THE CAMPAIGN TEXT BOOK for 1888 is now ready, and will be furnished on application to the National Democratic Committee, 10 West 29th St., New York City. Price $1. In quantities of five or more 50 cents each.

"We favor the entire repeal of the internal taxes (on whisky and tobacco) rather than the surrender of any part of our protective system."—Chicago platform.

"The platform is in entire harmony with my views."—Ben Harrison.

"Unnecessary taxation is unjust taxation."—President Cleveland in his letter of acceptance.

"Trusts are private affairs with which President Cleveland and the people have no right to interfere."—Blaine in the interest of "Trusts."

"Such combinations have always been condemned by the Democratic party. The declaration of its national convention is sincerely made, and no member of our party will be found excusing the existence or belittling the pernicious results of these devices to wrong the people. Under various names they have been punished by common law for hundreds of years; and they have lost none of their hateful features because they have assumed the name of 'Trusts' instead of 'Conspiracies.' We believe that these 'Trusts' are the natural offspring of a market artificially restricted; that an inordinately high tariff, besides furnishing the temptation for their existence, enlarges the limit within which they may operate against the people, and thus increases the extent of their power for wrongdoing. With an unalterable hatred for all such schemes, we count the checking of their baleful operations among the good results promised by revenue reform."— President Cleveland in his letter of acceptance.

JAMES A. GARFIELD.

"In 1860 the burdens of national taxation were light. All our revenues, including loans, amounted to only $76,000,000. Our expenditures were $77,000,000, and our whole public debt but $65,000,000.
In the year 1860 the tonnage of our ships upon the seas was 5,353,- 868 tons, which was more by 140,- 000 tons than in any other year of our history before or since. Two-thirds of our imports were then carried in American bottoms, as were also more than two-thirds of our exports.

Our exports that year reached the aggregate value of $400,000,- 000, which was forty-three and one-half millions more than during any previous year. Our imports were $362,000,000, decidedly more than any other year. And I make this statement on the authority of David A. Wells, that in 1860 we were exporting to foreign countries more American manufactures than in any other year of our history.

The fact is, Mr. Chairman, the decade from 1850 to 1860 was one of peace and general prosperity.
—Extracts from speech of James A. Garfield in the House March 6, 1878.

The speech of Henry Eagles-bach, before the Thurman Club, last Thursday evening, was well received, highly appreciated and heartily applauded by the audience. The well known honesty of the speaker, his firm adherence to correct principles and his upratable political integrity, gave great force and power to his utterances.

The proprietor of the Rensselaer Democrat desires to be very precise in the announcement that his address was delivered "at the invitation of the Allen G. Thurman Club," and "Published by Desire of Club Expressed in Unanimous Vote." Now let us be equally as precise: A "feeler," circulated by one of his satellites, gave out that the p. r. d. was desirous of addressing the Club, if agreeable. We know a number who expressed objections. He was appointed to speak, by the chairman—not invited by the Club.
Whether the p. r. d. prompted the motion to publish, or the gentleman who made the motion was desirous of recording him in black and white, we do not know. In any event, the motion received three affirmative votes—none opposed.

"It is tradition that Democracy sees principles greater than men."

The above extract from Brother James' published address is true every word of it—true from the organization of the party under Jefferson up to the present. True in 1874 when he was ready to accept the proposition. True in 1876, when he returned to the republican wallow, supported Fraud Hayes, waved the bloody shirt for all it was worth, and repudiated the "tradition". True in 1880 to 1884 when he passed from "half-breed" under Garfield to "stalwart" under Arthur. True at the time when, infuriated at the prospect of losing his official position he wrote upon his bulletin board the following foul slander against the Democracy of Jasper county:

"The vandalism committed last night are the legitimate, organized, deliberate insults of Democracy for Reform."

"In the interest of Reform the Democracy of Jasper County deliberately, wantonly insult every soldier who lost a leg or arm, or who was wounded in the line of duty in defense of the Union."

COMMUNICATED.

Editor Democratic Sentinel:

In your last issue I notice an article headed: "Who Paid For the Rally?" Now, to set the matter at rights and forever at rest, I, as one of the Executive Committee, wish to make the following statement:

The subscription paper was presented alike to Democrats and Republicans, but up to the morning after the rally not a single Democrat had subscribed a single cent, although I myself had repeatedly asked some of them to do so. On the morning following the rally it was found that we (the committee) would still be short some $15 and again some of the Democratic business men were appealed to for aid and the amount of $6.50 was raised from that source, as follows:

George Strickfadden $5 00

Abe Long, 1 00

Lorenze Hilderbrand, 50

And this was the entire amount of said subscription. Afterwards some of our Republicans, hearing that we were short, came to our relief with sufficient to pay the shortage, and as the Democratic business men of the town in general had failed to give us any assistance, the above amounts were returned to the original donors with many thanks for their manliness. And thus not one cent of Democratic money went into the Porter rally. J. W. POWELL.

The above does not set at rest the proposition that the deficiency was made up by republicans, and subscriptions advanced by Democrats refunded, in order to prompt republicans, who were responding from a business point of view, to withhold their aid from the coming Democratic rally.

HON.

V. ZIMMERMAN,

Democratic candidate for Congress, will address the people, in hees Rally, next Wednesday.

house, in Newton township, the other evening.

Hon James N. Moore of Lake county, made a telling Democratic speech at Sand Ridge school house, in Barkley township, last Saturday evening.

Tuesday evening last a Democratic meeting was held at Centre school house, in Barkley township.
In the course of proceedings it was Resolved, That the Democratic delegations from Gillam and Walker join the Barkley delegation at Groom's bridge, at 9 o'clock a. m., October 24th, and together proceed to Given's Hill and there await the arrival of the Union delegation at 10 o'clock, thence proceed to the depot.

Mr. N. H. Frohlichstein, of Mobile recommending Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, having used it for a severe attack of Bronchitis and Catarrh. It gave me instant relief and entirely cured me and I have not been afflicted since. I also beg to state that I had tried other remedies with no good result. Have also used Electric Bitters and Dr. King New Life Pills, both of which I can recommend.
