

Extraordinary License.

"It seems to me," remarked one of our citizens the other day, "that physicians are allowed extraordinary license in the manner in which they juggle with the welfare of their patients."

"Now, here is Dr. —, who was attending Mr. — up to the time of his death, and if he treated him for one thing he treated him for a dozen different disorders. First the doctor said pneumonia was the trouble; then it was consumption. Then the patient was dosed for heart trouble, and so on, until just before he died it was ascertained that disease of the kidneys was the real trouble, and that which had been at first treated as pneumonia, consumption, heart disease, etc., were but the symptoms of kidney disease."

"But then it was too late."

"This is only one case in a hundred, and I am beginning to lose faith in the doctors altogether. In fact, I haven't had any need for their services since I began to keep Warner's Safe Cure in my house, a little over three years ago. Whenever I feel a little out of sorts I take a few doses of it, confident that the source of all disease is in the kidneys, which I know Warner's Safe Cure will keep in good order, and will eradicate any disease that may be lurking there. Had Mr. — followed a similar course, I have no doubt he would be alive to-day; but, of course, all people don't think alike."

"One thing is certain, however, and that is the doctors are allowed a little too much freedom in the way they have of pretending to know that which they really know nothing about. If they don't know what is the real trouble with the patient, they should admit it and not go on and experiment at the cost of the patient's life."

Bildad—Why don't you buy a typewriter, Ormsby? Ormsby—My wife doesn't understand type-writing, and if she did a fellow doesn't care to have his wife around his office all the time. Bildad—Your wife wouldn't have to run it. You could hire a girl for a small salary. Ormsby—As I said before, I don't want my wife around the office all the time.

ONE of Mrs. Malaprop's daughters, a beautiful girl, had been sitting to a sculptor, and some one asked the lady what was being done. "Oh," she replied, "my daughter is having a bust made of her hand."

SCOTT'S

In 1892 I contracted Blood Poison of bad type, and was treated with mercury, which made my system worse, growing worse all the time.
I took 7 small bottles S. S. S., which cured me entirely, and no sign of the dreadful disease has returned.

My little niece had white swelling to such an extent that she was confined to the bed for a long time.
More than 20 pieces of bone came out of her leg, and the doctors said amputation was the only remedy to save her life. I refused the operation and put her on S. S. S., and she is now up and active and in as good health as any child. Miss ANNIE GIESLING,

Odd that She Got Mad.

Charles Whympy, the well-known engraver and animal painter of London, told the following story a few years ago: "I dined at Alderman So-and-so's last night, and as a mark of honor his eldest daughter was assigned to me to take down to dinner. She's a bright girl, but the way she drops her h's is enough to make a man's hair turn gray.
But I got along very nicely with her, and Lady Bletherington on the other side, until the ladies were on the eve of retiring to the drawing-room. The Alderman had but recently moved out to Highgate, and I was talking about the beautiful scenery near the house, the views to be had from the windows, the fine air, and so on, when Miss — suddenly said, 'I think I get prettier every day, don't you? What could she mean? I didn't care to answer, so I said, 'I beg pardon—what did you say?' 'I said I think I get prettier every day.' There was no mistaking her words, so I said, 'Yes, indeed, you get prettier, and no wonder, in such fresh air and—' But just then she caught her mother's eye, and with the other ladies she left the room. As she went out she looked over her shoulder with such withering scorn in her eyes that I knew I had put my foot in it somehow. Then it flashed upon me that I had misunderstood her; she had dropped an h; what she had said was not a silly compliment to herself—the sentence really was, 'I think Highgate prettier every day.' Mr.
Whympy was never invited to Alderman So-and-so's again.—San Francisco Argonaut.

A Terrible Misfortune.

