

Jasper County

The Democratic Sentinel.

VOLUME XI

RENSSELAER, JASPER COUNTY, INDIANA. FRIDAY OCTOBER 14, 1887.

NUMBER 38

THE DEMOCRATIC SENTINEL.

DEMOCRATIC NEWSPAPER.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY,

—BY—

JAS. W. McEWEEN

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

.....$1.50
......75
......50

Advertising Rates.

Column, one year, $80.00 column, " 40.00
" " 20.00
" " 10.00 per cent. added to foregoing price if advertisements are set to occupy more than one column width.
Fractional parts of a year at equitable rates.
Business cards not exceeding 1 inch space, $5 a year; $3 for six months; $2 for three months.
All legal notices and advertisements at established rates.
Reading notices, first publication 10 cents per line; each publication thereafter 5 cents a line.
Yearly advertisements may be changed quarterly (once in three months) at the option of the advertiser, free of extra charge.
Advertisements for persons not residents of Jasper county, must be paid for in advance of first publication, when less than one-quarter column in size; and quarterly in advance when larger.

ALFRED McCoy, T. J. McCoy
E. L. Hollingsworth.

A. McCoy & Co., BANKERS

(Successors to A. McCoy & T. Thompson.) RENSSELAER, IND.

Do a general banking business. Exchange bought and sold. Certificates bearing interest issued. Collections made on all available points. Office same place as old firm of McCoy & Thompson April 2, 1886

MORDECAI F. CHILCOTE,
Attorney-at-Law
RENSSELAER, INDIANA

Practices in the Courts of Jasper and adjoining counties. Makes collections a specialty. Office on north side of Washington street, opposite Court House.

SIMON P. THOMPSON, DAVID J. THOMPSON Attorney-at-Law, Notary Public.
THOMPSON & BROTHER,
RENSSELAER, INDIANA
Practice in all the Courts.

ARION L. SPITLER, Collector and Abstractor.
We pay particular attention to paying tax-selling and leasing lands. V2448

W. H. H. GRAHAM,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,
RENSSELAER, INDIANA.
Money to loan on long time at low interest.
Sept. 10, '86.

JAMES W. DOUTHIT,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBLIC, Office up stairs, in Makeever's new building, Rensselaer, Ind.

EDWIN P. HAMMOND, WILLIAM B. AUSTIN, HAMMOND & AUSTIN,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,
RENSSELAER, IND.
Office on second floor of Leopold's Block, corner of Washington and Van Rensselaer streets.
William B. Austin purchases, sells and leases real estate, pays taxes and deals in negotiable instruments. may 27, '87.

WM. W. WATSON,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Office up Stairs, in Leopold's Bazar, RENSSELAER, IND.

W. W. HARTSELL, M. D.
HOMOEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN & SURGEON.
RENSSELAER, INDIANA.

Chronic Diseases a Specialty.
OFFICE, in Makeever's New Block. Residence at Makeever House.
July 11, 1884.

J. H. LOUGHRIDGE
Physician and Surgeon.
Office in the new Leopold Block, second floor, second door right-hand side of hall.

Ten per cent. interest will be added to all accounts running unsettled longer than three months. vini

DR. I. B. WASHBURN
Physician & Surgeon,
Rensselaer, Ind.

Calls promptly attended. Will give special attention to the treatment of Chronic Diseases.

CITIZENS' BANK,

RENSSELAER, IND.,
R. S. DWIGGINS, F. J. SEARS, VAL. SMITH, President, Vice-President, Cashier DOES A GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS: Certificates bearing interest issued; Exchange bought and sold; Money loaned on farms at low rates and on reasonable favorable terms.
April 8, 85

LAWRENCE, OSTROM & CO'S

Famous "Belle of Bourbon"

IS DEATH TO Malaria,
Chills and Fever,
Typhoid Fever,
Indigestion,
Dyspepsia,
Surgical
Fever,
Blood
Poisoning,

Consumption,
Sleeplessness
or Insomnia, and Dissimulation
of Food.
10 Years Old.
No Fusel O
Absolute
Purity

The Great Appetizer.

This will certify that I have examined the Sample of BELLE OF BOUR-BON WHISKY received from LAWRENCE, OSTROM & Co., and found the same to be perfectly free from Fusel Oil and all other deleterious substances, and strictly pure. I cheerfully recommend the same for Family and Medicinal purposes. J. P. BARNUM, M. D. Analytical Chemist, Louisville, Ky.

FOR SALE BY DRUGGISTS, WINE MERCHANTS, AND GROCERS EVERYWHERE.
PRICE, $1.25 PER BOTTLE.

If not found at the above, half-dozen bottles in plain boxes will be sent to any address in the United States on receipt of six dollars. Express paid to all points east of Missouri river.

Lawrence, Ostrom & Co.,

LOUISVILLE, KY.

N. Warner & Sons,

—DEALERS IN—

of all styles and sizes, for Wood or Coal;

FARM
MACHINERY,
FIELD AND GARDEN
SEEDS,

&c. &c., &c., &c., &c.

B. Keyes apers, Eowers and Binders, Decring Reapers, Mowers and Binders, Walter A. Wood Reapers, Mowers and Binders, Grand Detour Company's Plows, Cassidy Plows, Farmers' Friend Corn Planters, Coquillard Wagons, Best Wire Fencing, etc.

South Side Washington Street,
RENSSELAER, INDIANA

WHO FOR GOVERNOR IN 1888?

Kokomo Dispatch: One of the hopeful signs of the times political in Indiana is the multiplicity of candidates for the Gubernatorial nomination before the Democratic State convention of 1888.

