True Democrats are not dismayed.

Let Democrats pick their flints, and prepare for 1888.

Democrats will derive profit from the lessons of the hour.

Hereafter a full ticket and a contest of the field inch by inch.

The States of Indiana and New Jersey will elect Democratic U. S. Senators.

The Democracy have made gains in many of the other States. Will be able to give particulars next week.

No more "plowing with your neighbor's heifer," their known "breachiness" make all distrustful of them, and their pretenses receive the confidence of no one. Pass such by.

Already Republicans declare they will throw out a sufficient number of Democratic Representatives to secure the return of Ben Harrison to the United States Senate. A repetition of the "steal of 1876" is proposed. Let it be seen to that it be not consummated.

W. W. Dudley, dismissed Commissioner of Pensions, is attempting, in this State, the game of Chandler in 1876—"Claim everything." That trick was allowed to pass once with the ominous admonition—"Not to be repeated." Heed the admonition, Wilm.

Campaign brokers—Those who importune candidates of all parties for a deposit with them that that they may place it where it will "do the most good." As a rule, these "hangers-on" have neither the principles nor the "inflowon" they boast of, and place deposits intrusted to them in their own pockets.

Political hypocrites who robe themselves "with the livery of heaven to serve the devil in,"—who are loud and blatant in protestations of fealty to Democratic principles, but who make the most of their opportunities and information in the advancement of opposition men and measures—must hereafter be relegated to the rear—in fact, into the ranks of the opposition. There is where their votes go in the end, and there is where they rightfully belong.

The following are the majorities of the Republican candidates at the election, in this county, Tuesday:

State ticket, 430;
Congress, 498;
Prosecutor (no Democratic opposition) 820;
Clerk, (no Dem. op.) 1207;
Sheriff, " " " 1046;
Auditor, 458;
Treasurer, 280;
Recorder, 480;
Coroner, (no Dem. op.) 1081;
Surveyor, " " " 1023;
Senator, 211;
Representative, (no dem. op.) 571;
Commissioner, 353.

We will publish the official returns in tabulated form next week

In Four Districts.

Chicago Herald: In two Congressional districts in Pennsylvania, namely, those represented by Randall and Snowden, both Democrats, the Republicans made no nominations. These gentlemen stand relative to the one issue of paramount importance to Pennsylvanians of the political machine order in a position which is entirely satisfactory to the interests which control elections in that state. To have pitted Republicans against them would have been a great waste of energy and time, to say nothing of money. They vote on all questions affecting the monopoly interest of Pennsylvania exactly as Republicans would do.

In Illinois are two other Congressional districts to which it is desired to draw attention. They are represented in the present Congress by Messrs. Morrison and Springer. In both of these districts the men in Pennsylvania who make common cause in behalf of the Democrats, Randall and Snowden, made common cause against the Democrats—Morrison and Springer. They sent "men and money" into these districts, and, by the political method known as the still hunt, they effected the defeat of one and almost accomplished that of the other. Pennsylvania money was saved by not opposing Randall and Snowden, whose faithfulness as servants of the privileged classes made them acceptable as any Republican could be, that it might be spent in Illinois to defeat two Democrats who could not be used by the corporations.

This scandalous invasion of Illinois by the agents of a corrupt and dangerous power demands prompt and vehement rebuke. No stronger proof of the nature of the combinations effected under the protective tariff system is needed than is to be found in this transaction. With the blood money wrung from half-caid toil in the protected industries of Pennsylvania these tramp agents of the robber rings have come into this state and corrupted thousands of voters with bribes and lies. This is a shameful admission to make concerning any set of men in Illinois, but its truth and the necessity that the dangerous practices resorted to by the unscrupulous plunderers of Pennsylvania should be known demand that it be made.

And there can be no doubt that this same system of bribery, with money procured from the same source, was employed in this and other districts in the State of Indiana.

