DICKENS---OPERA HOUSE.

RENSSELAER, MARCH 29, 1886.

Dickens!
The Dickens!
Go to the Dickens!
The Dickens! at the Opera House.

In the Washington general and personal of the Indianapolis News it is stated: "Hon. Thos. J. Wood, of Crown Point, has written a letter to a friend here, in which he states that he will be a candidate for congressional honors at the approximating nominating convention."

Senator Beck the other day proceeded to wipe the floor with Edmunds, on the dispute between President and the Senate, when the Vermonter tried to plead the sanctity of the Executive session as a protection against the terrific onslaughts of the Kentuckian. Mr. B. disclaimed being out of order, and gave notice that in Executive session he would move to transfer the papers called for to the open session. These papers will show that the republican appointee had been passed over without confirmation, and why. It raised a howl.

See Madam Jarley's Wax Figgers when you go the Dickens!

At the township Democratic convention, held in the Court House, last Saturday, the following excellent nominations were made:

For Township Trustee—Jasper Kenton.

For Assessor—Thomas Crockett.

Constables—Benjamin Fisher, Bruce White and Henry Luers.

The Democracy of Union township met yesterday and placed in nomination the following splendid ticket:

For Trustee—James Wiseman.

For Assessor—Wm. Cooper.

Justice of the Peace—Bruce Moffat.

Constables—Austin Lakin and William Pierson.

These gentlemen are well and favorably known, and are entitled to, and should receive the hearty endorsement of the voters of Union township.

Supper, Oranges, Candies, Cakes, Sweet Meats of all kinds, to be had when you go to the Dickens!

Monticello, last week suffered a severe loss in the death of D. D. Dale, Esq., a gentleman of great enterprise, and the energy to push to a successful result whatever he undertook to accomplish. Generous and open-handed, he kept himself poor by his readiness to help others. Politically, he was a Democrat, and as an organizer had no equal in the district. He served two terms as Clerk of the White Circuit Court, and one term as Secretary of the State Senate. We were long and intimately acquainted with him, and his sudden demis, we deeply deplore.

The Dickens! on the 29th of March.

Go to the Dickens! on the night of the 29th of March. Be sure to help the Dickens along.

NEWTON ITEMS.

The weather continues to be of the finest.

The song of the blue-bird and the robin is heard throughout the land.

The wild goose crop is ripe, and judging from the sound of guns, hunters are reaping a rich harvest.

The western fever seems to continue to rage with unabating violence, and is about to carry away Misses Anna and Mattie Henkle, who are contemplating emigration to Kansas.

The Township Entertainment which took place last Saturday night was very good. The essays and recitations by the graduates were excellent. Music was furnished by John and Lucy Healey, of Rensselaer.

MOTHER'S BOY.

Go to the Dickens! for fun, for something good to eat, for a rich entertainment.

Editor Sentinel: The Republican of the 4th inst., contained an article from the pen of "Your Brother," in a very weak way denying that the "bogus tickets" of 1884 was the work of Republicans and that in the absence of any explanatory denial it must have been a "Democratic trick." "Your Brother" knows the form of heading of these tickets was prepared especially for the printing of the Republican tickets, and that similarity of certain "ear-marks" in the Simon Pure and the "bogus" gives the whole thing away, hence he does not very strenuously press his insinuations. "Your Brother" knows, too, that these tickets were distributed among Republicans in the townships, between midnight and daylight on the morning of the election, by Republicans who would not bow to the dictates of the "boss" and his henchmen.

"Your Brother" further says:

"If 'You g Democrat' will come in at the open door, we will permit him to be the progressive citizen of the nation rather than the slave of confederates; a free man rather than an apologist for trickery.

In the wards of Rensselaer and the people's colleges in Marion township, the doors will be open at 7 p. m., March 29, 1886.—Come, etc. In answer to his invitation we will say that we are not a resident of Marion township and never have been. Our first vote was cast in Union township, in '82, and we have never voted at any other precinct.

