

SPRING DEBILITY.

The Best Spring Medicine Ever Discovered.

Every one needs a spring tonic—a remedy which will strengthen and invigorate the system and tone up the action of all the organs. The spring is the time above all others for the sick to get well; it is the time for the comparatively weak to keep in good health by the use of a judiciously selected spring medicine.

With the advent of spring comes malaria, nervousness and debility. A weak and tired feeling, if neglected, always results in nervous and physical exhaustion. Cure these diseases, or guard against them by the use of Dr. Greene's Nervine Tonic, which is the greatest and best of all spring medicines. This wonderful remedy is recommended by physicians, druggists and the people everywhere as being the most marvelous in its effects of any known medicine. If you are nervous, irritable, depressed, and cannot sleep nights, use this remedy by all means, and your nerves will become strong and steady, and your sleep calm, natural and refreshing. If you wake tired mornings, with dull head, bad taste in the mouth, no appetite for breakfast, and feel weak, languid and exhausted, this remarkable remedy will clear your head, give you an appetite, and restore your strength, vigor and energies. If you have dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, constipation, kidney complaint, pain and weakness in the back, this remedy will give you sure relief and cure. It is a perfect specific for nervous debility, neuritis, nervous or sick headache, heart disease, palpitation, paralysis, numbness, trembling and all nervous diseases.

Use this remedy and you will never regret it. It is purely vegetable, and its wonderful effects afford a safe, sure and positive cure. Do not be persuaded to take anything else, for this remedy has no equal. It is the greatest medical discovery of the age. All druggists keep it. Price $1 per bottle. If your druggist does not have it he will get it for you. Its discoverer, Dr. Greene, 35 West Fourteenth street, New York, the great specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

An Erroneous Idea About Rattlesnakes.

As to the cussedness of the rattlesnake I would like to correct a very common error. These otherwise dangerous reptiles always give warning, and never bite unless roughly trod upon, or incautiously caught with the hand. On a cold, rainy, or damp day, when partially torpid, they give no alarm, and will not bite under any circumstances. A man may take them up and fold them around his neck without harm. The same may be done at other times, but the performer must be extremely cautious. He may touch any part of the snake's body, except the tail or rattles. The rattler has a well-known, but unwritten law: "Thou shalt not suffer any man to touch thy tail, or thy rattles, on pain of death to the offender." Observing this law, an expert may handle one of these reptile monsters almost any time with absolute impunity. It is needless to say, however, that I do not recommend such performance as an every-day exercise. Even an unloaded gun will sometimes go off unexpectedly. —Philadelphia Press.

Soldiering in Burmah.

Shortly after my enlistment our regiment was ordered to Burmah to subdue the natives. In addition to the English troops we had natives as well. The hostile natives were known as dacots, and we had some very lively skirmishes with them. A friendly Buddhist priest informed us one night of the location of an enemy's camp, and a detachment was sent out to capture it. We surrounded them and they tried to fight their way out, and one big fellow came within three inches of splitting my head with his knife. We captured about thirty of them. Another time we attacked a little army of them who had taken up a position at the summit of a steep hill. They rolled big boulders down upon us, and I barely escaped one that must have weighed about ten tons. —Philadelphia Record.

Prudence! Prudence!

In medication, as in sight else, prudence should be our guide. Yet thousands cast it to the winds. Every new nostrum finds its patrons, the medical empirics of every false school have their gulls. Every change in the gamut of humbug is rung successfully—for a time at least—the notes being furnished by the credulous. In happy contrast to the many advertised impostures of the day stands Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, now in its third decade of popularity, approved and recommended by physicians, indorsed by the press of many lands, sought and prized by invalids everywhere. It is an ascertained specific for and preventive of malarial diseases, chronic indigestion, liver complaint, and constipation, checks the growth of rheumatism and neuralgia, is a peerless invigorant and useful diuretic. Nervous people benefit by it.

First Step in Criticism.

