

In Brief, and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disorders of liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, too rich food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this bad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember: No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

He Wanted a Chance.

Husband—"Do you know, my dear, that the men would be happier if women would follow some of the customs of the Japanese?"

Wife—"Why, you horrid thing! You wouldn't want me to blacken my teeth, would you?"

Husband—"No; but there is one thing the Japanese women do which, if you followed, might give me a chance to look in the mirror occasionally."

Wife—"What on earth can that be?" Husband—"They dress their hair only once in four days, darling."—New York Journal.

The ruin of some men dates from some idle hour. Occupation is an armor to the soul.

Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems at first, only a cold. Do not permit any dealer impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived, but insist upon getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all Throat, Lung and Chest affections. Trial bottle free at F. B. Meyer's Drug Store. Large Bottles $1.

The Great Mexican Cathedral.

The cathedral, rising conspicuously above all the buildings of the city, is of great size, and possesses considerable architectural elegance, the facade, in particular, being elaborately decorated with stucco work. The design is Moorish, and the bell towers, from which come a constant clanging of old Spanish brass, command an extended view of the city, the lakes, and the distant mountains. The interior of the spacious house, which was erected by the Spaniards, contains many rare ornaments, and the nave is surmounted by a vaulted roof, supported by hand-carved beams and pillars, among which hover somber shadows. At one time, that during the reign of the Spaniards, the altar was laden with solid objects of gold and silver and precious stones, but to-day it has lost all, or nearly all, of these, and is covered with tawdry images and imitation ornaments, while there is everywhere apparent the extreme ego of the building. Entering the nave at almost any hour of the day, I have never failed to find odd groups of Mexicans and Indians telling their beads and lifting their prayers, while at regular mass the cold stone floor is covered with devout worshippers, and the place is filled with the whispering of those who pray. And what a heterogeneous crowd one sees. The poor and the rich, the hungry and the well-fed, the half-naked and those clothed in silks, are all together. Here an Indian, kneeling by his tattered sombrero, and with his heavy load near by, prays with his soul upon his lips; there a dimpled senorita, demure but conscious, reads from her gilt-edged book. Incense odors fill the air, the monotonous chanting of the priests are heard, and silvery-toned bells ring out the holy commands of the church, and send the worshippers to crossing themselves and bowing in holy penitence. Set into one of the outer walls of the cathedral is the sacrificial or calendar stone of the Aztecs, hewn out of black porous lava and covered with hieroglyphics, reminding, so it always seems to me, the ignorant Indians who sell their bits of pottery near by of the greatness of their forefathers, who had their palaces and temples in the square which is now the busy center of a great city. Juarez was an Indian, but he became the Lincoln of Mexico, and in good time the other descendants of Montezuma may yet regain their old-time power.—City of Mexico Cor. San Francisco Chronicle.

HERALD AND PRESBYTER,

170 E. 12th Street, Cincinnati, O.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the following extract from a letter to the Eldredge Manufacturing Co., Chicago, written by an English dealer in Sewing Machines:

Gents: I have telegraphed you this day to send on as quick as possible 50 No. 2 tables and covers. I find I shall be out of these much sooner than the other styles. The stands and heads you can send at earliest convenience.

I am very much pleased to say that these last hundred machines are highly satisfactory. For finish, smoothness and easy running, I really believe they are unequalled by any other Sewing Machine selling in this country.

The machines require less preparation for delivery than any other machines I have handled during the whole course of my experience extending over 20 years.

Yours Truly,

THOS. RHODES.

Mrs. J. W. McEwen is agent for these machines in this county.—Call and see them before purchasing elsewhere.

A Woman's Discovery.

"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus write W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C.—Get a free bottle at F. B. Meyer's Drug Store.

American Cooks and Cooking.

From the dreadful corned beef and cabbage and the fearful fishballs of crude American cookery, the family of Delmonico has, by degrees, led the American public to the consideration of higher things. The favorite dishes of the great republic have been concentrated in New York, and recent arrivals have been hospitably challenged to compare anything in the old world with them. Politeness prevents such comparisons, which would hardly be in favor of either hemisphere. In fish and game, despite its wide area of river and prairie, America can in no way compare with the raw products of this country. But it has its specialties. The oysters of Blue Point and Shrewsbury River may not be denied, any more than the canvas-back nourished on the marshes of the Potomac, the terrapin captured on the shore of the Delaware, the snapping turtle from the far West, the gumbo soup of New Orleans, or the pampango fish which rejoices the Mexican Gulf. What the Delmonicos have done is to bring the enjoyments of the two hemispheres into combination. They have known how to make the clams, the oysters, the sheephead, and other strange fishes familiar to the great army of gastronomists who reach Manhattan Island.—London Daily News.

NOTICE OF ATTACHMENT.

James T. Eskridge, Belore John Maguire, J. P. vs. Mary Hawhe, Jasper County, Ind. Whereas James T. Eskridge on the 10th day of October, 1887, filed a complaint against Mary Hawhe for Fifty-one Dollars and fifty cents ($51.50), said Mary Hawhe being a non-resident of Indiana, I issued at request of plaintiff an affidavit a summons, and writ of attachment against the property of said Mary Hawhe returnable the 19th day of October, 1887. Summons returned "not found." Writ of attachment returned served upon the personal property of said Mary Hawhe. Therefore notice is hereby given to said Mary Hawhe of the pendency of said suit to be tried before me at my office in Kankakee Township, Jasper County, Indiana, on the 8th day of March, 1888, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, and that unless the said Mary Hawhe do and appear at that time, to defend the same, the matter will be heard and determined in her absence. Dated this 20th day of October, 1887. JOHN MCGUIRE, Justice, October 22, 1887.

DRS. STABKEY and Palens' advertisement of Compound Oxygen in this issue of this paper should be read by all of our readers. The cures which this treatment is effecting are almost miraculous. In the few years since its discovery they have treated in all parts of the world upwards of fifty thousand patients. Thousands of these have given testimonials that they are cured, and a large proportion of the others report great benefit from its use. Their offer to send a two hundred page book free, giving a history of the treatment, with a large number of testimonials, is a liberal one. Read the advertisement and send for the book now.
