MORE SPECIMEN BRICKS.

Veto messages on private pension bills. Read them:

To the House of Representatives:
I hereby return without approval house bill No. 7197, entitled "An act for the relief of Mrs. Maria Hunter."

The beneficiary named in this bill, to whom it is there proposed to grant a pension at the rate of $50 a month, on the 23d day of March, 1886, filed her application for a pension in the pension bureau, where it is still pending undetermined.

Although the deceased soldier held a high rank, I have no doubt his widow will receive ample justice through the instrumentality organized for the purpose of dispensing the nation's grateful acknowledgment of military service in its defense.

GROVER CLEVELAND.

To the House of Representatives:

I return without approval house bill No. 6257, entitled "An act for the relief of Julia Connelly."

It is proposed by this bill to grant a pension to the beneficiary named as the widow of Thomas Connelly.

This man was mustered into the service Oct. 26, 1861. He never did a day's service so far as his name appears, and the muster-out roll of his company reports him as having deserted at Camp Cameron, Pennsylvania, Nov. 14, 1861.

He visited his family about the 1st day of December 1861, and was found Dec. 30, 1861, about six miles from his home.

Those who prosecute claims for pensions have grown very bold when cases of his description are presented for consideration.

GROVER CLEVELAND.

To the House of Representatives:

I hereby return without approval house bill No. 6688 entitled "An act for the relief of William Bishop."

This claimant was enrolled as a substitute on the 25th day of March, 1865; he was admitted to a post hospital at Indianapolis on the 3d day of April, 1865, with the measles; was removed to the city general hospital in Indianapolis, on the 5th day of May 1865; was returned to duty May 8, 1865, and was mustered out with a detachment of unassigned men on the 11th day of May, 1865.

This is the military record of this soldier, who remained in the army one month and seventeen days, having entered it as a substitute at a time when high bounties were paid.

Fifteen years after this brilliant service and this terrific encounter with the measles and on the 28th day of June, 1880, the claimant discovered that his attack of the measles had some relation to his army enrollment, and that this disease had "settled in his eyes, also affecting his spinal column."

This claim was rejected by the pension bureau, and I have no doubt of the correctness of its determination.

GROVER CLEVELAND.

To the House of Representatives:

I return without approval house bill No. 7109, entitled "An act granting a pension to Joseph Tuttle."

This man claims a pension as the dependant father of Charles Tuttle, who enlisted in 1861 and was killed in action May 31, 1862.

The claimant being, as he says, poor, his son Charles, at the age of 9 years, placed him in charge of an uncle living in Ohio. An arrangement was afterwards made by which the boy should live with a stranger named Betts. Upon the death of this gentleman the lad was transferred to one Capt. Hill, with whom he remained until his enlistment in 1861.

It is stated that during the time he remained with Mr. Hill he set his father $5; but the fatherly care and interest of the claimant in his son is exhibited by the statement that, tho' the son was killed in 1862, his father was not aware of it until the year 1864.

After the exhibition of heartlessness and abandonment on the part of a father, which is a prominent feature in this case, I should be sorry to be a party to a scheme permitting him to profit by the death of his patriotic son. The claimant relinquished the care of his son, and should be held to have relinquished all claim to his assistance and the benefits so indecently claimed as the result of his death.

GROVER CLEVELAND.

High medical authorities record the successful treatment of carbuncular diseases by the injection of the official solution of ammonia. Dr. Arsenine claims that it destroys the bacilliæ in all malignant pustules, and is a specific in this class of diseases. Physicians have found the carbuncle always dangerous and almost beyond the reach of remedies.

At one point on the Cascade branch of the Northern Pacific the railroad describes a horse shoe which is two and a quarter miles around, and only 1,500 feet across the hill at the open end of it.

A girl in Richland county, Ohio, killed a big rattlesnake, tanned its skin and made a belt of it.

When Mr. Randall asked Mr. Morrison if he thought Mr. Cleveland could have been elected if the Chicago convention had declared for free raw materials he got an answer that raised him off his feet and shut his mouth like a case of lock jaw. "He would have got more votes than he did," said Mr. Morrison; "he did not carry Ohio and he did not carry Pennsylvania, and he would not have carried them if the convention had promised to vote the tariff on wool a mile high." That is precisely the truth, and Mr. Randall knows it.

Cleveland's Pension Veto.

Chicago News: Veterans of the war and all good citizens owe it to their country to read the vetoes of private pension bills which President Cleveland has sent to congress. These prove what an unjustifiable tax is imposed by congress on the executive's time. These pension bills are lobbied through both houses and sent to the president without investigation or consideration. No facts are open to him which are not available to senators and representatives, and yet every one of his vetoes shows good and incontrovertible reasons for refusing such legislation.

Jasper county is by law entitled to two free scholarships at Purdue University. At present there is no appointment from this county. The Commissioners will endeavor to fill the vacancies at their August or September term. Who of our young men or women will avail themselves of this opportunity?
