FRIDAY DECEMBER 16 1887

Entered at the post office at Rensselaer, Ind.
as second-class matter.

Tariff Reform! regardless of false alarms of Republicans who cry "pauper labor"

Railroads will run trains at reduced rates to those attending the Democratic Rally at Indianapolis, January 11th, 1888.

The Rensselaer Republican presumes to read the Indianapolis News, Chicago Tribune, and other papers out of the Republican party because of their advocacy of tariff reform.

The men of Chicago have always been noted for their pluck. It is said that in order to have the next national republican convention held in that city, the promised the national committee to pay the board and railroad fare of all the delegates. This would cost them, probably, $25,000.

Remember the call for the Democratic Rally at Indianapolis, Jan. 11, 1888. Gov. Hill, of New York, Senator Thurman, of Ohio, and other Democrats of national reputation, are expected to be present. On that occasion the necessary steps will be taken for thorough organization of the Democracy in every county in the State. Let Jasper county be fully represented.

The high-tax surplus-corruption folks are going to have a hard time. In 1882 President Arthur said to Congress:

I recommend an enlargement of the free list so as to include within it the numerous articles which yield inconsiderable revenue; a simplification of the complex and inconsistent schedule of duties upon certain manufactures, cotton, iron and steel, and a substantial reduction of the duties upon these articles, and upon sugar, molasses, silk, wool and woolen goods.

And Secretary Folger in his report said:

It is believed that the time has arrived when a reduction of duties on nearly all the articles in our tariff is demanded and feasible.

It will probably be found that in general the reduction can chiefly be made on the raw material, or consumer manufactures, rather than those upon which a greater amount of labor has been bestowed.

And the Tariff Commission appointed by President Arthur and made up of high tariff Republicans whose mission was plainly to find an excuse for not reducing the tariff were so beaten down by the force of the "irresistible economies," that they reported, recommending a reduction of from 20 to 25 per cent., saying among other things:

A substantial reduction of the tariff duties is demanded, not by a mere indiscriminate popular clamor, but by the best conservative opinion of the country, including that which has in former times been most strenuous for the preservation of our national industrial defenses. Such a reduction of the existing tariff the Commission regards not only as a due recognition of public sentiment and a measure of justice to consumers, but one conducive to the general industrial prosperity, and which, though it may be temporarily inconvenient, will be ultimately beneficial to the special interests affected by such reduction.

Neither Cleveland nor his Secretary of the Treasury has recommended no more than Arthur, and his Secretary did, and which the Republican high tariff commission urged.—Indianapolis News, Republic n.

THE PRESIDENT'S POSITION.

A QUESTION OF THE PROTECTED INDUSTRY AGAINST MONOPOLY.

[Philadelphia Times, Rep.]

The new tariff issue presented by the President is one that the people will be much more willing to understand than will party leaders. It raises in the clearest form—so clear that the wayfaring man can not misunderstand it—the question of affording the amplest protection to the wages of labor while enlarging industry by cheapening the necessities of life. It is at war with our present system only so far as it antagonizes the oppressive protection of monopoly that is now developing in great trusts and combinations to destroy industrial enterprise and needlessly tax the articles most consumed by labor. It is not in any sense the issue of protection or free trade; it is the issue of the protected industry of field, of forest, of factory and of mine, against business centralization and monopoly which have been bred into gigantic proportions by the prostitution of protection; and that issue is now one that is studied in every hamlet in the land.

The issue is precipitated by a grave condition into which a large surplus revenue has plunged the country, and it is not a question of theory, either practical or ideal. It is a question of fact which must be met, and met heroically to preserve business tranquility and safety. It does not involve the semblance of trade; it does not involve question of protection; for when revenues must be reduced on products of competitive foreign labor, any protection below the just line of protection, must increase revenues; and the only feature of the revision that is an absolute necessity, that reaches the question of protection is in the enlargement of the free list to embrace some articles which are already large industries in our own country and unable to compete with foreign competitive products. But with an admittedly protective

House and Senate, the country has nothing to fear from any enlargement of the free list that shall be accepted in tariff revision.

Theory of the Coal Barons.

Newark (N. J.) News: The coal operators have forced up the price of coal about $1.55 a ton, but are still unable to afford an advance of 3½ cents per ton to the miners in the Lehigh district.

The Pennsylvania theory of "protection to native industry" in that section seems to take the shape of protecting the families of the unemployed against the evils of gluttony at Christmas time.

The coal barons are determined that the families of laboring men shall neither over-eat nor be over-heated this winter.

W. P. Hopkins, deaf mute, is canvassing for subscriptions to be applied on a monument to be erected to the memory of Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet, pioneer in the work of educating the deaf and dumb in this country. The monument will be located in Washington.

Old Clocks.

The old brass clocks went only three hours, and were set in motion by a weight attached to a chain which passed over a sheave having spikes in the groove, which caught in the links of the chain and required to be drawn up every day. On the introduction of the long pendulum, clocks seemed to have assumed a different character. Catches were substituted for the chain, and barrels were introduced on which the catch was wound up, and a greater length of line being employed, clocks were made to go for eight days instead of thirty hours, and a chime of bells playing every quarter of an hour was often added; the weights and long pendulum hung down, and, as there was danger of their action being interfered with, tall wooden cases were made to protect them. This was the origin of the tall, upright clock cases, which were often made of ornamental woods and enriched with fine marquetry. The earlier cases were made of oak and walnut, the mahogany cases being of the following century, when that word was introduced.

Give Them A Chance!

That is to say your lungs. Also your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot help do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boechee's German Syrup which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you may depend upon this for certain

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: "H. positively believe he would have died, had it not been for Electric Bitters."

This great remedy will ward off, as well as cure all Malaria Diseases, and for all Kidney, Liver and Stomach Disorders stands unequalled.—Price 50c. and $1. at F. B. Meyer's. 6
