces, would give a relish for the daily food, were it never so coarse, and refreshing sleep would crown the tasks of the day.

For Hotel Men.

A case of interest to hotel men and commercial travelers was recently decided by St. Louis judge. It was as follows: "Black, a commercial traveler, put up at the Everett House. He carried with him samples usually carried by drummers. When he fell behind in his board bill the proprietor took possession of the goods under a hotel keeper's lien. Black brought action to replevy, claiming that he was not the owner of them. The court decides that in absence of notice to the effect that the goods were not the plaintiff's, the fact that he (Black) had the rightful possession thereof when he came to the hotel, and that the fact of such possession placed the ownership ostensibly in the plaintiff, upon which he could obtain credit to their apparent value, must give the hotel keeper lien from which to satisfy any indebtedness that may arise."

Terrible Fire

arouses the apprehensions of a whole city. And yet the wild havoc of disease startles no one. Sad to relate, women suffer from year to year with chronic diseases and weaknesses peculiar to their sex, knowing that they are growing worse with every day, and still take no measures for their own relief. Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" is the result of life-long and learned study of female complaints. It is guaranteed to cure.

The Great German Physician.

The remarkable phase in the practice of Dr. Peter W. Schmidt (frequently called Dr. Pete) is, he never asked one to describe their disease but tells each one their trouble without asking a question. His success is phenomenal. His practice enormous. He is sought after by hundreds wherever he goes, because he cures when every other physician and remedy have failed. He has allowed his great medicines, Golden Seal Bitters and Lung Food for Consumption, to be offered to the suffering, and we assert without fear of successful contradiction that there is no disease they will not cure. Thousands of bottles have been sold. Thousands of broken-down and discouraged invalids saved. Send to Golden Seal Bitters Company, Holliston City, Mich., for Factor for the Million! Free.

Remarkable Escape.

John Kuhn, of Lafayette, Ind., had a very narrow escape from death. This is his own story: "One year ago I was in the last stages of Consumption. Our best physicians gave my case up. I finally got so low that our doctor said I could not live twenty-four hours. My friends then purchased a bottle of Dr. Wm. Hall's BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS, which benefited me. I continued until I took nine bottles. I am now in perfect health, having used no other medicine."
