MR. CLEVELAND'S SPEECH.

The Indianapolis News, a prominent republican journal, refers in the following complimentary terms to the recent speech of Mr. Cleveland before the Cleveland Club, at Buffalo, N. Y.:

There are two conspicuous qualities in Mr. Cleveland's public speech—courage and substance. He says something. His utterance is not mere words, pretty nothing on a string of rhetoric, but embodied ideas. When he is done he has left something to be pondered, something worthy to inspire action. This something he gives the quality of inspiration to by his courage. His letter on the silver coinage question not long ago was one of the most courageous acts of the time. It was almost audacious in its courage.

Similarly in his speech to the Cleveland Democracy at Buffalo yesterday Mr. Cleveland, with his customary courage and direct drive of utterance, challenged the appalling extravagance of the time in our public expenditure. He rightly classified the billion dollar Congress as an effect, the spirit of extravagance as a cause. He showed how far and fast we were drifting from the old idea of economy and simplicity, and the one greatest evil effect of it, namely in the perversion of character it was causing.

"But to my mind, the saddest and most frightful result of public extravagance is seen in the readiness of the masses of our people, who are not dishonest but only only heedless, to acquiesce themselves to that dereliction in public place which it involves. Evidence is thus furnished that our countrymen are in danger of losing the scrupulous insistence upon the faithful discharge of duty on the part of their public servants, the regard for economy and frugality of sturdy Americanism."

Mr. Cleveland speaks like a philosopher here as well as a statesman. He correctly divines the insidious influence of this prodigality in public affairs. A pension list increased from fifty millions to nearly three times that, and the insatiable cry for more as fierce as ever; the river and harbor bill doubled—from $11,000,000 to $22,000,000—the treasury surplus sapped dry, and taxes blistered hotter and broader than ever, the beneficiaries of the extravagance being relied upon for support of the influences which work them and plunder the masses for them.

Mr. Cleveland's speech should be read by every citizen—by the plain man, the average American whose aims are pure and who is deceived because of his own trust in honesty and lack of knowledge. James Bryce in his great book on our institutions the "American Commonwealth," discussing the problem of American extravagance and corruption in public affairs maintains what European opinion thinks is a paradox, namely that the American people are pure; and he explains it by urging that he do not know what is going on, and when told it thinks it is the fault of the opposition. Mr. Cleveland emphasizes this same thing in his warning. But he gives the warning, and the words of a courageous, honest man, as his countrymen have found him to be, should count for much. The public treasury is drained, elements of our life debauched, and the most appalling system of class taxation known to civilization fastened on the masses. Labor is herded and driven like cattle, and new millionaires spring up every day.

THE MEANING OF FREE COINAGE.

[Montgomery Ala., Advertiser.] The National Stockman and Farmer having been frequently asked to define "free coinage of silver," wrote to the Treasury Department at Washington and got this definition from the Director of the Mint: "The term 'free and unlimited coinage of silver' means the conferring of the right upon individuals to take silver of any kind to the mints and have every 37 1/2 pure grains of it stamped, free of charge into a dollar, which dollar is a full legal tender for its face value in the payment of debts and obligations, of all kinds in the United States."

In other words says the Baltimore Sun an ounce of silver, (480 grains), which can now be bought in open market for 98 cents, is to pass, under the kind of free coinage now proposed, for $1.29. A speculator who paid $98 for 100 ounces would get at the Treasury $129 in National currency, making $31 by the transaction. Or, to put it differently, with the silver at 98 cents an ounce he would get 100 silver dollars or silver certificates, for silver bullion costing him $75.79. The average cost of producing silver in the United States in 1886 was 51.1 per ounce. In Montana the average cost was 43.3 cents per ounce. The Grants Mountain mine in that State, according to the official statement of the Granite Mountain Company to the director of the mint in 1886, produced 2,987,764 ounces of silver at a cost of 2 1/2 cents per ounce. In Mexico the cost is 43 1/2 cents; in South America, 34 1/2 cents; in Australia at the Broken Hill mine, 16 cents. Very large quantities of silver are produced at these figures.

COSTS TO CALL OUT TROOPS.

Soldiering is a costly business to the State. The two regiments recently sent to the coke regions at an expense of over $2000 a day already aggregate about $20,000. Judge Black once said it would be cheaper to pay laboring men the advance wages demanded out of the state treasury than to send soldiers to quell strikes. The capitalists and railroad companies make most of the money out of the coke business, and just now they are fighting the tax bill before the legislature because it requires them to pay something nearer a fairer proportion of taxes. They want the State to protect them against the lawless Huns they imported some years ago, because they would work cheaper than Americans, Irish, Germans and others. But at the same time these big coal and transportation companies insist upon the farmers continuing to pay more than their proper share of taxes, although they never ask or require any police protection from the State. Meadville (Pa.) Messenger.

While the Carnegies are an oppressive, grinding terror to their poor employees, they are an expensive luxury to the State. At the moment of his presentation of a $1,000,000 edifice to the city of New York Carnegie was requiring an expenditure of $20,000 by the state to reduce to submission his starving workmen in the coke regions.

All persons are invited to attend such service which is designed to consider the lessons that should be derived from the sad experiences of those four unhappy years of blood and tears, and to prepare and lead the minds of all to the exercises of the following Memorial Day.

JAS. A. BURNHAM, Post Adjutant.

MRS. MAY HAWKINS.

