A bargain in glass and queensware. A like opportunity has never heretofore been offered in Rensselaer. Call soon at Elsner's, "Chicago Fair," 3d door west of the Makeever House.

Joseph P. Hammond is canvassing for the "Practical Home Physician." The high standing of its authors in the medical profession, Doctors H. M. Lyman, Christian Fenger, H. Webster Jones, and W. T. Belfield, should stamp it as a standard work which should find its way into every home. It is highly recommended by Physicians in Rensselaer. Give Joe your name.

THE CHICAGO FAIR!

The undersigned would respectfully announce to the people of Rensselaer and surrounding country that he has just opened out, in the Stockton-Williams Block, 3d door west of the Makeever House, a counterpart of the CHICAGO FAIR, in the complete and extensive variety of standard goods, consisting of Ready-Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Chinaware, Glassware, Queenware, Earthenware, Hardware, Tinware, Pocket and Table Cutlery, Lamps in great variety, Notions and Novelties. In prices, too, you will have further evidence that the Chicago Fair has its counterpart located in Rensselaer. Call and see.

WM. ELSNER.

The republican press throughout the land seem to delight in trying to frighten somebody by harping on the payment of the rebel debt. Did they but stop to reflect that they were making a scare crow out of an impossibility they would cease, as the Valparaiso Messenger says, "to make perennial pearl gray asses of themselves." The following from the speech of Congressman Daniels, of Virginia, states the case very clearly:—"The proposition to pay these bonds, is a palpable and as eccentric an absurdity as the frivolous wit of man can invent. In the first place the amendment to the Federal Constitution forbids it, and that alone disposes of the question. In the second place the United States Supreme Court has decided that Confederate securities never had a legal constitutional existence; and that settles them. In the third place, the theory of the war was that the Confederate States had no legal existence. The victors of the war would as soon think of reviving the Confederacy as of paying its debts; and the men who were Confederates are as little disposed as their former foes to pay them. In the fourth place, there is no law, no equity, no principle of honor and no reason of expediency to suggest that the United States, or that anybody should pay the Confederate debt." The Confederate debt stinketh, and so do the republican editors who attempt to frighten the people with it.

Special Invitation!—Everybody is respectfully invited to call and price my goods, and I will guarantee that out of every 25 customers 24 will be bound to buy of me, as I have reduced my entire stock to such prices that they will feel constrained to purchase unless they have money to throw away. I mean business, and am determined to secure, by the above method, new friends. Do not be misled, but come at once and convince yourselves of the truth of this statement. Very respectfully, A. LEOPOLD.

F. Priest, at the Chicago Grocery, wants a chance at your Butter, Eggs, and country produce generally. Farmers, give him a call.

An extensive stock, in great variety, of Straw Goods, ranging in price from 5c. to $3, at N. FENDIG'S. Call and see for yourselves.
