THE CAMPAIGN TEXT BOOK for 1888 is now ready, and will be furnished on application to the National Democratic Committee, 10 West 29th St., New York City. Price $1. In quantities of five or more 50 cents each.

Hon. James N. Moore, of Lake county, will address the citizens of Union and adjoining townships, at Fair Oaks, Thursday evening, Sept. 6, 1888, on the subject of tariff reform, and in advocacy of the election of Cleveland & Thurman. Come out, everybody!

The Pennsylvania iron mills at Lancaster, which shut down a week ago, 'on account of tariff agitation,' have resumed operations.—Press item.

And the "tariff agitation" is still on.

"Whenever I see a cheap coat, I think it involves a cheap man under the coat."—Benjamin Harrison.

A host of voters in cheap coats will resent this sneering allusion to them by the blue-blooded "grandson of his grandfather."

"If we can only punk it down the workingmen's throats that free trade means less work and less wages, we will bury this man Cleveland."—Wood Pulp Miller.

The speaker at the Republican meeting Wednesday evening tried desperate hard to 'punk' it down the throats of his audience. His laborious efforts to give plausibility to his propositions was pitiable to behold. As a "punker" he was failure.

The Democratic party differs with Jim Blaine, and will smash Trust combinations in good time.

How lightly the Republican orators touch the subject of "Free Whisky and Free Tobacco."

Billy Owen was renominated for Congress by the republican convention at Rochester. Billy can and will be defeated.

The White County Democrat says Judge Hammond was the solitary Jasperish pilgrim to the shrine of the "grandson" last Saturday.

Our neighbor of the Republican expresses admiration for the SENTINEL cartoons. He will find some on another page that are very suggestive.

Jim Blaine, in a recent speech declared that "neither the President, Congress, nor the State Legislatures had the authority to interfere with "Trust" combinations." And now Mat. Quay chairman of the Republican National committee, declares him to be "Harison's d—d Burchard." He announces his purpose to muzzle the magnetic statesman.

Chairman Jewett, of the Democratic State Central Committee, has been seeking to effect an arrangement for joint discussions between Matson and Hovey, but chairman Huston, of the Republican committee, says—"No; not for $25,000!"

O'Donnell, republican orator Wednesday evening, informed his audience that the tariff was a dry, intricate subject for discussion and that he didn't believe they would be any the wiser after he had done with it. He told the truth. They couldn't catch head or tail of what he was driving at

FOR USE IN THE ARTS.—"I will take," said the tramp to the bartender, "a little free whisky to be used in the arts." "What's that?" growled the drink dispenser.—"Ah," said the tramp loftily, "you are probably a democrat, and haven't the platform which we're publicans adopted. We there demand free whisky for the arts, and I will take a little just now to be used in painting my nose."—Exchange.

The Chicago Herald pillories demagogue Blaine in the following vigorous language:

The audacious declaration of James G. Blaine that neither President Cleveland nor any private citizen has any particular right to interfere with conspiracies of engrossers and forestallers—with robbers and vilians like the hard coal ring—reveals Blaine as the enemy of the taxpayer, just as the Herald has branded him. The mendacious declaration that England, a free-trade country is plastered over with trusts, reveals him as a shameless liar, who repeats his falsehoods in the face of immediate contradiction.

J. W. Duvall has just been notified that he is the "grandfather" of a new "gaandson" in Valparaiso. Sid Schanelaub, of Pilot Grove, will please accept our thanks for favors received.

"First voters" were made officers of the republican meeting the other evening, and occupied the platform. They were a badly scared looking lot of boys.

Elder E. A. Pardee, of Monticello, will preach at the Christian church Saturday evening and Sunday morning and evening; also at Barkley chapel, Barkley township, Monday and Tuesday nights. All are invited.

John Meyer and family, of Pittsburgh, Pa., visited his brother Wm. Meyer (night watchman) in Rensselaer, during the past week. The brothers had not met for 31 years. Mr. M. gives a doleful history of the workings of protection in the Carnegie industries, and is a warm advocate of tariff reform

Mr. John Shields who resides a few miles south of town, on Tuesday last while engaged in stacking grain fell from the stack and striking the wheel of a wagon in his descent broke two ribs. Dr. Loughridge was sent for and afforded temporary relief.

