

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 2 1887

Congress will convene next Monday.

Our neighbor is terribly worried over the "charity" record of President Cleveland. We suggest that it might afford him some relief to hunt up and dish out to his readers the donations for charitable purposes of Grant, Hayes, Garfield and Arthur.

The Indianapolis Journal, according to the Republican, declares New York off as "the pivotal state," and "Indiana may become so," that therefore the Republicans "MUST carry the latter." The Democracy of Indiana will have something to say as to that.

Would-be-Light-Gov. Robertson and late Republican Speaker Sayre are just now indulging in reminiscences of the past winter. Robertson believes he was "sold out by his friends," and Sayre insists that Robertson "lacked backbone, hoisted the flag of surrender," and is solely responsible for his failure.

A "Tax Payer," in the Republican, referring to the cost of the trial of Mrs. Rutherford, says:

"I believe in the punishment of criminals, but in this case justice was defeated and the county paid for it and more too."

According to his own showing considerable more was allowed to insure justice, in accordance with "Tax Payer's" idea of justice, than was allowed to the defense.

"The keeper of a low negro dive in the city of New York had $1,000 placed in his hands to buy votes with, at the late election, according to a reputable writer in the North American Review."—Rensselaer Republican.

By the way, negroes as a rule are republicans politically, being persistently impressed with the idea that to that party they owe all for their enfranchisement, it may properly and correctly be determined that the corruption fund of $1,000 was placed in the hands of the sable-hued friend of our neighbor for the purpose of securing a republican victory in the Democratic State of New York.

Indianapolis Sentinel: Once upon a time, a regular old Teuton was elected Justice of the Peace. A case came up for trial, wherein a man was charged with biting another man's nose off. The counsel for the defense proved that the unfortunate plaintiff bit his own nose off. The case being submitted to the court, the decision was: "All dings am possible mi' Got and the decision of dish Court be dot de plaintiff bit him's own nose off." That's what's the matter with Robertson, according to Sayre. He "abdicated his office, hence bit him's own nose off." Robertson denies it, and contends that Sayre or General Harrison bit off his nose. At any rate, Robertson knows his nose is gone.

Senator Farwell, of Illinois, says:

"The Republicans must have a Presidential candidate whom they will not have to defend and explain his conduct."

But can they find such a candidate for that high office? At the present time, as in the past, the prominent men of that party have been, and are now, more or less tainted with corruption—and the verdicts rendered by their own partisan congressional committees, in the past, immediately on his induction into office, Grant began to parcel out official positions to those who had contributed to his bank deposits, given him houses, horses, dogs, etc., and became to some extent mixed up with the gold, whiskey and other rings that thrived under his administration.

No sooner was Fraud Hayes installed in the White House than he bestowed positions of honor, trust and profit upon Black Republicans and white who, by forgery and perjury had made him the representative personation of Fraud triumphant!

Garfield had been as badly smirched with Credit Mobelier and other corruptions as Colfax. In the fraudulent seating of Hayes he arranged the testimony to be given by some of the witnesses, and then as a member of the House acted as a juror on that testimony. He truckled to Conkling for his support, and when elected persistently violated his pledges and mortally offended a stalwart of the stwarts—Guiteau.

Then Blaine as the candidate in 1884, confessedly so besmirched by his connection with corrupt rings, that in his correspondence he had the standing request, "burn this letter," and so intent was he to avoid exposure that he "down upon his knees before Mulligan" to avert it. He sued for his character, but withdrew the suit in disgust. Blaine won't do.

As Secretary of the Treasury, Sherman's transactions with the money kings might be scrutinized so closely as to produce damaging results. Not many years ago he was comparatively poor, now he is a millionaire. Sherman won't do. He might as well be relegated to the interesting society of the Lize Pinkton's.

Bob Lincoln won't do. The son of his father lacks requisite development immediately under his title.

