

The Democratic Central Committee.

The members of the Jasper County Democratic Central Committee are requested to meet at Rensselaer,

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 12, '89, at 1 o'clock p. m., for the transaction of important business.

LEE E. GLAZEBROOK,
Chairman.
W. E. LOUGHRIDGE, Sec'y.
Rensselaer, October 2, 1889.

The legislature of Montana is Democratic on joint ballot.

At Indianapolis the Democratic net majority on Aldermen is 2,472.

The majority in Connecticut against the prohibitory amendments is 28,886.

Judge Sullivan, Democratic candidate for Mayor of Indianapolis, received a majority of 1,795.

In one ward at Indianapolis the republicans elected a negro to the council who can neither read nor write.

The election in Montana was conducted under the Australian system, and the Democracy were triumphant.

Jim Chalmers, of Fort Pillow infamy, Republican candidate for Governor of Mississippi, has withdrawn from the race.

A republican in Indianapolis the other day expressed himself thus: "When the Democrats of Indianapolis placed Judge Sullivan in nomination for mayor by acclamation, I had no idea that they would elect him by acclamation, too."

The Democrats of Indianapolis elect 15 of the 25 councilmen. All hail to the gallant Democracy of that city. And to the Sentinel, greeting: "You had a large-sized hand in that pie."

Sim Coy was elected to the city council, Indianapolis, by a larger majority than heretofore. A great many people who read the testimony in the case think Coy was unjustly punished, and entertain a higher regard for him than they do for Judge Woods.

Under six months of Harrison's administration the country has suffered 329 more failures than during the same period of 1888. In addition to the failures there has been more strikes, more lock-outs and more and greater reduction of wages.

Our neighbor is not even convalescent. The Van-Antwerp, Bragg & Co. monopolistic fever is hard to break when once it takes so complete hold on one as it has on him. The school book law is imperative and our neighbor will eventually submit to the inevitable and cease his opposition.

The Mills bill provided for a big reduction in the duty on raw sugar, and its total abolition on the refined article. Had the republican senate accepted this measure there would be no sugar trusts today, and the price would not be away up. The republican senate, however, prefer that the people shall have free whisky and free tobacco.

Here are a couple of gems from the speeches at the recent Massachusetts democratic state convention. Mr. Matthews, the chairman, said, in the course of his remarks:

The republican party has outlived its usefulness and is incompetent to settle the problems of the time; it is owned by corporations, wealth and lobbies; it stole the presidency once and bought it twelve years later; It has nothing to offer the people but subsidies, Blair bills, high tariffs and more restraints on commerce; its policy, if continued, will hand this country over to monopolies first, to socialism next.

The aim of democracy, on the other hand, is to secure for labor greater rewards and to increase the opportunities for industry and trade. Having held our own with foreign nations on the field of battle, we need not fear the peaceful rivalry of friendly commerce. Free raw materials; free coal and wood and iron and lumber; wider markets for the products of American labor and American ships to carry them in; and freer commercial relations with all the nations of the earth—these things will benefit the whole people of this country; they are essential to the continued prosperity of the New England states; and they will not be had until the democratic party is restored to power.

Ex-Congressman J. E. Russell (not the nominee for governor) said in the peroration of his eloquent speech:

Cleveland and Harrison! They fitly represent the principles and purposes of their respective parties. Between them there is a difference as great as between courage and timidity, patriotism and policy, progress and stagnation, the living principles of a living party and the lifeless faith of a party that dwells only on the past; between a people's president, fighting the people's cause, serving them and them only, and a party president, who hears the voice only of the politicians.

SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION.

At the meeting held last Monday evening it was decided to ask each Sunday School in town to select five delegates next Sunday to meet other workers Monday evening, Oct. 14, 1889, at the Presbyterian church, to effect a permanent organization of the Union in the county. Let all workers attend, would be glad to see every township in the county represented.

