Abram Simpson has abundant cause for gratification in the vote given for his retention in office. It was an endorsement of his official acts and individual conduct, as well as a rebuke to the republican machine methods, as attempted by the self-assumed management. The break in favor of the Democratic candidate, we were informed by the chief, in the afternoon, had been headed off—not a man could give a reason for his conduct in response to his demand. The result proves they did not consider themselves under obligation to furnish a reason, but kept on voting for "Shorty" all the same.

Indianapolis News, republican: The President declining to dine with the Spanish Commercial Union in New York said: "Considering the present condition of public business, it would be impossible for me to prolong my stay further." Every one knows what this condition of the public business is. It is simply the importunate gang of office seekers who are obstructing the real business of the country, haddering the President, disgracing the country in the eyes of the world and creating a very serious revulsion of feeling among thinking people as to the wisdom of a party which seems to countenance this organized appetite. President Harrison owes it to himself, to his party and to his country to resolutely deny this hungry horde and leave it to be starved out.

The election at this place on last Monday resulted in a big surprise and a proper rebuke to the republican "machine." The sole interest centered in the contest for Marshal. The "machine" candidate was foisted upon the ticket by the manager, under direction of the great mogul, with the threat that any other candidate would suffer defeat at their hands at the polls. Many republicans voted for Mr. Simpson, the Democratic candidate, in recognition of the faithful performance of the duties of the office the past year—many more to rebuke the buldazing tactics and presuming impertinence of a class whose claim to leadership lie principally in the sway held over a few capable of being transformed into a 'balance of power' when necessary to reward obedience, or punish disobedience, to their demands. Mr. Simpson and his Democratic fellow citizens recognize and appreciate the independent spirit which actuated the fifty republicans who resisted the attempt to interfere with the free exercise of their judgment. Below we give the result.