Two married ladies were talking in a street car. One was recounting the wonderful sayings of her precocious children. "I was traveling in the West," said one, "accompanied by my six-year-old Freddie. We stopped at a railroad eating-house, where a colored man walked up and down pounding a gong. Fred listened awhile, and with a North-Side look of contempt, said: 'Maybe that feller thinks he's playing a tune, but he isn't.'"—Chicago Tribune.

How Intelligent Women Decide.

When the question has to be met as to what is the best course to adopt to secure a safe, safe and agreeable remedy for those organic diseases and weaknesses which afflict the female sex, there is but one wise decision, viz., a course of self-treatment with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is an unfailing specific for periodical pains, misplacement, internal inflammation, and all functional disorders that render the lives of so many women miserable and joyless. They who try it, praise it. Of druggists.

ADRIAN, Mich., Sept 1, 1893. Messrs. Wagner & Sheppard: Both myself and husband are using that medicine, "Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup," which you advised us to try. I used it for neuralgia and my husband took it for rheumatism. It has entirely cured both of us, so that we are now able to do our farm work and are in the best of health. We have recommended it to our neighbors, and they are using it with equally good results. It is one of the greatest remedies for the blood in the world, and for a lost appetite or a disordered stomach we don't believe there is anything equal to it. Mrs. E. A. KNOWLES.

SOAP PEDDLERS IN WALTHAM.

A Sharp Trick Played by a Crowd of Itinerant Venders.

Two or three days ago Chief of Police Burleigh, of Waltham, learned that six or seven strangers were in the city peddling what purported to be Pearline, and that in connection therewith they were perpetrating what was practically a fraud. It seems that they had two teams and were canvassing the town very thoroughly. Going from house to house, they would offer packages of what they called Pearline, although in order to save themselves from the grip of the law, they had labeled them "Perline." With every eight packages, which they sold for $1, they gave eight bars of soap. The Chief encountered them on the street, and two of the men—one on each team—who seemed to have the handling of the business gave their names as Isaac G. Worcester and Hiram Balding. They claimed, in response to the charge that they were peddling without a license, that they were selling goods of their own manufacture and that they were giving the soap away. Before the case could be presented to Judge Luce and a warrant obtained they had all "skipped" the town, and numerous families are now bewailing the fact that they have a lot of worthless powder and light bars of poor soap, worth, all told, less than 25 cents, to show for a good dollar. The names of the party, as registered at the Prospect House, where they stopped while in Waltham, are E. H. Barnes, John Goodwin, C. D. Osgood, C. A. Frost, J. Malcolm, H. Carroll, and C. H. Haley.—Boston Herald.

Makes the Weak Strong

If you feel tired, weak, worn out, or run down from hard work, by impoverished condition of the blood or low state of the system, you should take Hood's Sarsaparilla. The peculiar toning, purifying, and vitalizing qualities of this successful medicine are soon felt throughout the entire system, expelling disease, and giving quick, healthy action to every organ. It tones the stomach, creates an appetite, and regulates the liver and kidneys. Thousands who have taken it with benefit testify that Hood's Sarsaparilla "makes the weak strong."

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I have taken not quite a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and must say it is one of the best medicines for giving an appetite, purifying the blood, and regulating the digestive organs that I ever heard of. It did me a great deal of good." Mrs. N. A. STANLEY, Canastota, N. Y.

"I took Hood's Sarsaparilla for loss of appetite, dyspepsia, and general languor. It did me a vast amount of good, and I have no hesitancy in recommending it." J. W. WILLEFORD, Quincy, Ill.

"A year ago I suffered from indigestion, had terrible headaches, very little appetite—in fact, seemed completely broken down. On taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I began to improve, and now I have a good appetite, and my health is excellent compared to what it was. I am better in spirits, am not troubled with cold feet or hands, and am entirely cured of indigestion." MINNIE MANNING, Newburgh, Orange County, N. Y.
