

FRIDAY JULY 19 1869

"Non-resident couples going to Michigan to be married are now required to first procure license."

The Republican gives its readers no account of what is transpiring to-day in the "protected industries" of the land.

Our neighbor, jointly mourneth with the Indianapolis Journal over the defeat of the Van Antwerp, Bragg & Co., school-book monopoly, of Cincinnati, by an Indiana industry. Van Antwerp, Bragg & Co. are to be congratulated that they have the sympathy of these fellows. "Bless' be the tie that binds."

The Republican denounces slugger Sullivan for refusing to fight the Australian slugger Jackson on the expressed grounds that Jackson is a "nigger." Sullivan sh'd not slur the wards of the Republican party. We suggest that Bro. Marshall institute proceedings against him under the republican civil rights bill.

Col. A. K. McClure, the veteran editor of the Philadelphia Times, truthfully says: "Newspapers are often criticised for what they print, but if it were known how much credit they merit for what they don't print, or for the noise se they whack out of what they do print, they would command a much more generous judgment."

This country now pays more than 600 million dollars every year for the products of foreign labor, which ought to be paid to the labor of our own country.—Republican.

Our neighbor is nothing if not true to the behests of monopoly. We are having a sample of labor rewarded in our protected coal fields to-day. Carnegie, advertising for hands to take the places of his starving strikers tells them they will be protected. True enough, the protection given is by Pinkerton men armed with Winchesters. Marshall is almost as ironical as Carnegie.

Our neighbor fairly jumps at the following, from the Springfield (Mass.) Republican, and gulps it down as though it were a big "grain of comfort":

"Strikes are no more the result of Republican success than the strikes of 1886 were of Democratic success."

Very true, so far as the strikes of 1886 are concerned. They are all attributable to laws enacted by Republican legislation in the interest of monopolies. Had the recommendations of Mr. Cleveland been favorably acted upon by the Republican Senate, as they were by the Democratic house, we doubt whether there would be any strikes on hand to-day. Democratic success in the election of Mr. Cleveland did not give it control of the republican Senate, and it was therefore powerless to secure "tariff reform," the great antidote for strikes. The strikes of 1886 and of 1888-89 are the result of republican legislation—they are not, and never were, a natural product of Democratic success.

One Homer B. Dibell, of Indiana University, has been awarded the first prize, $250, offered by The Protective League Association of New York, for an essay on an economic subject named by the League. Of course he must have struck responsive feelings in the breasts of Marshall, of the Republican, and Van Buskirk, of the Monticello Herald, as the former claims him to be a resident of Jasper county, and the latter declares him a citizen of White county.

CHEAP LABOR WANTED.
(Philadelphia Times.)

Carnegie, Phipps & Co. limited, 48 Fifth avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., advertise for workmen at the Homestead Steel Works. They say: "Our former employees having refused to accept the revised (reduced) schedule of wages offered them, based on a sliding scale, their positions are now open to others." They offer "permanent positions, steady employment and ample protection" to all who take the places of their old employees.

Only one year ago Mr. Carnegie was among the foremost of the employers of the land who notified their workingmen that only by the election of a high tax candidate for President could employment and wages be maintained for labor.

Under this pressure not only Mr. Carnegie's men, but scores of thousands of other workingmen, voted to continue oppressive taxes upon nearly all the leading necessities of life because it was called protection to American labor; but with the triumph of their cause and candidate came only diminished employment and reduced wages. Organized labor is now dismissed from Mr. Carnegie's mills and non-union labor will be protected by Pinkerton's men; and oppressive trusts encouraged by excessive tariff taxes, are closing industrial establishments nearly every week to reduce the product, withdraw labor from the operatives and increase the cost of necessary articles to consumers.

How long can a great party hope to maintain power with such a palpable fraud staring every workingman in the face? How long will the industrial people of the country pay excessive taxes to stimulate public profligacy and oppress consumers by needless cost for what they must use, eat and wear? Are the party leaders blind that they can not see the unrest that prevails and the cheat that breeds it? If they are, they will persist in subserviency to monopolies and combines until they are hopelessly overthrown; if they can see the coming storm, they will make haste to enforce a severe reduction of taxes upon necessities, and the complete overthrow of the giant monopoly combines which now afflict the country. Which shall it be? President Harrison will answer in his message to the next Congress.

We have upon our table that most complete work for the ladies of every household, GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK, for August, 1889. It is always too full of good things for any paper to mention or even give a brief outline of them all. A charming frontispiece greets the eye upon opening the book; besides a handsome colored fashion-plate, color work design, and black fashion plates. The reading matter is always of the purest. This magazine is one of the best, and should be in every family.

The Indianapolis Sentinel Co. is offering as a premium with the Indiana State Sentinel, a magnificent engraving of Munkaczy's "Christ before Pilate," Rosa Bonheur's "Horse Fair" and the "Lions at Home," by the same artist. Subscribers can obtain any one of these by paying a nominal sum to cover the cost of putting up and forwarding the picture. The engravings are readily sold at $1, but it is proposed to ask an advance of little more than one-tenth of that amount over the regular subscription price for the weekly Sentinel and the picture. The Sentinel Co. will send any one of the pictures to new subscribers, or old subscribers renewing their subscriptions, and the weekly one for $1.15. This is only 15c. to cover express charges from New York, postage, wrapper, clerical work and other incidentals. The picture is given free. It is a remarkable offer.

IT LEADS THE FIELD, is the universal verdict of the ladies in regard to PETERSON'S MAGAZINE. It always comes laden with an atmosphere of elegance, and the fashions are as beautiful as they are sensible. The true secret of dress is to have pretty things at a moderate cost, and a glance at the August number will convince any woman that "Peterson" can teach her how to accomplish this. She will find also excellent stories, fine engravings and miscellaneous matter of the most varied and useful description.

Every family should have this admirable periodical for a monthly visitor. It meets in all ways the tastes and needs of the entire household. "Peterson" is really a wonderful combination—Neither pains nor expense are spared and the result is that each of its numerous departments is always up to the highest standard of excellence. Address Peterson's Magazine, Philadelphia, Pa.

In the series of meetings being held in the Christian church by Robert Hall, of Irvington, considerable interest is manifested, the attendance having increased. Mr. H. is a student in Butler University, preparing for foreign missionary work. He is a good speaker and able to interest those willing to be instructed in the first principles of the gospel. The public, and especially the young people, are invited to attend and hear him. Meetings will continue until next Sunday evening, perhaps longer.

Monticello Herald: Al. Bryer is preparing to move his cigar factory to Rensselaer. He has furnished to the Monticello trade as good a grade of cigars as comes to the town from any foreign factories, and the Rensselaer dealers will favor themselves as well as him by giving him a rush of work. He is worthy of it.