It is a calamity of the direst kind to feel that one's physical energies are failing in the prime of life—to feel more nervous, more dispirited, weaker every day. Yet this is the unhappy lot of hundreds who surround us. A source of renewed strength which science approves, in behalf of which multitudes of the debilitated have and are every day testifying, and which, in countless instances, has built up constitutions sapped by weakness and infirmity and long un-benefited by other means, surely comprehends itself to all who need a tonic. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is such a medicine—pure, botanic, soothing to the nerves, promotive of digestion and a generalizer of the blood. By its use and nervousness—the first cause, the second a consequence of lack of stamina—depart when a course of the Bitters is tried. All forms of malarial disease, rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble, constipation and biliousness are annihilated by this standard family medicine.

Extraordinary Hair.

In Brazil there is a tribe called the Cafasos, which has sprung into existence by marriage between the long stiff-haired natives and the imported negro slaves. As might naturally be expected from the admixture of the extremes, this people possess hair of a very extraordinary kind. It rises perpendicular from the head in thick, curly masses, and forms a wig of such enormous dimensions that the possessors must stoop low when entering their huts.

Marine Fauna.

Late researches tend to show that persons short of food in mid-ocean might support life indefinitely if provided with appliances for capturing the small marine fauna, which is very abundant in the Atlantic, and probably in all temperate and warm marine waters.—Arkansas Traveler.

ONE of the reasons why Scott's Emulsion has such a large sale is, because it is the best. Dr. W. H. Cameron, Halifax, N. S., says: "I have prescribed Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, for the past two years, and found it more agreeable to the stomach and have better results from its use than any other preparation of the kind I have ever used." Sold by all Druggists.

LITTLE son—Papa, when Brutus said the Roman Senators were all honorable men he didn't mean it, did he?
Father—No, he spoke satirically.
"What's that?" "He meant that the 'Hon.' in front of their names was put there by their constituents just for a joke. Those old Romans relished humor as much as we do."

Consumption Surely Cured.

To the Editor: Please inform your readers that I have a positive cure for Consumption.
By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy

Catarrh Cured.

A clergyman, after years of suffering from that loathsome disease, Catarrh, and vainly trying every known remedy, at last found a recipe which completely cured and saved him from death. Any sufferer from this dreadful disease sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to Prof. J. A. Lawrence, 38 Warren Street, New York City, will receive the recipe free of charge.

Newspapers in 1889.

From the edition of Geo. P. Rowell & Co.'s "American Newspaper Directory," published April 1st (its twenty-first year), it appears that the newspapers and periodicals of all kinds issued in the United States and Canada now number 17,107, showing a gain of 797 during the last twelve months, and of 7,882 in ten years.

A cold is often the forerunner of consumption and death. MACEE'S EMULSION is the safest and best remedy known to the medical profession.

EVEN fowls will ape humanity; two roosters crop of corn."

Some Foolish People

Allow a cough to run until it gets beyond the reach of medicine. They often say, "Oh, it will wear away," but in most cases it wears them away. Could they be induced to try the successful medicine called Kemp's Balsam, which is sold on a positive guarantee to cure, they would immediately see the excellent effect after taking the first dose.
Price 50c and $1.00. Trial size free. At all Druggists.

For a good spring medicine we confidently recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla. By its use the blood is purified, enriched, and vitalized, that tired feeling is entirely overcome, and the whole body given strength and vigor. The appetite is restored and sharpened, the digestive organs are toned, and the kidneys and liver invigorated.

"For years at irregular intervals in all seasons, I suffered the intolerable burning and itching of blood poisoning by ivy. It would break out on my legs, in my throat and eyes. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier, with no thought of it as a special remedy for ivy poisoning, but it has effected a permanent and thorough cure."

THE OLD AND THE NEW.

The old-style pills! Who does not know What agony they caused—what woe?

You walked the floor, you groaned, you sighed

And felt such awful pain inside,

And the next day you felt so weak,

You didn't want to move or speak.

Now Pierce's "Pellets" are so mild

They are not dreaded by a child.

They do their work in painless way

And leave no weakness for next day;

Thus proving what is oft confessed,

That gentle means are always best.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets are unequalled as a Liver Pill. Smallest, cheapest, easiest to take. One tiny, Sugar-coated Pellet a Dose. Cures Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the stomach and bowels. 25 cents, by druggists.
