DEATH OF GEN. SHERIDAN.

The End Came Unexpectedly—Heart Trouble the Cause.

Gen. Sheridan is dead. The end came suddenly and unexpectedly at Nonquitt, Mass., from heart trouble. The weather was warmer than usual, and the General was at times restless, but seemed generally bright and cheerful. Mrs. Sheridan, the Sisters Maban and Justinian, and the faithful body-servant were at his bedside during his dying hour. His death was painless, he having gradually sank into an unconscious state. The following official bulletin has been issued:

The immediate cause of Gen. Sheridan's death was heart failure. The remote cause was disease of the mitral and aortic valves, the existence of which was known to his physicians, to himself, and to his family in November of last year. The complications which occurred were nervous exhaustion, pneumonia, pulmonary eczema, anasarca and hemorrhages. The last day of his life was somewhat restless, but not more so than he had been several times since his arrival at Nonquitt. Symptoms of heart failure suddenly appeared, and the remedies which had hitherto been successful were vigorously applied, but proved ineffectual, and he sank rapidly, dying painlessly.

The news of his death was received with deep expressions of sorrow all over the land. The General leaves a wife and four small children—three girls and one boy. He had made his will.

FIRE'S FRIGHTFUL FURY.

Awful Loss of Life in a Tenement Crowded with Polish Tailors, Families and Workmen.

The bursting of a kerosene lamp in a large tenement house in New York City caused a conflagration of a dreadful nature. Seventeen people were roasted, six others so severely burned that they will die, and many more received serious injuries. The house was a ramshackle affair hidden in the middle of the block, the only entrance to it being a narrow alleyway from the Bowery. In front of it was a four-story building. Adjoining this is Harry Miner's People's Theater. In the rear of the burned building were two houses, hemming it completely in. In this caged-in building lived about one hundred and fifty people. Each of the six floors was occupied by a single family, the head of which was a tailor, who made clothing for the cheap wholesale houses, and employed from fifteen to twenty men, women, and children, in addition to his own family. They were all Polish Jews, and employers and employed worked, ate, and slept in the crowded rooms of the dingy tenement. The flames gained such rapid headway that escape was almost impossible, and the most appalling scenes followed, the crackling of the flames mingling with the wild shrieks of despair of the unfortunates. Many of the frightened inmates rushed down through the flames, and escaped to the narrow court yard, with clothes ablaze and hands and bodies burned. The picture of charred remains of men, women, and children was such as to beggar description. The financial loss is placed at $25,000.

BUSINESS SITUATION IMPROVING.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of the Situation in Trade.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s business review for the past week says:

Business is a little better, and in aggregate volume is now fully equal to that of last year at this date. The iron and woolen trades have materially decreased, but business in groceries, lumber and farm products generally is large. Trade has improved in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Cleveland, Detroit, St. Paul, Nashville, and Galveston, and is excellent in Omaha. In Detroit and St. Paul the lumber trade is especially mentioned as excellent, and in Pittsburgh and Nashville larger transactions and better prices in iron have been noticed, with improvement also in charcoal iron in Detroit. Wool dealings are smaller than usual, and dry goods are not especially active. The speculative markets have been non-active. Wheat has risen 4 cents for the week with sales of 83,000,000 bushels in New York, and corn 1 cent with sales of 16,000,000 bushels, and oats 2 cents. Hogs have risen 10 cents, and 15 cents per 100 pounds, and pork 25 cents a barrel, of 15 cents, and cotton 22 cents per 100 pounds, with sales of 259,000 bales. Reports as to collections do not improve and complaints are common. The New York returns would indicate an excess of merchandise imports over exports in charcoal iron in Detroit. The settlement of the cotton year and the excellent crop prospects have been used to advance stocks about 62 cents per share, but Western freight wars do not yet improve in spite of frequent hopeful reports. Business failures throughout the country during the last seven days numbered 216, as compared with 221 the previous week.

SWARMS OF RAVENOUS GRASSHOPPERS.

Canadian Priests Say They Are a Punishment for the People's Wickedness.

In the parish of St. Bartholomew, county of Berthier, says a Montreal, Que., dispatch, swarms of ravenous grasshoppers have settled down upon and eaten almost everything in the fields. The wheat and oat crop in the neighborhood has been completely destroyed. The grasshoppers do not seem to be satisfied at the ruin they have wrought to everything in the shape of fruit and vegetables, but actually eat the cedar bark from the posts along the fences. In speaking after mass with reference to the plague, the priest attributed the serious visitation to the probable wickedness of the people, who had neglected to perform their religious duties in a manner becoming a Christian people.