B. F. FERGUSON, Sec.

A new process for burning coal without smoke has lately been discovered. It consists in sprinkling water containing a special preparation of resin over the coal, and the result is that no smoke and the glow is as intense as coke. An authority vouches for the fact that it works admirably and its fire is a remarkable improvement on coke.

A DARING ROBBERY.—In the absence of Jos. F. Hardman this afternoon at the race course some expert thief succeeded in gaining entrance into his jewelry establishment, and nearly gutted it of every thing valuable. His loss is about $600.

The Chicago Bargain Store, that caused the great crash of the trust on high prices, deserves a share of the trade of every citizen in Jasper county, as they have come to stay, and have an immense stock of Dry Goods, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, and a 5c and 10c goods counter, &c. One price for cash.

a high protective tariff. Mystery and obscurity are necessary to their purposes. They love darkness rather than light, because their deeds are evil. The less you know about tariff legislation the better they are pleased. Ignorance on your part enables them not only to plunder you, but to keep on doing so. The laws are therefore complicated and made to cheat. They are intentionally intricate and difficult to understand, in order to afford opportunities for fraud and fraudulent interpretations in all their sections and branches. Eloquence engaged in defence of the present system of tariff legislation, is forced to adopt the practice of a Tomb lawyer whose client he knows to be guilty. The truth is to be suppressed, the law confused and perverted, facts as plain as the sun denied; and an air of mystery and doubt infused everywhere. The farmer's attention is also to be called away from the real facts of the case, and he is asked to spend his time looking for benefits and advantages which never come. I once knew a boy at school who, during the noon spell, was made the victim of a robbery very similar to the one practiced from year to year on you and your wives and children. The boy's mother had filled his pockets with cakes and apples, and the young robbers around him hung round for them and took their plans accordingly. Two of the predatory gang were made the orators of the occasion, while the other three were the practical thieves. The orators, in exalted tones and manner, called the attention of this big eyed, honest-hearted boy to a running rabbit, a climbing squirrel, and a flying bird, and while he was following their directions and trying to see things that were not there at all, the thieves went through his pockets, took all the cakes and fruit, and the confederated villains soon after banquetted on the spoils together. I am glad to remember that none of the cakes and apples were for me, and there have been none since.

The State Superintendent decides that the law providing pay for attendance at township institutes applies to teachers of district schools, and that teachers of town schools are not entitled to pay for attending such meetings unless it is so stipulated in the contract that they shall take part. In such cases they are entitled to pay.

The Monon Route (L. N. A. & C. R. R.) is putting its Indianapolis division in good condition for fast running. The next few weeks, it is said, will see the entire line between Indianapolis and Monon ballasted with gravel to a depth of fourteen inches. Gravel is being distributed at the rate of eighty car-loads a day, two construction trains working from the steam shovel.

Said a prominent druggist the other day. "The government ought to regulate the sale of morphine the same as the sale of liquor. In fact the law should be even more strict. No person has any business with morphine unless obtained through the prescription of a good doctor. The morphine habit is a fearful thing and comes on one gradually. An eighth of a grain is a dose I have seen it stated by a medical journal that the largest dose known to have been taken is 111 grains."

The printer's dollars, where are they? A dollar here and a dollar there, scattered over numerous small towns all over the country, miles and miles apart—how shall they be gathered together? Come in single file that the printer may send you forth to battle for him and vindicate his credit. Reader, are you sure you haven't two or more printer's dollars sticking to your clothes?

Begin Aright.

A frowning face or unkind word may shroud a whole household in gloom the entire day, while cheery smiles, like brilliant sun rays, all the atmosphere with glowing warmth and happiness. Let us cultivate the habit of good-humor and sing with the poet:
Dark clouds away and welcome day;
With night we banish sorrow.
Sweet air, blow soft; mount, lark, aloft,
To give my love good-morrow.

E Bainbridge Munday, Esq., County Atty Clay county, Texas, says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother was also very low with Malarial Fever and Jaundice, but was cured by timely use of this medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life."
