

What Harper's Bazar Says:

Warner's Safe Cook Book is a very attractive work, consisting of about five hundred pages of original matter, especially gotten up by a lady of long experience and skill in such matters, and the recipes are not only reliable, but they are in all respects first class. The book is abundantly illustrated, and is typographically excellent. It is bound in two styles, cloth and paper; the former usually selling for $2, and the latter for $1. The cloth-bound volume for $1.15 postage paid to any address in the United States.

The publishers give this book, in paper covers, to all who send to Warner's Safe Cure Laboratory, Rochester, N. Y., ten (10) two (2) cent stamps, to pay postage, and fifteen (15) top covers of Warner's Safe Yeast packages. The rims from the latter should be cut off, and the covers, with the ten two cent stamps, inclosed in a small envelope. Give full name and P. O. address plainly written in ink.

Our readers should take advantage of this extraordinary offer while it is open, for it is certainly a very desirable book for the family, and it is the most generous offer from trustworthy people that we know of. Warner's Safe Cook Book will make a genuine sensation among housekeepers. Harper's Bazar, a conceded authority, says it is "one of the finest books of the kind ever published," and when one lady gets a copy all her neighbors will want one also. Send along the ten two (2) cent stamps and the fifteen Warner's Safe Yeast package tops and get this wonderful book.

Sheep in the Early Days.

"He calleth his own sheep by name and leadeth them out. And when he putteth forth (from the fold) his own sheep, he goeth before them and the sheep follow him; for they know his voice. And a stranger they will not follow, but will flee from him, for they know not the voice of strangers."—John x. 3-5.

In reference to this passage of Scripture, John Hartley, in his "Researches in Greece and the Levant," says: "I asked my man if it is usual in Greece to give names to sheep. He informed me that it was, and that the sheep obeyed the shepherd when he called them by their names.

I had an opportunity of verifying the truth of this remark. Passing by a flock of sheep, I asked the shepherd the same question which I put to my servant, and he gave me the same answer. I then bade him call one of his sheep. He did so, and it instantly left its pasture and companions and ran up to the hand of the shepherd, with signs of pleasure and with that prompt obedience which I have never before observed in any other animal. It is also true of the sheep in this country, that a stranger they will not follow, but will flee from him, for they know not the voice of strangers."—Exchange.

Saved at the Altar.

The beautiful young girl had plighted her love, and was at the altar ready to give her heart and hand to the man who would have destroyed her very life. The moment when she is to say those, to her, fatal words is fast approaching, when fate steps in and saves her.

Without a doubt the most thrilling story of the times is "Cross Purposes; or, Saved at the Altar," by George W. Ogilvie, soon to appear in the Chicago Ledger. Persons desiring the first installments of this story should subscribe now. Remember, sample copies can be secured free of cost, by sending your address to the office. Address Chicago Ledger, 271 Franklin street, Chicago, Ill.

How to Sleep.

A physician, referring to the custom of traveling on sleeping-cars with the berths made up with their heads toward the engine, said: "It is certainly bad for the brain of the sleeper, as it is not natural, and it is no wonder that so many travelers, especially those who have been on the road extensively, experience bad effects from it."

Was It Meant to Be Personal?

After the accident: She—"Were you hurt much, Mr. De Doodle?"

Mr. De D.—"Aw, Miss Claiwa, I was, aw, knocked senseless, don't you know."

She—"Oh, I'm so glad you escaped. They told me you had been injured."

Mr. De D. wonders what she meant.—Washington Critic.

She's Here Already.

Dr. Mary Walker says the coming winter will wear pants. If Dr. Mary Walker had been a married man she would have said regarding the pants business that the woman is here, and she wears the pants by a large and most enthusiastic majority.—Boston Courier.

THE proprietor of the Plain Dealer, Fort Madison, Iowa, Mr. J. H. Duffus, writes: "Two years ago I was cured of rheumatism in my knee by St. Jacobs Oil; have had no return; two applications did the work."

STEEL sleepers on the Northeastern Railway, of England, gave indications of a life of twenty to twenty-five years, whereas the wooden ties last but twelve to fourteen years. The economy is doubtful, however, as the steel ties cost double those of wood. Unquestioned success with metallic sleepers is thus far confined to India, where wood is quickly destroyed by insects.

RHODE ISLAND was the last of the original thirteen States to ratify the national Constitution, and it was only upon the passage of a bill by the national Senate prohibiting commerce with the recreant State that Little Rhode at length gave in her adherence, thus completing again the union of the thirteen. This was accomplished in 1790.

