"Down went McGinty to the bottom of the Sea," at the Opera House, 12th and 13th.

Now is a good time to bring in that wood.

Go to the Opera House, 12th and 13th. The World's Fair Specialty Company is first class in every respect. The 13th they give an entire change of programme.

John Kimble, of South Marion, will move to Rensselaer in a few days. He has rented his farm to Harley Shields.

The gravel road project, at this end of the line, is through, for the present—too much opposition.

Our new stock of dry goods boots and shoes, Clothing, hats and caps, means better goods and lower prices than ever before offered in Rensselaer.

Chicago Bargain Store.

A number of our people are engaged in filling their ice-houses.

Mrs. Davis, of Trenton, Missouri, is visiting the family of her sister, Mrs. W. H. H. Graham in Rensselaer.

Mrs. Steward Jones, of Clintonville, Wisconsin, whose husband was conductor on the R. R. which passes this place, in the days of the Narrow Gauge, is visiting old friends in Rensselaer.

Beautiful mohair brillianteen dress goods, in all shades, 10cts. to 50cts. per yard.

Chicago Bargain Store.

Wallace Murray, Sam English, Lew Bull and B. F. Robinson recently killed a large male wolf in Barkley township.

A big gray wolf was recently killed in Gillam township by our old friend John Tillet.

We now have a complete line of ladies', gents' and children's fine shoes, of the best brands of hand-turned and hand-sewed shoes.

Chicago Bargain Store.

Admission to Opera House next Wednesday and Thursday evenings, 25 and 35. Reserved seats can be procured at Hardman's.

John Shanelaub has bought the celebrated pacer and trotter, Hoosier Joe, and will keep at his stables, on the George Hollingsworth farm near the eastern limits of Rensselaer, during the season of 1890.

James W. Douthit, Esq., now occupies the room back of the Rensselaer Bank, Nowels building, with his law office.

ART SCHOOL

MISS FRANK McEWEN respectfully announces that she has opened an Art School in rooms at her home, in Rensselaer.

Every pupil will learn to make a fine Landscape, 22x27 inches. and one Life-Size, Life-Like during the first term—all hand-work.

PORTRAIT

Tools and material furnished free during the course, and

Success

GUARANTEED!

Terms—First course $25. Second or Teachers' course, $35.

On these terms every one can try, knowing that if they don't succeed it will cost nothing. Become proficient, teach others, and make portraits of family, friends, and such as may be ordered.

Night class for those who prefer.

Pasture owners alone are interested in an ordinance to keep up cows during the summer months, when vegetation, if permitted, grows rank and unhealthy. The enactment of such an ordinance would be on a par with that regulating the sale of goods, wares, merchandise, etc., which were wisely reconsidered and repealed.

Mr. Bice, of Remington, has moved into Mrs. Storkton's tenant property, east corner of W. 10th and Harrison streets.

Constable Wood brought James Royalty from Remington last Friday for failure to pay the $10 fine assessed against him at the last term of the Circuit Court.

T. J. McCoy and Delos Thompson have gone east on business connected with the Rensselaer Stock Farm.

The J. C. Williams photograph gallery, with outfit and good will has been sold to J. and H. J. Bartoo, who will re-open it next week, after putting it in thorough repair and adding much new and improved apparatus. The gallery will be under the direct management of Miss Jessie Bartoo, who has acquired a thorough knowledge of the art under the able instruction of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sharp.

Bishop Knickerbocker, of Indianapolis, Episcopalian bishop of diocese of Indiana, will hold services in the M. E. Church, next Tuesday evening. The public is invited to attend.

The "personal card" of W. N. Jones, published this week in the Republican, is certainly interesting literature. The space could have been devoted to something more desirable—for instance, the communication from a republican, which was refused by that paper.

The meetings in progress at the M. E. Church will continue next week. So far the result has been 26 accessions.

The annual meeting of the stock holders in the Rensselaer Building, Loan & Savings Association will be held in the town Hall next Monday evening, at 8 o'clock sharp, at which three directors are to be elected.

