NOTICE

The members of the Jasper County Democratic Central Committee are requested to meet at Rensselaer, on SATURDAY, APRIL 26, 1890, at 2 o'clock, p. m., for the transaction of important business.

A full attendance earnestly solicited.

Table with 2 columns: Township and Committee members. Includes names like Peter H. Zea, John Tillett, Joel F. Spriggs, etc.

D. W. SHIELDS, Chairman. Jas. W. McEwen, Sec'y.

The Indianapolis News, a republican paper, says: "Judge Bundy, of the circuit court at Newcastle, has decided unconstitutional the thirteenth section of the new election law (Australian). This clause provides that voters who have been out of the state and have returned six months preceding the election shall register their intention to vote with the county clerk. If Republicans identify themselves with hostility to our new election law they will array themselves against progress in a way that will conflict; and it is needless to say that progress will not be the one that will be hurt. On no other question are the people so much aroused as on this very reform election law, such as we have in Indiana. Its possession has already been our boast and pride. It is here to stay.

There is an increased foreign demand for our breadstuffs over last year. And yet McKinley and his co-workers seek to hoodwink our farmers with an increased tax on their productions under the pretense that it is necessary to protect them from competition with foreign farm products. This in face of the fact that this country produces for the world, is a reflection upon the intelligence of the agricultural community.

At the Winamac meeting of the stockholders of the Rochester, Rensselaer & St. Louis Railway company, a new directory was chosen, and a contract for grading the road was awarded to Major Benjamin, of New York.

Sixteen republican members of congress have united in a protest against the McKinley tariff bill. The bill, if passed, will reduce government revenues while it increases taxation for the benefit of monopolies.

Ingrain carpet manufacturers say that if the McKinley tariff bill becomes a law, it will practically wipe out their business, silence 4,000 looms and force 30,000 workmen into idleness. How's that for "protecting American industry!"

Our farmers are sowing 16 cent crops for the "home market" and preparing ground for the planting of 20 cent corn.

The republicans have stolen the Montana senators. It will return to plague them.

The Jasper County Farmers' Alliance was organized at a meeting held in the court house last Saturday afternoon, with the election of the following officers: President—D. E. Yeoman, of Marion township. Vice President—B. F. Maxwell, of Barkley township. Secretary—J. A. McFarland, of Jordan township. Treasurer—J. E. Smith, of Marion township. Business Agent—Wm. Washburn, of Jordan township. Chaplain—Peter Hinds, of Milroy township.

District Organizer, for Jasper & White counties—James Welsh. Six representatives were elected to the State Alliance, which meets May 21st. The Alliance, if harmony of action prevails, will prove a terror to combines, trusts, monopolies, etc.

PETERSON for May is as fresh and bright as spring itself. The steel engraving "Trying Old Tunes" is a beautiful picture both in design and execution. The double fashion plate gives specimens of the newest and most artistic styles for costumes, and the novel needle work patterns will charm all the ladies. "Girl Life in China" is a very interesting sketch, and is capably illustrated. Ella Higginson begins a novelet "A Love and a Passion," the opening chapters of which are written with great spirit and force. Miss Bowman's serial, "The Story of Dagma," grows more delightful with each number. The short tales and poems are among the best in the whole list of the month's periodicals, and Miss Elizabeth Scovill's paper on "Poisons and their Antidotes," ought to be posted up in every nursery. "Peterson" steadily improves, and offers such varied attractions that it amply sustains its well earned title of the model family magazine. Terms two dollars a year. Address, Peterson's Magazine, Philadelphia.

Hon. David Turpie's speech in the U. S. senate on the Montana senatorial cases, is conceded to be one of the strongest yet made. We quote from the Chicago Herald:

The speeches on these cases have all been dry legal arguments, with the exception of that made by Mr. Turpie. He created quite a stir by making a bitter personal attack on Mr Power, one of the aspirants for a seat. His arraignment of this would be senator was a most scathing one. Mr. Turpie has made several speeches since he has been in the senate, but his intimate friends did not credit him with the surprising vigor and ability which he displayed to-day. He was fairly overwhelmed with congratulations, and modestly retired from the chamber and received the homage of his colleagues in the privacy of the cloak room.

Nearly every member of the Kankakee election board was disqualified as either candidate or related to candidates. P. E. Davis directed attention to the matter, but too late to rectify it.

A Texas young man shot himself because a young lady refused to dance with him. In his blind rage he probably mistook himself for a rival.

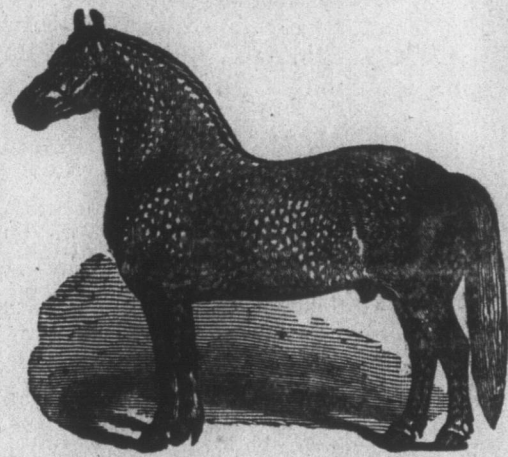

The "White House," to most people, means a flat, two-story unpicturesque white house, as the view generally given of it shows the severely plain north front; but there are many other views of the home of our Presidents, and we are indebted to Demorest's Family Magazine for laying them before us. The May number of this popular magazine literally takes you to Washington and shows you the "White House" from every point of view, as well as its charming surroundings. The seventeen beautiful illustrations will give you a better idea of the nation's Executive mansion than you could possibly gain by a personal visit; and never before has it been so fully and beautifully illustrated. This feature alone will make the May number of Demorest's family magazine have a phenomenal sale; and those who are so fortunate as to possess it, will find in it a fund of information and amusement, containing, as it does, nearly two hundred illustrations, embellishing such articles as "A May Festival in Florence," "Transformations of a Butterfly," "The Stellar Universe," "The Fairies of the Plains," "Modeling in Glass," "Kindergarten Work and Play for the Home," etc. Besides, in this number Ella Wheeler Wilcox commences an intensely interesting story; and two oil pictures, "I Won't!" and "I Will," make it doubly attractive. Published by W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East 14th st., New York.