To Ladies

Suffering from functional derangements or any of the painful disorders or weaknesses incident to their sex, Dr. Pierce's tea tree, illustrated with wood-cuts and colored plates (160 pages), suggests sure means of complete self-cure. Sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Agony Is Courted

By persons who, attacked by a mild form of rheumatism, neglect to seek prompt relief. Subsequent torture is prevented by an immediate resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Slight exposure, an occasional draught, will beget this painful malady, where there is a predisposition to it in the blood. It is not difficult to arrest the trouble at the outset, but well nigh impossible to eradicate it when matured. No evidence in relation to this superb blood depurant is more positive than that which establishes its efficacy as a preventive and remedy for rheumatism. Not only is it thorough, but safe, since the vegetable and mineral poisons, often taken as curatives of the disease, are not. Besides expelling the rheumatic virus from the system, it overcomes fever and ague, biliousness, constipation, and dyspepsia.

A Lively Bullock Race.

Jeypore is a typical Hindoo city in almost every respect. The Rajah is a Hindoo, and the great mass of the people are Hindoos, writes a correspondent. No foreigners live or do business within the city walls. The city gates are closed at 9 o'clock at night, and no one can either leave or enter it after 11 o'clock without a permit from the Rajah. As we drove along we were particularly struck by the great number of white bulls in the street and one on the sidewalk. These bulls are so cared for and petted as to be as mild-mannered as cows.

It was on this street that we first saw trotting bullocks. They are white in color, of large size and with immense curved horns, which are generally painted a deep green. It is a curious sight to see them as they trot along at a right respectable gait, the driver, bare-armed and bare-legged, handling the reins with as much care as though he was driving Maud S.

From Boston.

One of the most eminent physicians in Boston gives his opinion that the extent of the Moxie Nerve Food plant, now so rapidly substituting stimulants and recovering the nervous women, will probably become one of the great trade staples of the country, because its place cannot be filled. Most of the dealers so consider it now, and even the grocers deliver it to their customers as they do estableishes. When we consider it has been on the market but fourteen months, and that it can now be found in almost any part of the country, and that the company are selling it at the rate of 7,200,000 bottles per year, it must have a most marvelous power over the people.

Kind Friends.

Friend—"I have brought you a few slices of ham."

Poor Neighbor—"Ah! How kind you are."

"Don't mention it. It is really a pleasure for me to show you any little attention."

"Well, I appreciate your kindness. I can assure you of that."

"As I said before, I am only too glad to be able to accommodate you. The slices are cut from a ham that was given us. By the way, if you discover any symptoms of trichinae in your family, after you have tried the ham, you will let us know, please. We are not going to eat of it until we hear from you."—Texas Sifters.

GEN'L SAMUEL I. GIVEN, ex-Chief of Police, Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "Years ago I was permanently cured by St. Jacobs Oil. I have had no occasion to use it since. My family keep it on hand. Its healing qualities are wonderful." Sold by druggists and dealers everywhere.

The Iism He Had.

"What keeps Mr. — from Kirk, James?" said a worthy minister; "I hope it is not Methodism."

"No!" responded the verger. "It's something worse."

"What, then. Is it Calvinism?"

"Worse, your reverence, worse."

"Surely James, it is not Deism?"

"Much worse, an' it please your reverence, than that."

"Can it be Atheism which deprives us of the best church-warden that ever shook a box?"

"Truly," responded James, "tis a much more serious matter; it is rheumatism."—St. Louis Magazine.

"Fools Rush in, Where Angels Fear to Tread."

So impetuous youth is often given to folly and indiscipline; and, as a result, nervous, mental and organic debility follow, memory is impaired, self-confidence is lacking; at night bad dreams occur; premature old age seems setting in, ruin is in the track. In confidence, you can, and should write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., the author of a treatise for the benefit of that class of patients, and describe your symptoms and sufferings. He can cure you at your home, and will send you full particulars by mail.

"GOOD-BY, sweet tart, good-bye!" sang the baker's apprentice when his master discharged him.

The only coolness that should come between two fond hearts is ice-cream.

"IS THERE no balm in Gilead? Is there no physician there?"

Thanks to Dr. Pierce, there is a "balm" in his "Golden Medical Discovery"—a "balm for every wound" to health, from colds, coughs, consumption, bronchitis, and all chronic, blood, lung and liver affections. Of druggists.

Biliousness

Is more general at this season than any other. The bitter taste, offensive breath, coated tongue, sick headache, drowsiness, dizziness, and loss of appetite make the victim miserable and disagreeable to others. Hood's Sarsaparilla combines the best anti-bilious remedies of the vegetable kingdom, in such proportion as to derive their best medicinal effects without the least disturbance to the whole system. This preparation is so well balanced in its effects that it brings about a healthy action of the entire human organism, restores the appetite, and overcomes that tired feeling.

Dyspepsia and Malaria

"I have been sick for several years, being troubled chiefly with dyspepsia and malaria. I had medical attendance, but only grew worse, until one day in February my wife brought me a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which seems to have entirely cured me, as I have not been troubled by any ailment since taking it." JOHN ERKINE, Chillicothe, Ohio.

"I have taken not quite a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and must say it is one of the best medicines for giving an appetite and regulating the digestive organs that I ever heard of. It did me a great deal of good." MRS. N. A. STANLEY, Canastota, N. Y.