This faith in Democratic success in the year of the great national contest means much for the party in power. It means that the Hoosier Democracy will be thoroughly united in the common cause of good government. It means that we will not, as in 1886, enter the contest divided and distrasted by factional fights in five of the thirteen Congressional districts of the State. It means a harmony of sentiment and a unison of hands that has never failed of success at the polls for fifteen years.

The party was never in finer fighting condition the year before a national campaign than it is today. All sectional rancors have been healed by mutual forbearance and concession. No jealousies rankle in the breasts of our leaders.
The rank and file—the boys in the trenches—are united and in splendid trim for the great engagements of 1888. Besides the community of local interests that abound in every county in the State, there are our Congressional, State and national tickets to be elected.— Above and beyond all this, Indiana is a Democratic State under equal advantages with the enemy. The drift, the per centage, the odds are with us always. With a fair State ticket and prudent management, Indiana is assuredly Democratic next year. These conclusions do not presuppose an easy victory.
The scales are so evenly balanced that we must expect a hard and stubborn fight. The enemy, though cut-numbered and out-generated, will give battle with all the energy of despair. But on an even plain the Democracy will win by a larger majority than usual.

On such a close margin, the Democracy can not afford many blunders. No ammunition should be wasted. The reserve should be held for the enemy at short range.
In the judgment of The Dispatch, no emergency confronts the party in Indiana in 1888. No talismanic name is the ultimatum of success.
We are in no wilderness and no Moses is required to lead the party to the Promised Land of glorious victory.

Therefore are we opposed to the dragooning of Senator Voorhees for Governor, as the Shelbyville Democrat urges should be done.
The Senator does not want the nomination, nor, indeed, would he fill the office if elected, if he consulted his own feelings in the matter. There is no doubt on this score, as the following extracts from a private letter to the editor of The Dispatch—in answer to one on this subject direct—will attest:

TERRE HAUTE,
September 21, 1887.

J. O. HENDERSON—Dear Sir:— Your kind favor of the 19th has been received and the contents carefully noted.

It has never for a moment entered my mind to be a candidate for Governor. Nothing could be further from my wishes or inclinations.

I would say in straight, direct terms that I would not accept a nomination for Governor, but for the fact that a man who has been honored as I have been has no right, even seemingly, to dictate to his party, and especially when no offer has been, or is likely to be made.

I wish you, however, as one of my most cherished friends, to speak, write, and act against all suggestions looking to my nomination.

What is dearer far to me than any office in the world is to have the approval of fair, just-minded people; and, while I can secure such approval as you express for what I have already done, it matters little to me when my labors close. All I desire for my epitaph when gone, is that I was true to my friends, true to my party, and consequently true to my country.

Very Faithfully Yours,
D. W. VOORHEES.

This letter though not intended for publication is given to the Democracy of the State because it so completely and frankly covers the question of Senator Voorhees' candidacy. It is in the highest sense delicate, modest, high-minded, and straight-forward. It is creditable to the Senator's heart and mind.
It is authentic and ought to be a finality on the subject. While The Dispatch would esteem it a work of love to assist in furthering any ambition that Senator Voorhees might have, it accepts his words as his desires on the Gubernatorial question.

Then as the field appears at this time—with Senator Voorhees out —there are a dozen or more names that would grace the head of the ticket and lead us on to certain victory in 1888.

Without committing The Dispatch to the candidacy of any man at this time, we shall name them as they are recalled to our mind:

There is Judge Niblack, of the Supreme bench, an ex-Representative in Congress, an able jurist, and a name once mentioned in connection with the highest office within the gift of the electors of the Republic.

Col. C. C. Matson, thrice a Representative in Congress, and one of the most promising young men in public life. A man of brains —with a brilliant record on the field and in civil life.

Hon. A. G. Smith, the plucky State Senator from the county of Jennings, who stood like a stone wall against the attempted usurpation of the Republicans in the last Legislature—whose courage and rock-ribbed Democracy secured to the State the fruits of their victory, the election of a Democratic United States Senator.

Gen. M. D. Manson, the hero of two wars, and the idol of the soldiers of Indiana—a man of affairs, whom the Democracy love to honor—as honest as the sun and as brave as a lion.

Hon. Robert T. Bell, an ex-State Senator from Allen county—adroit, polished, and a consummate dip-lomate.

Hon. W. S. Holman, "the watch dog of the treasury," whose name is a household word all over the Union. One of the most conspicuous members of Congress—the enemy of frauds, shams and jobs —the Cincinnati of the Hoosier State and a man of national reputation.

Hon. A. C. Downey, an able jurist, an ex-Supreme Judge, and a man of remarkable ability.

Hon. Joseph E. McDonald, an ex-United States Senator and big enough for President of the United States. A man beloved and honored wherever the name of Democracy is known.

Hon. W. R. Myers, ex-Representative in Congress and ex-Secretary of State. A man of fine social qualities with a fine record as a soldier and a civilian.

Hon. W. D. Bynum, a Representative in Congress, a big, brainy young Democrat—one of the ablest of the younger crop of Democrats in the State.

Hon. C. L. Jewett, ex-Speaker of the Lower House of the General Assembly, a fine parliamentarian, an eloquent orator, and one of the most brilliant young men in the State.

Doubtless other names have been mentioned of whom we have not heard. All of the above have been mentioned in connection with the Governorship—any one of whom could win success.

The Chicago Times: "The Republicans are 'beefing' and groaning wofully over the president's magnificent reception in the West, but they might as well make up their minds to the inevitable fact which it portends—his re-election by such a majority as was never seen before in a presidential election."