"Your Brother" might be well employed in casting an eye over the confederate gang with which he is allied. Ackerman, Grant's attorney general; Key, Hayes' postmaster general, both confederate brigadiers; Moseby, the guerrilla who fought under a black flag, republica consul to Hong Kong; Orr, Holden, Longstreet, Northrup, Henderson, Settle, Lize Pinkston, Agnes Jenkins, Billy Malone, and thousands of other confederates, all held positions of trust and profit under republican administrations, as well as the distribution of government patronage in their respective states. What a lovely sight to witness—these loyal (?) men who, on one side of the line denounced the flag as a "flaunting lie," the Union "in league with hell," the Constitution "a covenant with death," and those on the other side who took them at their word and attempted to withdraw, now clasp hands in the desire for plunder. Loyalty, eh? It makes us smile every time we hear any of these fellows boast of their loyalty.

YOUNG DEMOCRAT.

Union Township, March 7, 1886.

Editor Sentinel: The people of Union are anxiously awaiting the coming of the fair young maiden, Spring, so that they may be relieved of the necessity of furnishing provender for their stock.

There is considerable talk of starting a ditching plow in this township this spring. Go in, gentlemen; no better field could be found for such an enterprise.

The migratory ducks and geese have again made their appearance on the marshes, and the reports of many guns, in early morn and late evening serve to remind us of the fascinations of the life of a hunter.

Fair Oaks is beginning to assume a more business-like appearance as spring approaches, as considerable improvements are to be made when spring has come to stay.

Union boasts that she has two of the largest watermelons ever seen in the county and challenges competition—the two weigh 330 pounds. Daniel Watermelon and wife.

Politics, township and county, are themes of discussion at present at almost any gathering of the people, but the township questions will not be settled until April 5th. The contest for Trustee will not be as interesting as the contest for Assessor. The candidates for Assessor are Moses Cox and William Meyer, which makes a very interesting race, both being good young men. The Democrats think they may succeed in electing the entire ticket.

All the candidates announced for county offices on the Republican side of the house are earnestly at work, and are leaving no stone unturned to secure their point. All insinuations of incompetency of the incumbent of the Recorder's office who two years ago said one term was all they wanted. To a disinterested person it looks as though there will be fun in the Republican camp over the nominations for Auditor and Treasurer. The race between Lamborn and Washburn for the nomination will be like that of the "dog and the wolf," with the "dog a little ahead." Coen, for Auditor, has many friends who do not feel friendly to the man whose friends are claiming that he was brought out by a Democrat so as to secure a deputyship for four years for said Democrat. They think that the charge that Coen is in sympathy with the Democrats, because he worked for a Democrat, is unfair. As his opponent employed a Democrat to assist him, and may do so again, one should offset the other. Coen's friends claim that for capability, honesty and sobriety he cannot be excelled by any one.

If the new RR. is built from Fair Oaks to Wanatah it will give us a station near the Harrington school house. Both lines which have been surveyed run across 80 acres of land owned by Leroy Sayers—one line crossing at the north end and the other at the south end of the eighty.

The question of a new church is still a subject of conversation, the problem assuming as yet no tangible shape, but young and old are working hard to raise the funds, and feel confident of success.

There are several who have business in adjoining counties while the grand jury is in session.

Wonder why "Your Brother" of the Republican don't answer the "Young Democrat" of the Sentinel? Come, answer the article, and get down to facts.

You may expect to hear from me again in the future.

GRAPE ISLAND.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE for April opens with a very beautiful steel-engraving, viz: "The Little Pilgrim," after a picture by the celebrated German artist, Meyer Von Bremen. Then comes a double-size colored fashion-plate, which all the ladies will rave over; two colored patterns; and some fifty wood-cuts of fashion, embroideries, etc. The stories, all original, are even better than usual. "On The Roxbury Sands" is one of great power. "Sister Dorothy," by Edgar Fawcett, is a society novelet of very high merit. "The Burglar-Alarm," by Frank Lee Benedict, is intensely funny. "The Millionaire's Daughter," by Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, grows in interest and force with every number. Altogether, we do not see how any lady can do without "Peterson."—The terms are but Two Dollars a year; and now is a good time to subscribe. Address CHARLES J. PETERSON, 306 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

YOUNG DEMOCRAT.
