

What Primitive Man Ate.

Primitive man, wherever he was first cast, whether in one center or in more than one, must of necessity, have found his food in the plant world. We cannot imagine him commencing his career learned in the arts of hunting, killing, and cooking the lower animals for food. Many infer from this circumstance that the argument in favor of the vegetarian practice is copied direct from nature, signed and delivered by her. Not quite so fast. There is one interposing barrier to the free acceptance of vegetarian deed and act of conveyance of food from nature to man. Nature herself, of her own right royal will, makes for animals, herbivorous and carnivorous, one distinctive animal food; a secretion from the living animal organism, a fluid which is a standard food, meat and drink in one, the fluid known under the name of milk. Against absolute vegetarianism, then, we may fairly set up one exception derived from nature as the unerring guide. On observing the habits of animals we discover another natural fact. We find that animals of quite different natures, in respect to primitive selection of food, possess the power of changing their modes of feeding, and of passing over, as it were, from one class to another. This change is distinct but limited, and we must accept it with all its limitation on the one side and with all its limitation on the other. The fruit-eating ape can be taught under privation to subsist on animal diet; a dog can, I believe, be taught to subsist on vegetable diet. But it would be as impossible to teach a sheep to eat flesh as it would be to make a lion feed on grass.—Dr. Richardson, in Longman's Magazine.

I have used ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS in my family for the past five years, and can truthfully say they are a valuable remedy and effect great cures. I would not be without them. I have in several instances given some to friends suffering with weak and lame backs, and they have invariably afforded certain and speedy relief. They cannot be too highly commended.

Eaters of Quinine.

The quinine habit is gaining strength every day. Dizziness, that you hear innumerable people complaining of in these days, can be traced to excess in the use of quinine. The good effects, that it is nearly always certain of, are lost by excessive doses. Too much quinine will also produce congestion of the ear and vibration of the auditory nerve. The growing habit of taking quinine for neuralgia and other like ailments, without consulting a physician, is altogether reprehensible, and may lead to very serious results. Many cases of deafness are caused by overdoses and long-continued use of the drug.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A "Put and Call."

This is a funny phrase to the uninitiated, but all the brokers understand it. They use it when a person gives a certain per cent. for the option of buying or selling stock on a fixed day, at a price stated on the day the option is given. It is often a serious operation to the dealer; but there is a more serious "put and call" than this: when you are "put" to bed with a severe cold and your friends "call" a physician. Avoid all this by keeping in the house Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The great cure for pulmonary and blood diseases. Its action is marvelous. It cures the worst cough, whether acute, lingering, or chronic. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Short Breath, Consumption, Night Sweats, and kindred affections it surpasses all other medicines.

Little Louise.

A teacher in one of our public schools had been much annoyed by truancy. The following is a note brought by one of her pupils after two weeks' absence: "Louisa was absent Monday, please excuse her." "Louisa was absent Tuesday, she had a sore throat." "Louisa was absent Wednesday, she had a sore throat." "Louisa was absent Thursday, she had a sore throat." "Louisa was absent Friday, she had a sore throat." "Read this over again for the next week."—Harper's Bazar.

BOOM! BOOM!

Not Only from the Cannon's Mouth, but in Human Actions.

If there was ever a city fairly drenched, and soaked, in fact, with enthusiasm, that one is the Queen City of the West, or, as laid down on the maps, Cincinnati, O. The fact of the matter is, that at the present time the eyes of the world are directed upon that locality, as that is the site selected for the principal demonstration of the people of the Northwest commemorative of the settlement of the country in 1783. Within a hundred years the nature of the country has changed from untamed wilderness to that of the highest stage of civilization, and the grand Centennial Exposition is given at that place by the descendants of the noble men and women who effected that change, in honor of the labors and sacrifices of those who have gone before. Magnificent as the Cincinnati Exposition was when comparatively local interests were concerned, they have been left in the shade by this one, to whose wheels the whole United States as a body has responded with a shoulder, and the one who can say in after years that he did not visit it will be looked upon as having missed his opportunity.

Among the policy-holders of a German life insurance company, the death-rate of medical men in 1887 was 11.53 per cent. above the total average. This was due to diseases of the respiratory organs, consumption, and infectious diseases. There was only one case of post-mortem poisoning out of 1,052 deaths.—Arkansas Traveler.

Circulation of the Blood.

Before William Harvey discovered the circulation of the blood there was little known of its compounds or purpose. That there was such a fluid in the human system everybody knew, for it was made to flow by ruthless violence from the day that Cain tapped his brother on the head with a base-ball club. To spill blood was the chief occupation of the human race for many centuries, and he was considered the greatest man who succeeded in spilling the greatest quantity. In fact, few seemed to know that blood was designed for any other purpose except to spill. No one suspected that it had any circulation to speak of until Harvey made the discovery. He not only advertised its immense circulation, but swore to it before a Justice of the Peace, and this custom, originating with Harvey, has been copied by modern newspapers quite generally. Every well equipped and properly conducted newspaper employs a Harvey to swear to its circulation.—Texas Siftings.

When They Leave Us.

