

ARE HAIR PINS INJURIOUS?

The largest percentage of neuralgic headache seems to be among ladies, and most certainly they have a cause. Some have attributed it to the hair being tightly drawn over the head and held in place by hair pins; in this way the nerves of the scalp are irritated and neuralgia caused. Relief is sometimes experienced by removing the hair pins, but it is only temporary.

J. P. Mallette, of the Mallette & Raymond Manufacturing Company, No. 329 South Canal street, Chicago, tells as follows how his wife was completely cured of neuralgia:

"Yes; she was sick off and on for a long time, but a half bottle of Athlophoros cured her so that she has not suffered any since. When it was first recommended to her she would not get it, as she was always opposed to taking any kind of patent medicine. But as the treatment she was under gave her no relief, I insisted on her trying Athlophoros. After using half a bottle the neuralgia was gone, and has not returned since. I told a gentleman at the Walnut House, Greencastle, Ind., where I was stopping, to get a bottle, and if it did not cure the intense suffering that he was enduring he could have the cost of the medicine added to my hotel bill."

"Well, did it cure him?"

"Yes; it cured him at once. I have recommended it to at least fifty different persons, and in every case that I know about it has always given the same good results."

James D. Gibbin, room 33, No. 125 Dearborn street, Chicago, Ill., is enthusiastic in his praise of the medicine that has cured him of his rheumatism after he had tried in vain many different remedies as well as physicians.

"It was inflammatory rheumatism that had a firm hold on me," he says. "Many times it laid me aside from my business, confining me to the house and many times to my bed. Medicine did me no good. It looked as if I was doomed to suffer on without any relief."

"How did you come to use Athlophoros, Mr. Gibbin?"

"It was in this way. My occupation being that of a traveling man, I had the opportunity of coming in contact with many rheumatic sufferers, and consequently was recommended to use all the leading remedies on the market, many of which I used with no benefit whatever. During my trips to Beaver Dam, Wis., I became acquainted with a lady who was a confirmed invalid from rheumatism. She could not walk at the time I first met her, but was rolled around in an invalid chair. Whenever I went there we always compared notes on the rheumatic question. One day last winter I was astonished to find her walking around and well from the rheumatism. Upon inquiry as to how she got well she said Athlophoros had done the work. Knowing what a wonderful cure this was, as her case was a very severe one, I at once commenced using the medicine myself. The relief and cure was very quick."

"How much did you take in all?"

"Four bottles."

"Have you had any return of the complaint?"

"Not at all."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it, express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed, ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall street, New York.

A Religious Affair.

"There was a very sad case in police court this morning," said a lawyer to his wife. "A girl was arrested for stealing a fine lace veil. The woman who owned the veil came to court, and, with heartlessness, persisted in prosecuting the poor girl. The judge, however, would not allow himself to be influenced, so he released the girl."

"She did not prove that she was innocent, did she?"

"Oh, no."

"Then why did the judge release her?"

"Well, he said that he had no right to interfere with religious matters."

"Religious matters?"

"Yes; he said that the laws of the land grant to every woman the right to take the veil."

The woman did not reply for several minutes. Then she said: "I know a woman who married a fool. I'm the woman."—Arkansas Traveler.

For thirty years Dr. C. Fawcett has been physician of the Union Protestant Infirmary, Baltimore, Md., and his published opinion is that he has used Red Star Cough Cure most effectively in curing obstinate coughs and in treating consumption. Price, 25 cents.

Water forms of man twenty-five per cent. of the bones, seventy-five per cent. of the muscles, eighty per cent. of the blood, and eighty-five per cent. of the gray substance of the brain. Thus the highest functional organ comes near to being merely organized water. Much is being written of late of the advisability of drinking considerable water, to afford new supplies and to keep things moving—that is, the secretions active.—Dr. Foote's Health Monthly.

would be poor without health. The dying millionaire consumptive would exchange all he is worth for a new lease of life. He could have had it for a song had he used Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" before the disease had reached its last stages. This wonderful preparation is a positive cure for consumption if taken in time. For all diseases of the throat and lungs it is unequalled. All druggists.

The Ice-Bag in Cholera.

Dr. Chapman, an English physician who has practiced for a number of years in Paris, but was formerly in India, where he had cholera to treat, has just published a book entitled "Cholera Curable." He is the man who some time ago recommended the use of ice-bags for sickness, and has more recently tried the same method with cholera. He used it in ten cases, with a result of ten cures. The ice-bag is a triple rubber bag, about twenty or twenty-four inches in length, and about four inches wide. Each part is filled with fine pieces of ice, and it is applied to the back along the spinal column. Its application should be constant, so the ice must be changed from time to time. The vomiting was stopped by its use almost at once, while there was a great diminution in the cramp. The patients warmed up, the pulse came back, and all the symptoms gradually disappeared.

When Not in Positive Agony.

The rheumatic are seldom free from a certain soreness or stiffness in the joints or muscles, which serves as a constant reminder that the virus only waits an unfavorable change of weather, or the aid of a cold, to emphasize its presence with excruciating twinges. To prevent the recurrence and mitigate the pain, there is no finer or safer source of relief than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine every way preferable to the poisons, repeated infinitesimal doses of which are taken to the prejudice of health and the jeopardy of life, and without a permanently remedial effect. Sleep, banished by rheumatic and neuralgic pain at night, is restored by this beneficent soothe of the nervous system, and the slumber which it superinduces is far more refreshing and beneficial than the stupor into which the brain is thrown by a narcotic. Appetite and digestion, as well as sleep, are improved by it, and it is an admirable regulator and tonic for the bowels and kidneys. Use it for rheumatism before retreating.

An Iowa Item.

An Estelline man went down to visit a friend in Iowa recently, who was one of the leaders in the prohibition movement. They were walking along the street from the train when he said to his friend:

"Why, I had almost forgotten that Iowa was a prohibition State."

"What made you think of it now?" asked the other.

"I noticed the procession of men coming out of that drug-store with jugs."

"That reminds me, just wait a moment, please, and I'll step in and get mine—I guess they've got it filled by this time."—Estelline (Dak.) Bell.

The Great German Physician.

The remarkable phase in the practice of Dr. Peter W. Schmidt (frequently called Dr. Pete) is, he never asked one to describe their disease but tells each one their trouble without asking a question. His success is phenomenal. His practice enormous. He is sought after by hundreds wherever he goes, because he cures when every other physician and remedy have failed. He has allowed his great medicines, Golden Seal Bitters and Lung Food for Consumption, to be offered to the suffering, and we assert without fear of successful contradiction that there is no disease they will not cure. Thousands of bottles have been sold. Thousands of broken-down and discouraged invalids saved. Send to Golden Seal Bitters Company, Holland City, Mich., for Facts for the Million! Free.

The Doctor's Endorsement.

Dr. W. D. Wright, Cincinnati, Ohio, sends the following professional endorsement: "I have prescribed DR. WM. HALL'S BALSM FOR THE LUNGS in a great number of cases, and always with success. One case in particular was given up by several physicians who had been called in for consultation with myself. The patient had all the symptoms of confirmed consumption—cold night sweats, hectic fever, harassing coughs, etc. He commenced immediately to get better, and was soon restored to his usual health. I also found DR. WM. HALL'S BALSM FOR THE LUNGS the most valuable expectorant for breaking up distressing coughs and colds."
