

Democratic Sentinel

FRIDAY APRIL 11 1890

Entered at the postoffice at Rensselaer, Ind., as second-class matter.

Gov. Jackson of Maryland signed the Australian ballot bill.

The Iowa house by 86 to 9 passed an Australian ballot law very similar to that of Indiana.

Six hundred and eight Democratic trustees in the State. Well, that "is good enough."

Neither party ever had so large a majority of the trustees as the Democrats secured last Monday. They have more than three-fifths of the entire number. That "is good enough."

At the township elections on Monday 608 Democrats, 398 Republicans and 6 Independents were elected trustees. In the language of our neighbor, this "is good enough."

A gain of one Democratic trustee in Jasper county, and but for questionable schemes worked up in two townships the Democracy would have come out of the contest with a majority. As it is the school book monopolies have no consolation in the result in this county.

At the local election in Helena, Montana, Monday, the Democrats scored a glorious victory, electing the mayor of the city and six out of eight aldermen. The republicans made their fight on the issue of the legislative deadlock, and the question of the 24th precinct vote upon which the senatorial contest turned, and got badly snowed under. This, too "is good enough."

The "Republican" wails out:—"In Marion township there was a light vote, at least 70 voters staying at home, most of them sowing oats. Four-fifths of these were were Republicans. There was some scratching, as usual in township elections, at least on Republican tickets, where the scratching always is." Evidently our neighbor is badly demoralized over the result, notwithstanding his declaration that it "is good enough," and thinks "a poor excuse better than none."

The quality of taffy offered by the plutocrats, in the proposed tariff revision, to the farmer may be sampled by that hard-headed individual before swallowing. For instance, we export something like 46,000,000 bushels of wheat, we import 1,946 bushels. So the tariff on wheat was increased 25 per cent. There? Talk about relief, what more does the farmer want? We export 69,000,060 bushels of corn; we import 2,338 bushels. The tariff on corn was increased 50 per cent. We export 624,000 bushels of oats; we import 22,324 bushels. The tariff on oats was increased 50 per cent. We import 396 bushels of corn meal. The tariff on corn meal was doubled. We export 400,000,000 lbs. of bacon and hams, and import 272,000 pounds. The tariff on bacon and hams was increased from 2 to 5 cents per pound. We export 85,000,000 of cheese; we import 8,000,000 pounds. The tariff on cheese was increased 50 cent. Just let the farmer look! Isn't that "relief" for him? Or will the farmer, sampling this taffy before swallowing it, say that it adds insult to injury?—Indianapolis News.

In this township, on Monday last, the election resulted as follows:

For trustee, Greenfield, republican, received 96 majority over Parker, democrat.

For ex. r., for assessor, had 196 majority over Crockett, d. a tribute to Porter's services in the late unpleasantness(?) anyhow, he limped badly all day.

For justices, Churchill & Burnham, r's received "the full party vote"—and considerably more, too, there being no opposition to them. Healy, d., received 141 majority over Morgan, r, undoubtedly a tribute to the judge's good looks.

Hanging Grove—the republican ticket elected.

Barkley—Liff, r, for trustee, 44 maj. A democratic justice and constable were elected.

Carpenter—Roadifer, r, for trustee, has 93 majority over Culp, d. Jordan—democratic ticket.

Gullam—republican ticket.

Wheatfield—democratic ticket.

Keener—republican ticket.

Kankakee—trustee r; justices, d.

Milroy—Kesley, d, trustee.

Newton—trustee, Hopkins, r, 2 majority over Goetz, d, said to have been brought about by pledges to work certain roads. Balance of ticket democratic.

Walker—democratic ticket

Union—dem. ticket. Cooper, d, for trustee, received 41 majority.

The aggregated vote of the county shows a handsome reduction of the usual republican majority. Thankful for small favors, our neighbor thinks it "is good enough."

SERVICES AT BAPTIST CHURCH.—The regular covenant meeting will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday, April 12th. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. on Sunday, followed by preaching at 10:45. Services at night. U. M. McGUIRE.

Senator Turpie's speech on the Montana contest is conceded to have been one of the greatest arguments ever made before the senate.

Democrats have carried 64 of the 92 counties in Indiana. Break the news gently to Harrison, Dudley & Co

On the total vote cast in this state last Monday the Democratic majority is 17,000 That "is good enough"

The Chicago Tribune worked teeth and toe-nail for the election of Benjamin Harrison to the presidency of the United States. Commenting on the relation of the farmer to the tariff it says:

"The great "mother industry" needs help because of its exceptionally hard situation and the importance of its prosperity as a basis of national well-being. The McKinley committee, responding to the demand to do something for the farmers, proposes to put up the rates on certain farm products and exclude Canadian competitors. In that way rates might be advanced somewhat, for the benefit of the truck farmers of New England, but something else is needed for the relief of the great agricultural district west of the Alleghanies and north of the cotton line. It is in the triangle formed by Ohio, North Dakota and Kansas, covering twelve great States, that over-production has destroyed the profits of farming. No duty on farm products will be of any material benefit to this great section. At most, such levies will simply destroy trade with Canada and Mexico and substitute non-intercourse. Tariff charges on Canadian products cannot add to the value of the wheat, corn, beef, pork and flour produced in this country in excess of the power of home consumption, but they surely would take away the opportunity to exchange a part of the surplus with Canadian farmers. Nor is it possible to enlarge the number of consumers in the manufacturing industries, so that the entire enormous agricultural product shall be consumed in this country. It is beyond the power of congress to add to the price which the farmers of the west receive for their surplus products. Changes of the tariff based on this idea will surely prove misleading and disappointing. It is, however, in the power of congress to benefit the farmers by reducing the cost of the goods they take in exchange for their surplus products, so that an increased amount can be obtained for their crops. The British farmers have felt the effect of increased competition from America and a consequent reduction of their prices, but they have still obtained rates which seemed high to the American farmer, and their manufactured goods and wares have cost them little more than one half. Western farmers can receive bene fit from congress only by such reductions of the tariff on the necessities as will lower their cost of living. That is the only way in which the tariff can be reformed to the material advantage of farmers, and if it is not done by the Republicans in this congress it will be by the Democrats in the next in a radical and perhaps reckless fashion.
