

Democratic Sentinel

FRIDAY JULY 8 1887

Entered at the postoffice at Rensselaer, Ind., as second-class matter.

According to the definition of the Message considerable "gush" was indulged in by the "Blue and the Gray" on the Gettysburg battle field the other day.

General Lucius Fairchild says he is not a candidate for president. —Exchange.

What supreme cheek! He's one of the last who would be thought of in connection with that high office. No, he's not a candidate—simply a tool to boom the candidacy of Blaine or Sherman, or some other candidate.

In making its renowned historical charge at Cemetery Ridge, battle of Gettysburg, July 3d, '63, "Pickett's" Division lost in killed, wounded and missing, 3,300 out of 4,700 men it took into action; the Philadelphia Brigade, in repelling the attack, lost 475 men out of 1,400. The brave love the brave, and these men realizing that the war ceased long ago, that the Union has been restored, and that one flag waves over all sections clasped hands as brethren amid the scenes of their former deadly conflict.

The man who organized and led a mob to resist the draft, in Blackford county in war times, now holds a good position in the pension department. There are hundreds of similar cases.—Rensselaer Republican.

It would be so nice if our neighbor could give the name of "the man who organized and led a mob to resist the draft," etc. Our neighbor will bear us out in the statement that one Gen. Longstreet, who organized and led an army corps against the "boys in blue" on many battle-fields, and with murderous effect, notably at Gettysburg, was appointed by a republican administration to a more responsible position than that of a department clerk. Our neighbor will confirm the statement that one Moseby "who organized and led" a guerrilla band, in guerrilla warfare, in the rebel service, was appointed to high place by that same party. Then the Louisiana negroes, for perjury and forgery in the interest of Fraud Hayes were given positions of profit and trust, Lize Pinkston was assigned a place in the radical calendar as a martyr saint, and her soul, in company with that of "Old John Brown," goes marching on.

Bro. Marshall should give the name of his man, and not impose upon his readers "a man of straw."

Bro. James snapp'd at the bogus Jeff Davis letter, and denounced with a vim what he regarded a pernicious State Rights heresy. Now comes Bro. Marshall, the other high priest of the radical congregation in Jasper county, and declares that the opinions expressed therein, and denounced by the Message, clearly established its "bogosity;" that the the views of Davis and the ex-confederates are entirely at variance with those announced in the bogus document, and denounces the Message as a sort of a "damphool" "Nondescript" for being sucked in to "treating the forgery as a genuine letter."

The attitude of the ex-consul today toward the people of Rensselaer and Jasper county is savage in the extreme. His pretended estimate one year ago seems to have undergone a vast change. But the people are all right, and so far as Horace is concerned, he may rest assured there is no love lost.

Colonel Banes, President of the Philadelphia Brigade Association, in his welcome address to the Pickett Division, at the Gettysburg Reunion, greeted them in generous, true soldierly style, and in language becoming a man whose brave deeds are known to his countrymen. He said:

Fellow-citizens and members of Pickett's Division of the Army of Northern Virginia—An honorable and pleasing duty has been assigned to me by the Philadelphia Brigade of the Second Division, Second Corps, Army of the Potomac. This veteran brigade, composed of the Sixty-ninth, Seventy-first, Seventy-second and One Hundred and Sixth regiments, Pennsylvania volunteers, upon more than one occasion during the dark hours of the republic encountered your people in active warfare, and it fell to our lot to meet in hostile array and deadly conflict in what may be truly called the crisis of the battle of Gettysburg, within the sight of the masses of both armies on that memorable afternoon of July 3, 1863. The old issues are dead and new ones confront us. We, who have fought as the blue and the gray, can discuss the past, if need, in the light of the present, as travelers who, after perilous journeys and conflicts by the way, sit down on the mountain top and review the scenes through which they have passed, and the dangers of the road over which they have journeyed.

"We welcome you to this historic field and its memories with true soldierly greeting. In the performance of this duty we would fail to honorably acquit ourselves did we not announce to you that the spontaneous movement of the Philadelphia Brigade in the tender of this reception has the cordial and practical support of our citizens of all classes and pursuits of life. And now it remains for me to say to you, the men of Pickett's Division, by authority of this brigade association and its friends, that we desire that you will honor us, during your stay at Gettysburg, by becoming our guests. We welcome you because you were brave soldiers in war; we welcome you because you are true citizens in peace, and may our stay here be one of pleasure to each of us, and of fraternal greeting that shall guide us to higher resolves for the perpetuity of the Constitution and the Union, to the manly determination as citizens to meet conscientiously and in the fear of God the questions and issues of the hour, and to such an abiding faith in the magnificent destiny of the Republic as will lead each of us to trust that Almighty Being who spoke from the cloud and the pillar of fire to the leader of Israel, saying, 'Speak to the children of Israel that they go forward,' and who to-day is calling us by his providence to higher and nobler achievements in the cause of humanity and the government of the people."

To the Fairchilds', Tuttles' and James', the grand, patriotic and noble sentiments expressed above, coming from men whose patriotism, prowess and courage is recorded in history, must certainly be dumbfounding. The creatures who fail to realize that the war has been over for so these many years; who think none were "loaf" and brave but themselves, and are constantly "blowing their own horns," may stigmatize it as "gush," but it is such "gush" as reduces their pretensions and services to very circumscribed limits.

A Woman's Discovery.

Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lufz. Thus write W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C.—Get a free bottle at F. B. Meyer's Drug St. re.

Although no special arrangements had been made by our citizens for a celebration of the glorious 4th in Rensselaer, preferring rather not to intrude on the preparations of our sister towns, the day was not permitted to pass without recognition. It was ushered in by the ringing of bells, and quite a large number of people from the surrounding country assembled at this place, bringing their dinners with them. In the afternoon a well contested game of base ball, between the Rensselaer Blues and the Chicago Rockwells, was witnessed by a large crowd of spectators. The game resulted as follows:

One of the "Blues" says: A feature of the game was Latchford as second base. He seemed to be all over the field and on the base at the same time. He understands his business.

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ill., affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at F. B. Meyer's Drug Store.

THANKS!

To Citizens of Rensselaer: As members of the Rockwell Base Ball Club, and as men, we renew our thanks for your great kindness to ourselves and friends, hoping that some future day you will give us an opportunity to reciprocate.

ROCKWELL BASE BALL CLUB,
Per A. D. LATCHFORD, (Kelley)
Acting Secretary
Chicago, July 6th, 1887.

The Rensselaer Blues extend their sincere thanks to the merchants and others who contributed the funds necessary to secure the attendance here of the club from Chicago, July 4th.

DRS. STARKEY and Palens' advertisement of Compound Oxygen in this issue of this paper should be read by all of our readers. The cures which this treatment is effecting are almost miraculous. In the few years since its discovery they have treated in all parts of the world upwards of fifty thousand patients. Thousands of these have given testimonials that they are cured, and a large proportion of the others report great benefit from its use. Their offer to send a two hundred page book free, giving a history of the treatment, with a large number of testimonials, is a liberal one. Read the advertisement and send for the book now.
