

INJUSTICE CORRECTED.

Convincing Verification of Widespread Public Statements.

In common with many publishers and editors, we have been accustomed to look upon certain statements which we have seen in our columns as merely adroit advertising. Consequently we feel justified in taking the liberty of printing a few points from a private letter recently received from one of our largest patrons, as a sort of confession of faith to our readers. We quote:

"We have convinced ourselves that by telling what we know to be true, we have produced at least a permanent conviction in the public mind. Seven years ago we stated what the national disease of this country was, and that it was rapidly increasing. Three years ago we stated that a marked check had been given it."

"The statistics of one of the largest life-insurance companies of this country show that in 1883 and 1884 the mortality from kidney disorders did not increase over the previous years; other companies stated the same thing. It is not presumptuous for us to claim credit for checking these ravages."

"Seven years ago we stated that the condition of the kidneys was the key to the condition of health; within the past five years all careful life insurance companies have conceded the truth of this statement, for, whereas, ten years ago, chemical analysis to determine the condition of the kidneys was not required, to-day millions of dollars in risks are refused, because chemical examination discovers unsuspected diseases of the kidneys."

"Seven years ago we stated that the ravages of Bright's Disease were insignificant compared with other unsuspected disorders of the kidneys of many misleading names; that ninety-three per cent of human ailments are attributable to deranged kidneys, which fill the blood with uric acid, or kidney poison, which causes these many fatal diseases."

"The uric acid, or kidney poison, is the real cause of the majority of cases of paralysis, apoplexy, heart disease, convulsions, pneumonia, consumption, and insanity; over half the victims of consumption are first the victims of diseased kidneys."

"When the recent death of an honored official of the United States was announced, his physician said that although he was suffering from Bright's Disease, that was not the cause of death. He was not frank enough to admit that the apoplexy which overtook him in his bed was the fatal effect of the kidney poison in the blood, which had eaten away the substance of the arteries and brain; nor was Logan's physician honest enough to state that his fatal rheumatism was caused by kidney acid in the blood."

"If the doctors would state in official reports the original cause of death, the people of this country would be alarmed, yea, nearly panic-stricken, at the fearful mortality from kidney disorders."

The writers of the above letter give these facts to the public simply to justify the claims that they have made, that "if the kidneys and liver are kept in a healthy condition by the use of Warner's safe cure, which hundreds of thousands have proved to be a specific, when all other remedies failed, and that has received the indorsement of the highest medical talent in Europe, Australasia and America, many a life would be prolonged and the happiness of the people preserved. It is successful with so many different diseases because it, and it alone, can remove the uric acid from the blood through the kidneys."

Our readers are familiar with the preparation named. Commendation thereof has often appeared in our columns.

We believe it to be one of the best, if not the best, ever manufactured. We know the proprietors are men of character and influence.

We are certain they have awakened a widespread interest in the public mind concerning the importance of the kidneys. We believe with them that they are the key to health, and that for their restoration from disease and maintenance in health there is nothing equal to this great remedy.

The proprietors say they "do not glory in this universal prevalence of disease; but having started out with the purpose of spreading the merits of Warner's safe cure before the world, because it cured our senior proprietor, who was given up by doctors as incurable, we feel it our duty to state the facts and leave the public to its own inferences. We point to our claims, and to their public and universal verification, with pride, and if the public does not believe what we say we tell them to ask their friends and neighbors what they think about our preparations."

As stated above, we most cordially commend the perusal of this correspondence by our readers, believing that in so doing we are fulfilling a simple public obligation.

Running an Account.

It is a convenient thing to have a standing account at a store, where you can go at any time, order what you please, and have it charged, without the worry of having to consider whether you have enough money in your purse to pay for it or not; but it is also true that these items, small though they may be, mount up with appalling rapidity into a sum that always surpasses expectation. Besides this, the very best calculators, and those who generally use a wise economy, buy things in this way which they could easily do without did they take the time for reflection which cash payments would often compel. It is so easy, when an article that seems at the time desirable is seen, to order it sent and charged for, the temptation overcomes the buyer before the strength which comes from looking at the matter on all sides enable her to resist the impulse to buy. Often purchases are made in this way and regretted, while something that was far more necessary must in consequence be gone without.

Merchants understand that a great deal more is likely to be bought where there is a running account than when cash is paid down, which explains their readiness to trust those whom they have reason to believe will pay what they honestly owe. The excess will, in nine cases out of ten, more than compensate for the loss of interest on the outstanding sums, though there is no question but that they sometimes lose large amounts by the failure of individuals through misfortune, sickness, death, or deliberate rascality to discharge their debts.—Emily S. Bouton, in Toledo Blade.

FADED ink on old documents, papers, parchments, etc., may be so restored as to render the writing perfectly legible. The process consists in moistening the paper with water, and then passing over the lines a brush which has been wet in a solution of sulphide of ammonia. The writing will immediately appear quite dark in color, and this color, in the case of parchment, will be preserved. On paper, however, the color gradually fades again.

THROAT troubles yield promptly to Red Star Cough Cure, as vouched for by U. S. Architect Clark. Its ingredients are purely vegetable and free from opiates. 25 cents.

Important.

When you visit or leave New York City, save baggage, expressage, and $3 carriage hire, and stop at the Grand Union Hotel, opposite Grand Central Depot.

613 rooms, fitted up at a cost of one million dollars, $1 and upwards per day. European plan. Elevator. Restaurant supplied with the best. Horse cars, stages, and elevated railroad to all depots. Families can live better for less money at the Grand Union Hotel than at any other first-class hotel in the city.