Madams Alfred McCoy, and Mattie Rinehart, and Miss Blanche Loughridge, started for New Orleans Wednesday night, we hope they may have a pleasant visit and safe return.

Photograph Gallery Re-opened.

The undersigned would respectfully announce to the people of Rensselaer and surrounding country, that they have purchased and refitted with new apparatus and material, the Williams photograph gallery, which will hereafter be known as the Bartoo Gallery, and will re-open the same for business next week, and be fully prepared to do all kinds of work in their line, including copying and enlarging, in first-class style and at the lowest living prices.

Cabinets, $3.00 per dozen.

Card photos $2.00 per dozen.

We ask for a share of the people's patronage. Please call and give us a trial.

J. & H. J. BARTOO.

The Monon is coming to the front in trying to do everything in their power to accommodate the public along their line of road. They will on or about the 20th, of April put a morning train on between Monon and Chicago, known as the market train, giving all stations along the line an opportunity of an early train for the shipment of milk or any produce they may have for the market. Everyone along the line should appreciate this great opportunity that will be extended them in being able to reach this great market early in the morning with their produce.—Monon Times.

Jos. C. Henkle, of Pinkamink, and Henry H. Walker, of Remington, have been granted increase in their pensions.

The following communication we publish by request, it having been declined by our neighbor:

Editor Republican:

I see in your last paper that brother Greenfield is a candidate for Trustee another term. I think when we look at the management of township affairs, generally, and our schools, in particular, that we will say we can't afford such management any longer. There are plenty of good teachers, that have had experience and given satisfaction, that could be had just as well as those that are inexperienced and lacking in education; and those that failed entirely this winter, I understand, are already promised schools for next winter.

And the management of our road fund: Look at the way it is spent. Think of a trustee putting up finger-boards at this late day of railroads between important points. The law is an old one, and directs the trustee to put up guide-boards with the proper inscription, &c., at all roads in his township that in his judgment is for the good of the public. Now I claim if that is the extent of our trustee's judgment, he is incapable of managing the large amount of money that flows into the hands of the trustee, economically.

There are plenty of good men standing around with their lightning rods up ready to be struck with the nomination—men that have proven themselves capable of doing business on a large scale and in an economical way.

In conclusion will ask what has become of all those seedy old soldiers who were the recipients of so many magnificent promises away back in the first half of the sixties? It was said: Boys, if you will go down and help settle this difference of opinion, and live to get back, you can have any office you can fill. Republicans, beware!

REPUBLICAN.

We suggest that a capable Democrat might suit.

POOR.

The transition from long, lingering and painful sickness to robust health is a precious life of the individual. Such a remarkable event is the cure in the memory and the agency whereby the good health has been attained is gratefully blessed. It is a fact that so much is heard in praise of Electric Bitters. So many feel they owe their restoration to health to the use of the Great Alterative and Tonic. If you are troubled with any disease of Kidneys, Liver or Stomach, of long or short standing, you will surely find relief by use of Electric Bitters. Sold at 50c and $1 per bottle at F. Meyer's Drug Store.

Enquire at the drug stores for the horse doctor.

How the Russians Rob the Chinese.

Admiral Shufeldt tells how the Russians are slicing territory from the Chinese on the boundary between Siberia and China. The means of communication are so poor in China and the avenues of news are so few that it is impossible for the Chinese to keep track of the goings on in their provinces. The Russians send a regiment of Cossacks, with their families, about ten or fifteen miles into China. The regiment will settle down, take up the land and cultivate it. They take up the boundary stones as they settle down, and put them at the edge of their settlements, and the next year another regiment comes along, takes up the land below, and moves the boundary stones further on toward Peking. These encroachments have been going on for years, and the Chinese cannot understand the perpetual shrinkage of their northern frontier.

Pigmy Camels.

The western part of Persia is inhabited by a species of camel which is the pigmy of its kind. They are snow white, and are on that account almost worshiped by the people. In return for the kind treatment accorded the Shah while in Berlin he has presented the municipality with two of these little wonders. The largest is twenty-seven inches high and weighs sixty-one pounds. The other is four inches less, but the weight is not given.

