

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

The Democratic voters of Jasper county, and all other enemies of monopolies, trusts and combines, who believe that the adoption of Democratic principles are essential to the welfare of the whole people, are requested to meet in mass convention at the usual voting places, in the various townships, on SATURDAY, JULY 26, 1890, at 2 o'clock p. m., to transact the following business:

1st. Appoint a committee of three, who, with the chairman of township committee shall prepare a complete and accurate poll of the voters of the township, the same to be delivered to the chairman of the central committee on the date of the county convention.

2d. Select such other committees as may in the judgment of the convention be necessary to a complete and thorough organization of the party in the township.

3d. Select one delegate for each ten votes, and one for each fraction over five votes cast for C. C. Matson for Governor at the November election of 1888. The above apportionment entitles the various townships to delegates as follows:

Hanging Grove	4
Walker	4
Marion	20
Newton	7
Kankakee	4
Carpenter	17
Union	8
Gillam	4
Barkley	8
Jordan	7
Keener	3
Wheatfield	6
Milroy	3

The delegates so selected will meet in delegate convention in the Town of Rensselaer, on SATURDAY, AUGUST 2, 1890, at 1 o'clock p. m. to nominate a county ticket to be voted for at the November election, 1890, and also to appoint delegates to the various conventions.

By order of County Committee.
DAVID W. SHIELDS,
Chairman.
JAS. W. McEWEN, Sec'y.

The Democratic State Convention has been called to meet at Indianapolis, August 28, 1890. Jasper county will have five delegates.

Ex-Sheriff Mat. Henderson died at his home in Monticello, White County, last Friday night, and on Sunday following his remains were followed to the tomb by a vast assemblage of friends. He was elected Sheriff of White County 1860, 1862, and 1866, by the Democracy, and filled the position creditably and honorably. He was a valued citizen, and a friend who could always be relied upon.

A pension of $100 a month has been voted to the widow of Gen. Hazen. She is worth, in her own right, $500,000, and belongs to a very wealthy family, the McLeans, of Ohio.—Ex.

At the same time the Republican Congress say they have no money with which to pay pensions to deserving soldiers, who have no private fortunes to fall back on, and who need the money for the bare necessities of life.

Judge Hammond has consented to accept the republican nomination for Circuit Judge if the judicial convention is favorably disposed. The announcement caused a chill to seize the other competitors.

The Republican thinks the proposition of the McKinley bill to give a bounty to sugar producers is very nice. Wonder how it would work to give our farmers a bounty on grain production. It would be equally proper.

The terms of 28 U. S. senators expire in March 1891. Of these 11 are Democrats and 17 are Republicans. This is a Democratic year, and possibly the political complexion of the next senate will be materially changed.

After supplying the home market the farmers dispose of their surplus in foreign markets. They find American machinery selling for less in foreign countries than than they can procure them at home. Our home manufactures charge home customers higher prices than they do those in foreign lands. The republican tariff fosters this state of things.

The Wichita, Kansas, Eagle, which boasts of its staunch Republicanism says of the McKinley tariff bill: "The McKinley bill is an outrageous performance. It is but a cheap monkey show in the face of high heaven and the American people. It is an attempt to make an angel of the devil without abbreviating his tail or sawing off his horns. It takes dollars from the farmers and returns them dimes. It does not impose a single duty which will help a Kansas farmer." It predicts that the Republican party in Kansas "will hear something drop next November" if the bill passes.

The recent unveiling of the statue of Gen. Lee, at Richmond, Virginia, has been the cause of much vituperation from Republican orators, and wild howlings from Republican editors. The charge that the "star-spangled banner" was kept in the background while the "stars and bars" occupied an advanced position, is set at rest by the Philadelphia Press, the great Republican journal of Pennsylvania, who had a staff correspondent present on the occasion. "Everywhere," he says in his report, written on the day the monument was unveiled, "the stars and stripes wave from flagstaffs and hang from windows. Indeed the profusion with which the national flag is used for decoration is as marked as it would be in Philadelphia or New York or Boston." He describes in detail the manner in which the Union and Confederate flags were displayed side by side all over the city, saying that "the national flag floats over almost every door."

Thoughtful attention is challenged by the soldier memorial services at Vicksburg on Friday. Confederate and Union comrades marched side by side, and vied with each other in honoring the memory of the Blue and the Gray. Graves of the Union and the Confederate dead were adorned with flags and flowers, and addresses were made by veterans of the North and of the South. The event comes with pertinent force at the present moment. It should put to shame those who have sought to revive wartime animosities in connection with the ceremonies attendant upon the Lee statue dedicated in Richmond. While colonels who never smelled powder are valiantly engaged in waging on paper a new war against rebellion, those who once fought with each other engage in the arts of peace and cultivate a mutual charity and sympathy.

A Neat Swindle.

A peculiarly suspicious individual named Mack was in charge of the City hall cigar store, when two dapper looking young men entered. One carried in his hand an envelope which was addressed, but not sealed. "Can you give me a ten dollar note for these ten bills?" he asked. "The old lady wants to send the money in this letter."

The ten dollar bill was immediately given to the young man, who apparently put it in the letter. Mack counted the bills given in exchange and found only nine there. "There is only $9 in this," said he.

"Oh, how can that be?" said the young man. "The old lady must have made a mistake. I put the $10 in this letter and have sealed it. I don't want to open the envelope again. Will you just hold the letter with the $10 and I will take the $9 to the old lady."

Mack thought that fair enough, as he believed he saw the young man put $10 in the envelope. He still holds it. It is addressed to "Ed Idme, Binghampton, N. Y." It was not long before Mack opened it. But blank paper was all it contained.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Riding in California one day my companion called attention to a bird in the road ahead of me. It was something like a prairie chicken, but much more slender and graceful in build. It was not using its wings, but it moved very rapidly, and we had to keep the horse in a pretty good trot to keep up with it. My friend told me that it was a "road runner," a bird that was noted there for its pedestrian accomplishments, and a peculiar habit they have is to walk always in the center of the road.

When one of these birds meets a rattlesnake it behaves in such a coy manner that it leads the snake to think it will become the victim of its charm, and while it is keeping the snake in doubt as to its intentions it runs about in the cactus and picks off the thorns with its bill, dropping them in a circle around the snake until it has him completely surrounded by cactus thorns. Then it flies to some elevation and sits there to watch the snake stick himself to death on the thorns trying to get out of the ring.—J. S. Normile in St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Indications now are and the belief in Washington is becoming general that no tariff bill will be passed at this session. The senate will substitute a bill not so offensive to tariff reformers for the house measure, the two houses will be unable to agree and congress will adjourn with the question unsettled. In the fall campaigns the people of strong protection districts will be told that the McKinley bill will pass as soon as congress reassembles while in the districts where tariff reform is demanded the most solemn assurances will be given that the senate bill has been decided upon as the measure to be enacted. In this way the republicans hope to get the votes of the protected monopolists and the plundered tax-payers.

Jay W. Williams has three large rooms packed with furniture in great variety. No old or second hand stock. Many articles for the holidays is included in the display now open for inspection. Everybody respectfully invited to call.
