

In Brief, and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, too h food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

COURTESY, NOT ENDORSEMENT.

—An esteemed contemporary thinks that Mr. Carlisle was given the cold shoulder by Georgia Democrats because Mr. Randall was invited to open the fair at Atlanta. Isn't this inference rather attenuated? Mr. Randall has deserved all the consideration shown him at the South for his stalwart service in Congress in resisting tyrannical and unconstitutional reconstruction legislation. The people of that section will not turn their backs on a friend because he adheres to a political vagary which does not command their approval. His speech in favor of protection was not in the best taste, but it was as harmless as lollipop in the mouth of an infant.—Philadelphia Record.

A Letter of the Poet Keats.

In one of his letters to his sister he says, expressing a momentary high feeling: "Oh, there is nothing like fine weather, and health, and books, and a contented mind, and diligent habits of reading and thinking, and an amulet against the enemies, and please heaven, a little claret wine out of a cellar a mile deep—with a few, or a good many, ratafia cakes—a rocky basin to bathe in," and he enunciates much else, tapering off into a series of rollicking whims, and ending with about thirty-six lines of doggerel rhyme. But Keats always had a breezy way of rattling off his wishes and feelings in his correspondence, of which we will give but one more sample. It is from one of the letters to his sister written from Winchester. He says: "I should like now to promenade round your gardens (?), apple-tasting, pear-tasting, plum-judging, apricot-nibbling, peach-scrunching, nectarine-sucking, and melon-carving. I have also a great feeling for antiquated cherries, full of sugar-cracks—and a white currant tree, kept for company. I admire lolling on a lawn by a water-lilled pond, to eat white currants and see gold-fish, and go to the fair in the evening, if I'm good. There is not hope for that—one is sure to get in some mess before the evening."—Joel Benton, in the Manhattan.

Miss JALMY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. V. Parkison, of Pleasant Ridge, this county, died at Greensburg, Kansas, Wednesday evening of last week, in the 20th year of her age.

A few months since Miss Parkison went to Greensburg, to visit relatives, and recently was taken sick with malignant typhoid fever. In response to a telegram her parents reached her bedside in time to witness her departure.

Her remains were brought to this place last Saturday for interment, followed by a large number of relatives, and sympathizing friends and acquaintances.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the following extract from a letter to the Eldredge Manufacturing Co., Chicago, written by an English dealer in Sewing Machines:

Gents: I have telegraphed you this day to send on as quickly as possible 50 No. 2 tables and covers. I find I shall be out of these much sooner than the other styles. The stands and heads you can send at earliest convenience.

I am very much pleased to say that these last hundred machines are highly satisfactory. For finish, smoothness and easy running, I really believe they are unequalled by any other Sewing Machine selling in this country.

The machines require less preparation for delivery than any other machines I have handled during the whole course of my experience extending over 20 years.

Yours Truly,

THOS. RHODES.

Mrs. J. W. McEwen is agent for these machines in this county.—Call and see them before purchasing elsewhere.

A Woman's Discovery.

"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus write W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C.—Get a free bottle at F. B. Meyer's Drug Store.

THE owner of a pair of bright eyes says that the prettiest compliment she ever received came from a child of four years. The little fellow, after looking intently at her eyes a moment, inquired naively: "Are your eyes new ones?"

He who is great in little things can never be little in great things.

NOTICE OF ATTACHMENT.

James T. Eskridge } Before John Maguire, J. P.
vs. } Kankakee Township, Jas.
Mary Hawke, } per County, Indiana.

Whereas James T. Eskridge on the 10th day of October, 1887, filed a complaint against Mary Hawke for Fifty-one Dollars and fifty cents ($51.50), said Mary Hawke being a non-resident of Indiana, I issued at request of plaintiff an affidavit a summons, and writ of attachment against the property of said Mary Hawke returnable the 19th day of October, 1887. Summons returned "not found." Writ of attachment returned served upon the personal property of said Mary Hawke.

Therefore notice is hereby given to said Mary Hawke of the pendency of said suit to be tried before me at my office in Kankakee Township, Jasper county, Indiana, on the 8th day of March, 1888, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, and that unless the said Mary Hawke do and appear at that time, to defend the same, the matter will be heard and determined in her absence.

Dated this 20th day of October, 1887.