WESTERN JUSTICE.

It Is Dealt Out in a Summary Manner in Nebraska.

Fremont Emmons, the murderer of Bertha Schultz, aged 17, was hanged from a trestle bridge of the Chicago, Kansas and Nebraska Railway over the Burlington and Missouri tracks, at Pawnee City, Neb. ## CONGRESSIONAL.

Work of the Senate and House of Representatives.

An amendment to the sundry-civil bill, appropriating $250,000 for the purpose of investigating the extent to which the arid region of the United States can be reclaimed by irrigating was offered in the Senate the 30th by Mr. Bowen. By arid lands is meant all land that is non-productive without irrigation, and this classification embraces the eastern portions of California, Oregon, Washington Territory, and nearly the whole of Idaho, Utah, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, and Montana, which western portions of Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, and Texas are, in some seasons, seriously affected by drought. The amendment with the following amendment was agreed to: "And all the lands which may be designated for reservoirs and canals for irrigation shall be reserved as the property of the United States and shall not be subject to entry or settlement until hereafter provided for by law." The nomination of Surveyor-General Irish, of Nevada, was again before the Senate in secret session. The House Committee on Manufactures submitted its report on the trust investigation, and it was ordered printed. The committee says it has been unable to complete its investigation, which has been mainly devoted to the sugar and standard oil trusts. The House devoted considerable time to the consideration of the deficiency appropriation bill in committee of the whole. The only amendment was one appropriating $120,000 for the completion of the Port Townsend (W. T.) public building.

When the Senate resumed consideration of the sundry civil bill the 31st, Mr. Beck made the point of order on Mr. Spooner's amendment appropriating $75,000 for a public building at Atchison, Kas., that the Senate had no right to attach public appropriations to the bill. After a long discussion the point of order was withdrawn by Mr. Beck and a yeas and nays vote taken on the proposition itself as a test question affecting all the other public buildings. The amendment was rejected—yeas, 21; nays, 23. An amendment was agreed to appropriating $3,017 to repay the city of Omaha for paving the Court House and Post-office; also one providing that no part of the appropriations in the bill shall be used in the investigation of any case or in the prosecution of any person in the mining region for cutting for mining or domestic purposes any short or scrubby timber unfit to be sawed or hewed into lumber of commercial value. The Senate agreed to Mr. Hoar's resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of five Senators to investigate the relations of commerce and trade between the United States and the British North American possessions, including the effect upon the commerce and carrying trade of the United States of the Canadian system of railways and canals, and the prospect of the displacement of any existing industries of the United States by industries established there; also, whether the obligations of existing treaties and of international law are and have been observed by such dependencies toward the people of the United States, and as to the number, amount, and character of existing claims against Great Britain by the United States, and of such obligations toward the people of the United States in such dependencies. The House postponed consideration of the deficiency bill and went into committee of the whole on the Senate amendments to the army appropriation bill.

SENATOR PUGH presented to the Senate the 1st. the minority report in the case of the Jackson (Miss.) election investigation. The report is signed by Senators Pugh, Coke, Vest, and George. The minority says the hearings were held with closed doors and in Washington, more than one thousand miles from the locality of the transaction. Hence the members of the committee had no opportunity of examining the great mass of witnesses who were on the ground. "How unsatisfactory and misleading such a course is," says the report, "will be evident to those who carefully examine the reported evidence." A lengthy discussion was had in relation to Mr. Call's amendment to the sundry civil bill appropriating $10,000 for the recovery of property of the late Confederate States, now held in adverse possession, to the government. The bill was tabled. The bill was then reported back to the Senate and passed, all the amendments being concurred in except that appropriating $50,000 for the widow of Iroquois. Among the House bills taken up by unanimous consent and passed by the Senate were the following: For a public building at Jackson, Mich., with an amendment increasing the appropriation from $50,000 to $75,000; to authorize the Winona and Southwestern Railway Company to build a bridge across the Mississippi at Winona, Minn.; to protect purchasers of lands lying in the vicinity of Denver, Col., to restore with the United States department of the Government as lying within the limits of certain railroad grants and afterward held to lie without such limits; to provide for the disposal of the Fort Wallace military reservation in Kansas; to authorize the purchase of the whole voted to non-concur in the Senate amendments to the army appropriation bill and to ask for a conference. The action of the committee, as far as the minor amendments were concerned, was indorsed by the full House.

AFTER the transaction of some routine business the Senate, the 3d, by a strictly party vote, determined to take up the fisheries