Oldest daughter of Dr. I. B. Washburn, of this place, had a severe surgical operation performed Wednesday of last week, at the Woman's Hospital, Chicago, and died the following Friday. The announcement of her death on Saturday was a complete surprise to our people who supposed she was enjoying good health. To her husband, parents and friends it was a terrible shock, and they have the sincere sympathy of the entire community.

About nine years ago May went to California with a view to improvement of health, and was there married to James E. Hawkins, in 1885. She united with the M. E. church in 1882.

Rev. T. F. Drake conducted the funeral services at the residence of her parents, Sunday afternoon. Interment in Weston cemetery. Her age was 26 years and 6 days.

A telegram from Pierre, South Dakota, to the Leatherman family at his place, contained the sad announcement of death by drowning of their son and brother, A. J. Leatherman. He was a young man, highly esteemed by all who knew him.

His brother, J. N. Leatherman, started Wednesday morning for Pierre, and will take charge of the body, if recovered.

A boy at Chas. Yates', Monday.

Mrs. Isaac Kepner, has been seriously sick, but is gradually recovering.

Dr. W. W. Hartsell attended the session of the State Homeopathic Association at Indianapolis, Thursday of last week.

Rev. Francis Cox, of Chicago, will conduct the service of the M. E. Quarterly Meeting, Sunday, May 31. The public cordially invited to attend.

Berry Brothers, of Monon, we understand will occupy the room recently vacated by Robinson & Ryan with a full line of groceries, etc.

Miss Blanche Lougbridge and Miss Mamie Spitzer attended the sessions of the Grand Lodge Daughters of Rebecca, at Indianapolis, the present week.

Rev. T. F. Drake, Miss Fannie Wood and Miss Estelle Parkison attended the annual convention of the Epworth League in session at Lafayette this week.

Frank Davis, of Morocco, has become proprietor of the "Morocco Courier" and will run it on the line of strict neutrality. He should receive a liberal support.

The Monon will give half-fare rates for the May Musical Festival at Indianapolis. One fare for the round trip; tickets will be sold May 26th, 27th and 28th, 1891, good going only on day of sale and limited to return until and including May 29th, 1891.

Jake Byerly, of Newton township, was recently "tapped" by the Drs. Loughbridge and a number of quarts of water drawn from his chest. He is on the improve.

At noon, on Tuesday last, the roof of the kitchen, connected with the residence of W. R. Nowels, was discovered to be in flame. The fire company was promptly on hand and soon had it under control. The damage was not great. Insured.

Rev. C. E. Withers, Ph. D. preached the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the Rensselaer High School last Sabbath morning. The remarks of the Rev. gentleman were regarded as highly practical and well suited for the occasion.

FLOUR! FLOUR!!

CASH! CASH!! CASH!!

Money is what makes the mare go. For the next 30 days we will sell our Flour at wholesale prices at the Mill or at J. C. Starr's grocery. Every sack warranted to be as good as any flour on the market, at $1.25 per sack. This is 5 to 20 per cent. less than you can get any where else in the country. Come and give us your cash and save money. Remember cash is what makes the price low. Don't ask for 3 days or 5 days.

SAYLER & HOPKINS.

TWO BEAUTIFUL YOUNG GIRLS

Who Will Create a Furore in Newport This Summer.

Newport is to have a sensation this summer. It is authentically stated that the beautiful and celebrated daughters of Lord Dufferin, Beatrice and Adelaide, are to grace this famous resort with their presence during the coming season.

It will be remembered that Beatrice's beautiful dark eyes have played havoc lately with the heart of Albert, the eldest son of the Prince of Wales. What it will amount to is as yet a matter of conjecture in England. The young ladies are acknowledged to be the most beautiful in all Europe, and there will be not a little excitement in the hearts of our American belles over their coming. They are exquisite dresses, and their costumes will be marvels of curiosity. Unlike most ladies, they know exactly what is suited to them. Some time ago they sent for the chief designer of the Paris house of The New York and Paris Young Ladies' Fashion Bazar, and selected forty costumes each, the cost of which will amount to thousands of pounds.

Through the courtesy of these young ladies we have been permitted to copy for The New York and Paris Young Ladies' Fashion Bazar two of their most exquisite costumes, which appear as figures 3 and 4 on the colored plates of the June number of this magazine, just out, and for which the publisher has issued, in the name of the American ladies, a card of thanks. It is rumored that the prince may follow the young ladies to Newport this summer. The New York and Paris Young Ladies' Fashion Bazar has the exclusive right to publish each month at least one or more of the costumes in which the ladies Beatrice and Adelaide will appear.

The late Republican Ex-State Treasurer Lemeke has been pressed to the front by the Indianapolis Journal managers for an interview by one of its reporters in order that "fodder" might be furnished the rural press of that persuasion throughout the State. The Republican contains its allotted share this week as usual. With the New York Press confining itself solely to the preparation of "Tariff Diagrams", and the Indianapolis Journal engaged in the manufacture of "ammunition" for the "small fry" of that party to explode against the new tax law, the average Republican journal to-day finds it no trouble to respond to the demands for "more copy."

One Bussey who canvassed Indiana in 1888 for Harrison, and declared that love for the republican party and its principles was the impelling motive and he neither sought nor desired reward, but who made haste to file his claims, and was appointed assistant secretary of the Interior, is a great admirer of Harrison and his administration. Holding place by his appointment, why shouldn't he be? He dare not favor another. But when he says "The Republican party is the only really national party in this country", it is very evident the "dampfools" are not all dead yet. He knows that "sectionalism" was and is the chief corner stone of the Republican faith and organization. Such exhibitions of subservience, hypocrisy and falsehood on the part of one claiming to be a free man is abhorrent to the masses.
