By order of Committee.
H. A. BARKLEY,
Chairman.
JAS. W. McEWEN, Sec'y.

President Cleveland and Miss Frank Folsom, were married at the White House, last Wednesday. The nation sends good wishes.

We copy on our first page today, from the Remington News, the letter of O. B. McIntire, in response to the strictures of the Rensselaer Republican on Hon. Fred. Hooper. It is a clear vindication of Senator H.

Just now the Republican and Message are one in prayer that discord and division in Democratic ranks may rebound to the advantage of radical Congressional nominees. It will do no good. The prayers of the wicked are accepted as mockery.

The exercises of the graduating Class—Arthur H. Hopkins, Rena S. Peacock, Albert R. Hopkins and Benjamin F. Fendig, came off at the Opera House, last evening, before a crowded audience. The class did credit to themselves and their instructors. The addresses of Prof. Reubelt and M. L. Spitzer were well-timed and appropriate.

The Memorial exercises on Sabbath last, at the Opera House, and on Monday over the resting places of the dead braves, were appropriate and proper. The remarks of Rev. Mr. Handley on Sabbath were listened to by a large and appreciative audience, and the address of Judge Hammond, on Monday, was well received.

The Message man, speaking of Mr. Dague, of Fowler, a republican aspirant for the Senatorial nomination in this district, has this to say:

* * * "He belongs to the Bourbon school of Republicans and is thoroughly versed in the obsolete catechism of Southern outrages, the intimidation of intelligent majorities by illiterate minorities, and the corruption of Republican voters by unscrupulous Democrats; together with the entire gamut of ironical absurdities of the clap-trap factories. Were he a trifle more progressive in spirit, and a trifle more original in thought, with a disposition to pull out of the ruts and catch up with the head of the procession in politics, he would be better qualified for a seat in the Indiana senate."

One versed in "Ancient History" would naturally infer from the above that its distinguished author had never taken any stock "in the obsolete catechism of Southern outrages, the intimidation of intelligent majorities by illiterate minorities, and the corruption of Republican voters by unscrupulous Democrats; together with the entire gamut of ironical absurdities of the clap-trap factories." "A Little Bit of Ancient History," however, reveals the fact that for a short period, commencing in 1874, he became "a trifle more progressive in spirit, and a trifle more original in thought, with a disposition to pull out of the ruts and catch up with the head of the procession in politics." A little later the History gives notice that at a certain period in the near future it would announce whether he would continue "progressive in spirit" or engage in the manufacture of the "ironical absurdities of the clap-trap factories." The History then informs us that in 1876, one Bennie Harrison passed over the land crying aloud "I am glad I not a Democrat!" and our brother of "progressive spirit" backslid and was assigned to duty as his chief singer on the banks of the Iroquois. In the National canvass that year, with Lize Pinkston, Kenner and Casenave in charge of the "clap-trap factories" of Louisiana, they succeeded in the theft of the electoral vote of that State. Kenner received a $2,500 appointment and Casenave a position at $1,400. From the time our neighbor was placed in charge of the Rensselaer post-office up to the morning following the Democratic jubilee, he did not engage in the issue of manifestos. On that day, however, demoralized by the turn events had taken, on the bulletin board in front of the post office he expressed his opinion of the Democracy of Jasper county as follows:

"The vandalism committed last night are the legitimate, organized, deliberate insults of Democracy for Reform."

"In the interest of Reform the Democracy of Jasper County deliberately, wantonly insult every soldier who lost a leg or arm, or who was wounded in the line of duty in defense of the Union."

When we reflect that many of those who participated in the jubilee had served their country faithfully, and the masses participating were esteemed citizens, of all parties, the occasion unmarred by discord, drunkenness, or rowdiness of any kind, to say the least the strictures of the present "progressive in spirit" advocate, and self-assumed "head of the procession in politics" were wanton and uncalled for, and should have resulted in the prompt termination of his commission. The sentiments expressed exhibit his animus toward the Democracy in unfading colors, and his "disposition to pull out of the ruts" a sham. When satisfied they will to the benefit of himself and party he will accept and employ the "ironical absurdities of the clap-trap factory" as readily as any one.

DUNNVILLE SQUIBS.

The people here when talking of the new RR., sigh, and say—"so near, and yet so far."

John Graves received, on last Saturday from parties in Chicago, a car load of cattle.

A young man from Knox, by the name of Tucker, is soliciting subscription for Bibles and other publications, and is meeting with fair success.

S. J. Bentley has shipped in a car load of salt, and is making all necessary arrangements for a voyage up Salt River in the near future. It is rumored that I. D. Dunn takes charge of the ship.

The San Pierr - creamery under management of John McLaughlin is doing a mammoth business this season. We wish him success.

Porter, the agent of the Bible society, put up with T. M. Jones one night last week. He has gone, but will return in a few weeks and distribute Bibles to the poor of Kankakee.

Harris Turner and the Lavinder's had a suit before Squire Maguire, Monday. It seems as though the Lavinders traded some cattle on which Turner held a mortgage, hence the squabble. We understand the Lavinders came out second best.

A little bare-footed stranger made its appearance on last Saturday at the home of Lon Hillard, and now demands the care and attention due a daughter.

Miss Rosa Jones will in a few weeks return home from Monticello where she has been attending school.

Did J. N. White think when he bought $120 worth of bridge lumber that he was practicing strict economy with the people's money?

T. J. Jones has returned from Monticello where he has been at work for the last three months.

C. Way leaves next week for Chicago, where he expects to locate permanently.

It has never been bankrupt, never changed its name or title, always has been the John Robinson Big Show, and today it is the same Old John Robinson, with Ten Big Brand New Shows Combined, and it has attained to such immensity of size and grandeur that it requires a million yards of canvas to accommodate the myriads of sight-seers, who daily gather in vast throngs, from hundreds of miles around, to witness the monster scenes in the greatest of all menageries, museums, caravans, avaries, and only Monster Giant Three Ring Circus and amphitheatrical arenas the world ever knew. American Enterprise.

No invention of the nineteenth century has worked a greater revolution in household economy or conferred more of a benefit on humanity than the sewing machine.

The first productions were crude and uncouth in the extreme, and it was reserved for American skill and ingenuity to bring forth a machine of any practical value.

In order to appreciate the great advancement which has taken place it is only necessary to compare one of the machines built during the infancy of the invention with one of the latest improved "Light-Running New Home"

All the really good points contained in other machines have been utilized in its construction.—Many new improvements and devices have also been added, the result of which is a machine as nearly perfect as it is possible to make one.

For simplicity, durability, ease of management and capacity for work, the "Light-Running New Home" has no rival, and the happy possessor of one may rest assured that he or she has the very best the world affords. SEE ADVERTISEMENT ON ANOTHER PAGE OF THIS PAPER.