And our Bennie Harrison won't do. The "grandson of his grandfather" is excessively overloaded with blue blood, and the only claim he presents is that he is the "grandson" of William Henry.

Among the December magazines, "Peterson" stands out prominently in its freshness and interest. It is really astonishing how bright and youthful this old favorite keeps; the only thing that reminds one of its age is the remembrance that it has been a welcome monthly guest since ones childhood; a periodical essentially for the family, possessing elements of interest for all, from the oldest to the youngest. This has been a year of exceptional interest and excellence; its engravings and illustrations have never been better, and, regarded from a literary point of view, we may assert that it has never before reached the same standard. It has given stories and serials from some of the most popular writers in America, and its prospectus for the forthcoming year is even richer in promise. Nearly a half-century of useful and successful progress has taught us to place entire confidence in this friend of countless households, and we look forward to its efforts in 1888 proving a complete triumph, both as a literary and illustrated magazine. The price is only Two Dollars per year, with large reductions when taken in clubs, and elegant premiums to those getting up clubs. Sample-copies free to those desiring to get up clubs. Address PETERSON'S MAGAZINE, 306 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

"EVERY LADY IN THE LAND" Ought to read GODDEY'S LADY'S Book for December. The year 1887 has been a great year with this popular magazine, and the closing number of the year is the best of all, both in its literary matter and its illustrations. This number opens with a very readable sketch of the editor, Mrs. Croly. A valuable assortment of Christmas reading follows, comprising everything from Christmas dinner to Christmas love stories. Fashions for the season have their ample share, with practical and tasteful illustrations. In poetry, home hints, correspondence and the miscellaneous reading which make this magazine so acceptable, there is a charming variety. For 1888 great inducements are offered, with wonderful things in premiums and other advantages. Our young folks should grasp the opportunity of making something out of clubs and premiums. The circulation of this favorite old monthly, already deservedly large, is rapidly increasing. It is pushing its way by the solid merit of the literary attractions offered. The Croly Publishing Co., Philadelphia, Pa., will promptly respond to all inquiries. Write at once.

There is much truth in the following, which we clip from an exchange: Never condemn your neighbors unheard, however many the accusations preferred against them; every story has two ways of being told, and justice requires that you should hear the defense as well as the accusation, and remember that the malignity of enemies may place you in the same position.

Give Them A Chance!

That is to say your lungs. Also your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boechee's German Syrup which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you you may depend upon this for certain

A Sound Legal Opinion.

E. Bainbridge Munday, Esq., County Atty., Clay Co., Tex., says: Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother was also very low with Malarial Fever and Jaundice, but was cured by timely use of this medicine. An satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life.

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: He positively believes he would have died, had it not been for Electric Bitters.

This great remedy will ward off, as well as cure all Malarial Diseases, and for all Kidney, Liver and Stomach Disorders stands unequalled. Price 50c. and $1. at F. B. Meyer's. 6

D. LANCELL'S ASTHMA AND CATARRH REMEDY.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS,

Having struggled 20 years between life and death with ASTHMA or PHthisis, treated by eminent physicians, and receiving no benefit, I was compelled during the last 5 years of my illness to sit on my chair day and night gasping for breath. I fortunately found this WONDERFUL CURE FOR ASTHMA AND CATARRH, warranted to relieve the most stubborn case of ASTHMA IN FIVE MINUTES so that the patient can lie down to rest and sleep comfortably. E. M. Carson, A. M., Warren, Kan., writes: "Was treated by eminent physicians of this country and Germany; tried the climate of different states; nothing afforded relief like your preparation."

B. Phelps, P. M., Griggs, Ohio, writes: "Suffered with Asthma 40 years. Your medicine in 3 minutes does more for me than the most eminent physician did for me in three years."

H. C. Plimpton, Joliet, Ill., writes: "Send Catarrh Remedy at once. Cannot get along without it. I find it to be the most valuable medicine I have ever tried."