A True Dog Story from Ohio.

In May, 1850, Phineas Jarney moved from Lewiston, Logan County, Ohio, to Richland County, Wis., going all the way by wagon, through Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana. He took with him an old yellow hound of the female persuasion, which was purchased from a Mr. Smith, of Lewiston. Arrived in Richland County, he settled down in a house of Mr. Jarney's brother. In a week or two the hound disappeared and they supposed she had been killed. Some two or three months afterward a letter was received from Peter Staymate, of Bellefontaine, saying that he had been down to Lewiston to see Smith, the former owner of the hound, and there was the old dog in good health and spirits. She had made the journey of about 500 miles, having passed over on the way west, and, of course, remembering the track, as dogs so easily do. One of the parties who made the journey west with the sagacious animal is still living in Springfield and can vouch for the facts.—Springfield Globe.

The Effects of Mental Exhaustion.

Many diseases, especially those of the nervous system, are the products of daily renewed mental exhaustion. Business avocations often involve an amount of mental wear and tear very prejudicial to physical health, and the professions, if ardently pursued, are no less destructive to brain and nerve tissue. It is one of the most important attributes of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters that it compensates for this undue loss of tissue, and that it imparts new energy to the brain and nerves. The rapidity with which it renews weakened mental energy and physical vitality is remarkable, and shows that its invigorating properties are of the highest order. Besides increasing vital stamina, and counteracting the effects of mental exhaustion, this potent medicine cures and prevents fever and ague, rheumatism, chronic dyspepsia and constipation, kidney and uterine weakness and other complaints. Physicians also commend it as a medicated stimulant and remedy.

To Tell the Age of Eggs.

We recommend the following process, which has been known for some time, but has been forgotten, for finding out the age of eggs and distinguishing those that are fresh from those that are not. This method is based upon the decrease in the density of eggs as they grow old:

Dissolve two ounces of salt in a pint of water. When a fresh laid egg is placed in this solution it will descend to the bottom of the vessel, while one that has been laid on the day previous will not quite reach the bottom.

If the egg be three days old it will swim in the liquid, and if it is more than three days old it will float on the surface, and project above the latter more and more in proportion as it is older.—Chicago News.

In the United States Senate, during a recent debate, Senator Vest, of Missouri, paid a high tribute to the merits of St. Jacobs Oil. Other prominent men have also found it prompt in its cure of rheumatism and neuralgia. Price, fifty cents a bottle.

Would Put Nothing in His Way.

"That was an excellent sermon. I heard you preach, on Sunday," said a gentleman to a clergyman, as they shook hands.

"Thank you," replied the preacher. "To which one do you refer?"

"The one about laying up treasures in heaven."

"Oh, yes."

"But do you think," said the gentleman, "that the congregation will take the advice you gave them?"

"I fear," returned the pastor, "that as a whole they will not. But you must not think they do not believe in laying up treasures in heaven. They know it is the right thing to do."

"What evidence have you of it?"

"Very conclusive evidence. They are talking of reducing my salary."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

It Costs Nothing

To send to the Chicago Ledger, 271 Franklin street, Chicago, for a sample copy of that splendid family story paper, and after looking it over you can make up your mind whether it is better to pay $3 for one of the Eastern literary publications or to take the Ledger at just one-half the price. The Ledger is the oldest, cheapest, and best Western literary paper, and contains a great variety of entertaining and instructive matter, including a page each week of war memories. It will pay you to look into this matter. Send postal, with name and address, and a sample will be mailed to you free.

The Cost of Ignorance.

Absence of knowledge of the fact that physical and mental weakness, indigestion, impure blood, and sick headache can be converted by Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic, costs millions of money annually for uncertain and unreliable decoctions.

A Question of Latitude.

Teacher—Where are the degrees of latitude longest?

Little Willie—At our house.

Teacher—Why, Willie, how can that be?

Willie—Pa says he never saw such latitude as that ma allows sister just because a rich old lady is coming to our house.—The Rambler.

Is It Really Consumption?

Many a case supposed to be radical lung disease is really one of liver complaint and indigestion, but, unless that diseased liver can be restored to healthy action, it will so clog the lungs with corrupting matter as to bring on their speedy decay, and then indeed we have consumption, which is scrofula of the lungs, in its worst form. Nothing can be more happily calculated to nip this danger in the bud than is Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." By druggists.

"THERE is a report around, Jinks, that you have inherited a landed estate." "It is groundless, my dear fellow."

Five Hundred Dollars

Is the sum Dr. Pierce offers for the detection of any calomel, or other mineral poison or injurious drug, in his justly celebrated "Pleasant Purgative Pellets." They are about the size of a mustard seed, therefore easily taken, while their operation is unattended by any gripping pain. Biliousness, sick-headache, bad taste in the mouth, and jaundice, yield at once before these "little giants." Of your druggist.

E. T. HAZELTINE,
Warren, Pa.

Dear Sir:

I was taken with a very severe cold last Spring, and tried every cure we had in the store, and could get no help.

I had our village doctor prescribe for me, but kept getting worse. I saw another physician from Port Jervis, N. Y., and he told me he used Piso's Cure for Consumption in his practice.

I bought a bottle, and before I had taken all of it there was a change for the better. Then I got my employer to order a quantity of the medicine and keep it in stock. I took one more bottle, and my Cough was cured.

Respectfully,
FRANK MCKELVY.