The Louisville Courier-Journal says:

The defeat of Hurd and Morrison and the narrow escape of Carlisle could awaken the Democracy from its slumbers and destroy its false sense of security. In the result of Tuesday we hear a trumpet call to battle. There are traitors within the camp; there are dangers that threaten us that can only be conquered by relentless, by unremitting, by unwavering warfare. The House is saved to us, but if lost it should only impress on us the necessity of putting on the whole armor of Democracy. The gigantic power of the concentrated and ill-gotten wealth of the North is arrayed against us. It was this wealth that made Hurd's victory impossible; it was this wealth that was poured out like water in Morrison's district; it was this blood-money that organized the labor societies of Covington and Newport against Mr. Carlisle. The danger in this is something more than political; it is moral and social. This money is debauching the voters. To these public plunderers bribery is a virtue. They stop at nothing, and will buy the constituents of Representatives they find impossible to buy.

The wedding ceremonials of Miss TILLIE (daughter of our well-known and highly esteemed fellow citizen, Ralph Fendig,) and SAMUEL BORCHARDT, Esq., of Brunswick, Georgia, as stated in the Sentinel last week, was a brilliant affair. Household Hints.

Whiting wet with aqua ammonia will cleanse brass from stains, and is excellent for polishing faucets and door-knobs of brass or silver.

Ham relish may be made by seasoning highly with cayenne pepper a slice of dressed ham, then broiling it, and adding butter, mustard, and a little lemon juice.

Salt will curdle milk, therefore in preparing milk toast, sauce, scrambled eggs or anything of which milk is the foundation, do not add the salt till the pan has left the fire.

Try this recipe for a pie: The pulp of one lemon, chopped fine, with half a cup of raisins; add two tablespoonsfuls of flour, one cup of sugar and one of water. Bake between two thin crusts.

Baking powder and soda biscuits should be put into warm pans, and baked in a quick oven; a little warm water rubbed over them just before putting into the oven will give them a nice color.

To remove fruit stains from a cambric handkerchief or other white goods, dip the stain in boiling milk; if this is not effectual, apply a very weak solution of chloride of lime, being careful to boil the handkerchief afterward.

Typhus fever is marked by short, delirious, broken dreams. Scarlet fever by realistic dreams, excited by surroundings. Remittent fever by long, delirious, painful dreams. Herein are suggested some suitable points in diagnosis.

The fat of chickens is said by a cake maker of great experience to be superior to the finest butter for making the most delicate cake. If the fat of boiled chickens is to be used, cook them without salt, and there will not be the slightest flavor of fowl.

Keep a pin-cushion in the kitchen. If none is at hand, a pin picked up is laid on the window-sill, or stuck in the dress, to fall, perhaps, into the next batch of bread kneaded. Each child should be taught to pick up every pin it sees and put it in its proper place.

Potato Sofflet.—Bake the potatoes, cut off one end, take the inside out, saving the skin; mash the potatoes with grated Parmesan cheese, butter, salt, pepper and mustard, and replace in the skin and bake, standing them upright in a dish. A capital savory for after dinner.

An excellent and simple disinfectant for sinks and waste pipes is made by mixing one large tablespoonful of copperas with one quart of boiling water. This solution is odorless and deodorizes instantly. The copperas may be bought at any druggist's for eight or ten cents a pound.

For soft frosting, use ten teaspoonsful of powdered sugar and one egg; beat thirty minutes. For frosting and meringue, powdered sugar should always be used. Lay the frosting on with a knife, which, if frequently dipped into cold water, will give the icing a gloss. A little cream of tartar—just a mite—will hasten the hardening.

A writer in a medical journal says buttermilk is a good remedy in cases of irritation of the stomach. He adds: "I have had some experience recently with it quite satisfactory in a few instances. Four cases of persistent vomiting occurring in succession, intolerant of any other treatment, gave way kindly to this."

An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Buckle's Arnica Salve and my leg is now sound and well."

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Buckle's Arnica Salve a 25c. per box by F. B. Meyer's.