HE DIDN'T UNDERSTAND.

A Kansas Granger's Disheartening Experience with Cipher Dispatches.

To prevent mistakes in transmitting, the grain and commission men have a well-established cipher in which words that are not liable to be mistaken by the telegraph operator are used in place of the quotation figures. Some of the Kansas City firms use the cipher in corresponding with their out-of-town customers, and others do not, as the general rule of customers are not familiar with the cipher.

A Kansas man was in Kansas City last year and made a large purchase of wheat of a large commission house on a 4 per cent margin, says the Star of that city. He requested the firm to telegraph him the quotations next day, and a clerk of the firm was instructed to present him with a cipher key, but neglected to do so.

The Kansas man now tells the story of his speculation with great gusto. The next morning he received a telegram:

"Opened, disgust."

He was somewhat surprised, and failed to make any sense out of the message. A little later he received another message.

"Disgusted."

He did not know what it meant, but it was signed. So he telegraphed back to the commission firm:

"So am I."

A little later came a telegram:

"Disgusting."

By this time he was getting mad, and sent back another message:

"I should say it was disgusting. What do you mean?"

Before he had fairly got his answer on the wires there came another message:

"Disheartened."

So was the Kansas man; so he waited and did not answer. But when another message came in "Disheartened," he sent back word:

"I won't dispute it, and I think you are crazy also. Sell all my wheat at once."

A little later he received a message:

"Sold just in time. Now disgorge."

To say that the Kansas man was mad would be putting it mildly. He took the train that night for Kansas City to see what it meant, and when he found out he treated all around.

Disgust translated is 99 1/2 cents; disgusted, 97 1/2 cents; disgusting, 100 cents; disheartened, 101 1/2 cents; dishonest, 101 1/2 cents, and disgorge, 99 1/2.

SCOWLING IS ONLY A HABIT.

A Clever Contrivance to Keep Creases Out of the Forehead.

A great many earnest thinkers of a nervous temperament fall into the habit of scowling when they read, write or talk seriously. This causes two little perpendicular lines to plow in between the eyes and ages a face ten years.

It is a habit almost impossible to correct, once formed, as it is done unconsciously by a great many young people. Even in sleep their brows will be drawn together in this malicious little frown that is the sinner and abettor of age.

A bright, studious young woman, still in her twenties, found herself the victim of this scowl, which had made two fine hair lines in her white brow, says the New York Journal. She set herself to work to cure the habit by setting her mirror before her face when she read, wrote or studied. But as this distracted her attention from her work she finally placed a ribbon band tightly across her brow, tying it in a knot at the back of her head, and at night she slept in the band.

After several months the little hair lines disappeared from the pretty forehead, and she is quite cured of the disfiguring habit.

A smooth, white, uncorrugated brow is one of the greatest attractions in a woman's face, while a prematurely furrowed and wrinkled brow mars the beauty and youth of the fairest features.

Cold Food.

Eat all cold food slowly. Digestion will not begin till the temperature of the food has been raised by the heat of the stomach to 98 degrees. Hence the more heat that can be imparted to it by slow mastication, the better. The precipitation of a large quantity of cold food into the stomach by fast eating may, and often does, cause discomfort and indigestion, and every occasion of this kind results in a measureable injury to the digestive functions. Ice water drunk with cold food of course increases the mischief. Hot drinks—hot water, weak tea, coffee, chocolate, etc.—will, on the contrary, help to prevent it. But eat slowly, anyway.

Saved by His Courage.

A boy living near Nassau City, Fla., was out fire-hunting a few nights ago, when he planted his foot on something soft and slippery, and at once awakened the warning notes of a rattlesnake. By the flickering glare of his torch he saw that he had trod upon the reptile, but fortunately had planted his foot on his neck just back of the head, and though it folded its slimy coils around his ankle and struck out with its fangs with lightning-like rapidity it was unable to turn its head to do mischief. The lad had presence of mind enough to keep his foot firmly planted upon its neck while with ax in hand he severed the head from the body.
