HE SHOULD NEVER.

A farmer should never be so immersed in political matters as to neglect doing his various kinds of work in due season, and to sang up matters and things for winter; nor should he be so inattentive to politics as to remain ignorant of those great questions of national and State policy which will always agitate more or less a free people.

A farmer should not be continually borrowing his neighbor's newspaper, while he can easily save money enough, by curtailing some little extravagance, to subscribe and pay for one or more of his own.

A farmer should never refuse a fair price for anything he wishes to sell. I have known men to refuse $1.50 for a bushel of wheat, and after keeping it five or six months they were glad to get $1 for it. I have known farmers to refuse to take a fair marketable price for their dairies of butter, and after keeping it three or four months they concluded to sell the butter for only two-thirds of the price which they were first offered. "A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush."

A farmer should not allow his wood pile to be reduced down to the "shorts" merely drawing a little by piecemeal, and green at that. He must expect to encounter the sour looks of his wife and family, and perhaps be compelled (in a series of lectures) to learn that the man who provide green wood to burn in winter has not mastered the first rules of domestic economy. Nor should he employ some "blotted" mason to build his chimney "upside down" so that his family will be nearly smoked out of the house, and the walls of the room become as yellow as saffron.

A farmer should not let his buildings look as old as the hills, and go to decay, while he can easily afford the means to keep them in good repair; nor should he allow tattered clothes and old hats to be stuffed in the windows, in the place of glass. If he does, he need not be alarmed if he acquires the reputation of a mean man, or one who tarries long where liquor is sold by the glass.

A farmer should not be contented with dilapidated-looking fences on his farm, so as to tempt his cattle to become unruly and destroy his crops, while he has plenty of opportunities to make or keep them in repair.

Farm Notes.

IN answer to inquiries why hens lay soft-shelled eggs, it may be stated that the difficulty is caused by a lack of lime. Pounded oyster shells should be within easy reach of the fowls at all times.

IN selecting fruit trees look rather to getting good roots than a large top. A small, well-shaped tree, with good roots, will soon outstrip a large one with an insufficient root, and will make a thrifter tree all the way along.

WHERE the bark has been gnawed or scraped off from a tree the new bark may be made to grow again by covering the denuded place with clay. It has been made to grow in this way without leaving a scar even.—Chicago Journal.

TO EVERY barrel of flour (196 pounds) there is about forty pounds of bran. It is too light to ship except at high rates, and there is an opportunity for some inventor to devise a method for compressing it into bales, as is the case with hay.

WHEN the bark has been gnawed or scraped off from a tree the new bark may be made to grow again by covering the denuded place with clay. It has been made to grow in this way without leaving a scar even.—Chicago Journal.

SOFT GINGER CAKE.—One cup of molasses, one of fried meat gravy and boiling water, half and half, one teaspoonful of saleratus and one of ginger, flour enough to make a soft dough.

COLD WATER CAKE.—One cup of white sugar, two eggs, piece of butter half as big as an egg, seven table-spoonfuls of cold water, one cup of flour and a heaping teaspoonful of baking powder.

PUFFS.—Beat very light the yolks of six eggs; add one pint of milk, a pinch of salt; the whites of the eggs beaten to a froth, and flour enough to make the batter like thick cream. Bake in cups in a quick oven.

MINNESOTA CORN BREAD.—Two cups of flour and two of meal, one of sweet milk and one of sugar, one-half cup of molasses, a teaspoonful of salt and one of saleratus, put it in round tin cans and steam one hour, then bake half an hour.

CRUMPETS.—Mix together one quart of sifted flour and two teaspoonfuls of good baking powder, and a little salt; then add two teaspoonfuls of melted butter and enough sweet milk to make a thin dough. Bake quickly in muffin tins or patty pans.

To Speak Good English.

Rev. Robert Colyer said: "Do you want to know how I manage to talk to you in this simple Saxon? I will tell you. I read Bunyan, Crusoe, and Goldsmith when I was a boy, morning, noon, and night."

Vote for Simpson!

Rensselaer decorated on Centennial Day, and in the afternoon the Opera House was packed with a large audience. Patriotic songs by the choir, music by the band, and addresses by Judge Hammond, Senator Thompson, Revs. T. J. Abbott, M. L. Tressler, U. M. McGuire, and Frank Foltz, Esq., made up the programme. Alfred Thompson presided.

On Wednesday of last week a sneak thief entered the hall of the jail and extracted from a vest of sheriff Blue, which was hanging therein, a valuable gold watch and chain. The sheriff suspected his man, and by the exercise of a little detective ingenuity and the aid of O. K. Ritchey, he captured the thief and secured his property, the Thursday evening following. In default of $500 bail, Russell languished in the county jail.

A WOMAN'S DISCOVERY.

"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shely, N. C.—Get a free trial bottle at F. B. Meyer's Drug Store. 2

Mr. Sylvester, late manager of the Economy Store, has gone to Sioux Falls, Dakota, to take charge of a farmer's loan agency.

Tuttle, President of Wabash College, on Sunday afternoon, May 19, at 2 o'clock, in the Opera House. Every lover of education is cordially invited to be present to hear Dr. Tuttle, as he is an able, pleasant and forcible speaker. J. F. W. REUBELT, Sup't Schools.

MERIT WINS.

We desire to say to our citizens that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklin's Arnica Salve and Electric Biters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction.

We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use.

These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. F. B. Meyer, Druggist.

Respectfully yours,

With friendly feelings toward all, and malice toward none.

A. LEOPOLD.

That was a very nice convention in the court house Thursday night, and it nominated a very nice ticket. The standing in the community of the gentlemen composing it is a sure guarantee the the intrests of the corporation will be well guarded, should they be elected.

The republican convention on Monday night last was well attended owing to the interest taken by the friends of the numerous candidates.

A well attended convention of Democrats was held in the court house, Thursday evening, and constructed the following