The exodus of our bodily troubles is doubly welcome if their departure is unaccompanied by pain. It is the fault of the best of commendable cathartics, which act solely upon the bowels, that in operating they gripe and weaken these organs. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters produce a laxative effect, but neither cause pain nor weaken the abdominal region or the stomach. This is pre-eminently the alternative which a constipated, bilious or dyspeptic person should use, since a resort to it involves no bodily discomfort nor produces a violent reaction. The liver is aroused, the stomach benefited, and the habit of body speedily and permanently improved by it. Fever and ague, rheumatism and kidney troubles are among the maladies for which recorded experience has proved it to be efficacious. It is a wholesome appetizer, and a far more reliable tranquilizer of the nerves than stomach-disturbing narcotics and sedatives.

Motion Ruled Out.

"Well," said the court reporter to his new assistant, "anything going on in court to-day?" "Nothing much," said the new assistant. "Business must be dull?" "Very dull." "But were no motions made?" "One." "Well, did the Judge entertain it?" "No; ruled it out." "Ruled out a motion! What was it?" "One lawyer made a motion to throw an ink bottle at the head of another lawyer. Judge said it should not come before him, but said he would appoint two masters and a referee, and let the case be decided at the fair grounds. Case was taken under advisement by friends."—New Orleans Picayune.

Catarrh is not simply an inconvenience, unpleasant to the sufferer and disgusting to others—it is an advanced outpost of approaching disease of worse type. Do not neglect its warning; it brings deadly evils in its train. Before it is too late, use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It reaches the seat of the ailment, and is the only thing that will. You may dose yourself with quack medicines till it is too late—till the streamlet becomes a resistless torrent. It is the matured invention of a scientific physician. One Fact

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives it strength to every part of the system. If you need a good blood purifier, tonic, or appetizer, try Hood's Sarsaparilla. It will do you good.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.
THE WORLD-FAMED LIVER, BLOOD AND LUNG REMEDY.

WHAT AILS YOU?

[COPYRIGHT, 1887.]

ARE YOU SICK?

Do you feel dull, languid, low-spirited, lifeless, and indescriminably miserable, both physically and mentally? experience a sense of fullness or bloatedness, or of "goneness," or emptiness of stomach in the morning, tongue coated, bitter or bad taste in mouth, irregular appetite, dizziness, frequent headaches, blurred eyesight, "floating specks" before the eyes, nervous prostration or exhaustion, irritability of temper, hot flushes, alternating with chilly sensations, sharp, biting, transient pains here and there, cold feet, drowsiness after meals, wakefulness, or disturbed and unrefreshing sleep, constant, bilious attack.

DAVID G. LOWE, Esq., of St. Apathe, Manitoba, Canada, says: "Being troubled with bilious attack, fluttering of the heart, poor rest at night, etc., I commenced the use of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pellets,' and derived the very highest benefit therefrom."

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

Thoroughly cleanses the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, fair skin, buoyant spirits, and bodily health and vigor will be established.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY cures all a medicine possessing the power to cure such inveterate blood and skin diseases as the following testimonial portrays, must certainly be credited with possessing properties capable of curing any and all skin and blood diseases, for none are more obstinate or difficult of cure than Salt-rheum.

SALT-RHEUM AND RHEUMATISM.

"COLUMBUS, OHIO, Aug. 18th, 1887.

WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 603 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.:

Gentlemen—For several years I have felt it to be my duty to give to you the facts in relation to the complete cure of a most aggravated case of salt-rheum, by the use of your Golden Medical Discovery. An elderly lady had been a great sufferer from salt-rheum for upwards of forty years. The disease was most distressing in her hands, causing the skin to crack open on the inside of the fingers at the joints and between the fingers. She was obliged to protect the raw places by means of adhesive plaster, salves, ointments and bandages, and during the winter months had to have her hands dressed daily. The pain was quite severe at times and her general health was badly affected, paving the way for other diseases to creep in. Catarrh and rheumatism caused a great deal of suffering in addition to the salt-rheum. She had used faithfully, and with the most commendable perseverance, all the remedies prescribed by her physicians, but without obtaining relief. She afterwards began treating herself by drinking tea made from blood-purifying roots and herbs. She continued this for several years but derived no benefit. Finally, about ten years ago, I claimed to read the one of Dr. Pierce's small pamphlets setting forth the merits of his 'Golden Medical Discovery' and other medicines. The name struck my fancy, and seeing that it was essentially a blood-purifier, I immediately recommended it to the old lady who had been so long a sufferer from salt-rheum. She commenced taking it at once, and took one bottle, but seemed to be no better. However, I realized that it would take time for any medicine to effect a change for the better, and encouraged her to continue. She then purchased a half-a-dozen bottles, and before these had all been used she began to notice an improvement. After taking about a dozen bottles she was entirely cured. Her hands were perfectly well and as smooth and healthy as a child's. Her general health was also greatly improved; the rheumatism entirely left her, and the catarrh was almost cured, so that it ceased to be much annoyance. She has enjoyed excellent health from that day to this, and has had no return of either salt-rheum or rheumatism. The 'Discovery' seems to have entirely eradicated the salt-rheum from her system. She is now over eighty years old, and very healthy for one of such extreme age.

I have written this letter, of which you can make any use you see fit, hoping that some sufferer from salt-rheum might chance to read it and obtain relief by using your 'Golden Medical Discovery'—for 'Golden' it is in its curative properties, and as much above the multitude of nostrums and so-called 'patent medicines,' so zealously flaunted before the public, as gold is above the baser metals.

Respectfully yours,
F. W. WHEELER, 182 21st St.