Father and Mother Cotton celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding, Monday, August 20th. The children present were: Mrs. Myrtilla Kile, of Morrow County, Ohio; Frank L. Cotton, Omaha, Neb.; Mrs. Minnie Plummer, White county, Indiana; Mrs. Florence Pierce, Columbus, Kansas; Mrs. Della Thompson, Chicago, and Miss Arilla Cotton, Rensselaer. William Cotton, Dakota, was absent. A big dinner was gotten up for the occasion which was hugely enjoyed by the reunited members of the family. Tokens of love and affection were presented the venerable couple by their children, and in the evening the cornet band gave a serenade.

REVIVING THE RECORD.

(Omaha World.)

The Labor Signal of Indianapolis reproduces from the files of the (rat) Journal—at present Garrison's organ—a speech made by that gentleman, Oct. 4, 1874, in which he denounces the Irish laboring element of the city. In the same issue of the (rat) Journal appears an editorial from which this is excerpted:

In connection with the disreputable Irish police force, the Irish Catholics of the southwestern portion of the city will undoubtedly attempt this year, by bullying, brawls and intimidation, to repeat the tactics so successfully used in the fifth and twelfth precincts last year.

To use a rather inelegant figure, you can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear," and with the K—ow—Nothing leaven in him you can never make anything of Harrison but an Irish hater.

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE.

The ten years between 1850 and 1860 were the low tariff years. These years were a period of speedy development and much more rapid development than the period ending at our last census year, 1870, which was a period of contracted war tariff. The value of farms increased between 1850 and 1860 126 per cent. Between 1870 and 1880 farms increased in value only 10 per cent. The manufactured products between 1850 and 1860 increased in value 87 per cent. Under the war tariff the increase was 27 per cent. During the low tariff decade the capital invested in manufactures increased 90 per cent. Between 1870 and 1880 the increase was 32 per cent.—Kansas City Times.

"If I had my way about it, I would put the manufacturers of Pennsylvania, who are more highly protected than anybody else, and who make large fortunes every year, under the fire and fry the fat out of them."—Senator Morrill.

The managers of the Remington fair have just made a notable addition to the attractions of their fine grounds, by the purchase of 12½ acres of grove, which adjoined the grounds on the west.

The Rensselaer Graded Schools.

Of the graded schools in her midst Rensselaer feels justly proud. The School Trustees have spared nothing to equip and beautify the school building and to furnish an excellent corps of teachers; in short to make it fully the equal of any similar school in the state. The school is supplied with excellent chemical, philosophical and physiological apparatus; and it possesses one of the finest school libraries found in the High Schools. Nothing is wanting to give full and thorough instruction.

The school is a commissioned High School, whose graduates are admitted into the Freshman class of any university in Indiana, also into the Terre Haute Normal, without standing a preparatory examination. Any school possessing these qualities and privileges should be liberally patronized by the parents of the county who intend to send their children away to school.

All the students who have been graduated from the country schools, as well as others, should embrace the opportunity of acquiring a thorough high school education, and should do all they can to get their parents to second them in their noble efforts. In this age of advancement that young man, that young lady, without an advanced education, must, as a rule, take a subordinate position in world's affairs, and for this reason, if for no other, parents should do all within their power to give their children a good education. It will be worth more to them than a farm or a bank draft. No one can steal it. It will not be destroyed by fire. Its possessor can not lose it. He cannot mortgage it.

Parents in selecting a school for their children to attend will in addition to thoroughness and proficiency, take into consideration the healthy condition and moral influence of the town or city in which such school is located.

As regards health, Rensselaer can claim her position among the first of healthy towns. The constant breeze and mineral water are elements which always are conducive to good health, and Rensselaer has both. The morals of the town are good. There are no places to entice the young from the path of virtue and honor; but on the other hand, the church influences are manifold, and aid not a little in forming and molding the character of the rising generation.

No parent need have any fear in sending his child to the Rensselaer school, as every effort will be put forth to build such a character against which the storms of destruction shall be of no avail.

Good boarding can be gotten, in private families, for $3.00 per week. Tuition in the High school per month, $1.

Personal.

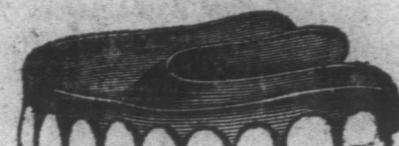

Mr. N. H. Frohlichstein, of Mobile Ala., writes: I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, having used it for a severe attack of Bronchitis and Catarrh: It gave me instant relief and entirely cured me and I have not been afflicted since. I also beg to state that I had tried other remedies with no good result. Have also used Electric Bitters and Dr. King New Life Pills, both of which I can recommend.

Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, is sold in quantities to suit purchasers at the lowest prices. None but the best stock slaughtered. Everybody is invited to call.
