Progress of Inventions Since 1845.

In the year 1845 the proprietors of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN newspaper commenced its publication, and soon after established a bureau for procuring of patents for inventions at home and in foreign countries. During the year 1845 there were only 502 patents issued from the U. S. Patent Office, and the total issue from the establishment of the Patent Office, up to the end of that year numbered only 4,437.

Up to the first of July this year there have been granted 406,413.— Showing that since the commencement of the publication of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, there have been issued from the U. S. Patent Office 402,166 patents, and about one-third more applications have been made than have been granted, showing the ingenuity of our people to be phenomenal, and much greater than ever the enormous number of patents issued indicates. Probably a good many of our readers have had business transacted through the offices of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, in New York or Washington, and are familiar with Munn & Co.'s mode of doing business, but those who have not will be interested in knowing something about this, the oldest patent soliciting firm in this country, probably in the world.

Persons visiting the offices of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, 361 Broadway, N. Y., for the first time will be surprised on entering the main office, to find such an extensive and elegant, well equipped establishment, with its walnut counters, desks, and chairs to correspond, and its enormous safes, and such a large number of draughtsmen, specification writers, and clerks, all busy as bees, reminding one of a large banking or insurance office, with its hundred employees.

In conversation with one of the firm, who had commenced the business of soliciting patents in connection with the publication of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, more than forty years ago, I learned that this firm had made application for patents for upward of one hundred thousand inventors in the United States, and several thousands in different foreign countries, and had filed as many cases in the Patent Office in a single month as there were patents issued during the entire first year of their business career. This gentleman had seen the Patent Office grow from a sapling to a sturdy oak, and he modestly hinted that many thought the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, with its large circulation, had performed no mean share in stimulating inventions and advancing the interests of the Patent Office. But it is not alone the patent soliciting that occupies the attention of the one hundred persons employed by Munn & Co., at a large number are engaged on the four publications issued weekly and monthly from their office, 361 Broadway, N. Y., viz: The SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN SUPPLEMENT, the Export Edition of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, and the Architects and Builders Edition of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN. The first two publications are issued every week, and the latter two, he first of every month.

The 1846 Indianapolis Sentinel Co. is offering as a premium with the Indiana State Sentinel, a magnificent engraving of Munkacy's "Christ before Pilate," Rosa Bonheur's "Horse Fair" and the "Lion at Home," by the same artist. Subscribers can obtain any one of these by paying a nominal sum to cover the cost of putting up and forwarding the picture. The engravings are readily sold at $1, but it is proposed to ask an advance of little more than one-tenth of that amount over the regular subscription price for the weekly Sentinel and the picture. The Sentinel Co. will send any one of the pictures to new subscribers, or old subscribers renewing their subscriptions, and the weekly rate for the picture is $1.15. This is only 15c. to cover express charges from New York, postage, wrapper, clerical work and other incidentals. The picture is given free. It is a remarkable offer.

Reward of Industry.

A poor friendless lad might have been seen wandering along the streets looking for employment. He presently stood in front of a butcher shop, and, walking boldly up to the proprietor, asked for a job. There was something in the young man's frank, honest countenance, which struck the proprietor favorably.

"Not afraid of hard work?" he asked.

"No," responded the lad with a trembling voice. "I have supported my mother and two sisters for five years by hard work."

He was put on trial at $5 a week mauling leather, beef, and his sturdy frame and healthy constitution came in good play. One day an old lady came in to get some beef, and the proprietor told him to attend to the customer.

"A tenderloin steak, if you please," said she.

"Here's a cut that nobody but the first families get," responded the boy smilingly as he sliced off four pounds of tough round and cast it with a heavy hand on the scales, jamming it down with a quick, dexterous movement, until the indicator marked six even pounds. Then he snatched it off before the delicate machinery, used to weigh beef, had time to recoil.

"Six pounds and a half, madam," he said, looking her square in the face with his clear blue eyes.

The proprietor of the stall called him that night, and remarking that he had watched his course carefully, added that as a reward for his quick, comprehensive grasp of the business he would raise his salary to $25 per week. This shows the advantage of doing everything well, and when the boy's mother back in New Jersey hears of his success there will be joy in that household. Young men starting out in life should learn to adapt themselves to their surroundings and never let an opportunity pass.—Salt Lake Tribune.

POOD.

The transition from long, lingering and painful sickness to robust health marks an epoch in the life of the individual. Such a remarkable event is treasured in the memory and the agency whereby the good health has been attained is gratefully blessed. Hence it is that so much is heard in praise of Electric Bitters. So many feel they owe their restoration to health to the use of the Great Alterative and Tonic. If you are troubled with any disease of Kidneys, Liver or Stomach, of long or short standing, you will surely find relief by use of Electric Bitters. Sold at 50c and quarter bottle at F. B. Meyer's Drug Store.
