

EXILED FROM SERVIA.

EX-QUEEN NATALIE IS SENT ABROAD.

Shocking Casualty on the Hudson River Railroad—Over a Score of Italian Laborers Killed and Injured by Dynamite—Brief Political Mention.

EX-QUEEN NATALIE.

Hurried to the Hungarian Frontier.

Intense excitement prevails in Belgrade, the capital of Servia. A special dispatch says: Gendarmes forced their way into Natalie's bed-room and summoned her to arise, as she must instantly leave Servian territory. The Queen calmly replied that she would yield to force and requested the students who had so gallantly defended her and who were even then prepared to lay down their lives for her, to make no further resistance, so as to prevent any more bloodshed. She was then allowed to dress herself, and after bidding adieu to the leaders of her defenders, during which a most touching scene was witnessed, the exiled Queen was escorted to a private carriage, which was waiting at the palace entrance, and was hastily driven to the railroad station. At this station a special train was in waiting and the Queen was immediately conveyed on board. No sooner was this accomplished than the train left the depot for the Hungarian frontier, and Natalie of Servia, main, pale, but evidently suffering from intense emotion, left Belgrade, the scene of so many of her troubles and triumphs.

BLOWN TO ATOMS.

Thirty Killed and Injured—Much Property Destroyed.

A car laden with dynamite, to be used in blasting on the Hudson River Railroad, suddenly exploded a few miles below Tarrytown, N. Y.

The dynamite was to be used in the construction of a third track on the New York Central Railroad. The explosion came without warning. It shook the ground like an earthquake and tore up everything around about. The earth trembled and the air was filled with flying debris and fragments of human bodies. People a block off were thrown to the ground by the concussion. Glass was broken in the windows in houses and three hundred yards away. When the smoke cleared away there was a sickening spectacle. Thirty-one men, principally Italians, lay upon the ground. The car was nowhere to be seen; portions of the trucks were thrown 100 feet away. Not even the heavy iron wheels remained on the track. Portions of the track and the roadbed were blown away, and a great hole was dug in the ground.

Six Women Injured.

A fire occurred in some rubbish in the basement of the Edison Electric Light Company's Duane street works, New York City, probably caused by a defectively insulated wire. The fire communicated to a barrel of gasoline just as the firemen entered the place, and an explosion occurred which burned Captain Kenny, of Engine Company No. 7, and firemen Brudie, Callaghan, Ebert, and Deckert. Their injuries were not serious except in the case of Deckert and Brudie, who were taken to a hospital. They will be out in a few days. The fire did no considerable damage to property.

Mail Service to Alaska.

The first official act of the Postmaster General on his return to the department from his Western trip was to authorize the establishment of a complete mail service with the Territory of Alaska, which will be inaugurated July 1, the contract having been awarded to the North American Commercial Company of San Francisco, which will put on a line of steamers running as far west as Unalaska, touching at all the intermediate ports.

Original "Uncle Tom."

The Cambridge Afro-American League at Boston was addressed by George Lewis Clarke, who claims to be the original of "Uncle Tom." He says he was sold in Sanford, Va., in 1841 and taken to Lexington, Ky., where he escaped to Massachusetts, met Mrs. Stowe and furnished her with the facts that formed the basis of the story of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

His Skin Turning Black.

Henry Six, a young man of Noblesville, Ind., is affected with the same disease that killed Henry Welch, who turned black and died in New York a few days ago. Six is turning blacker every day and begins to look like a negro. His physicians are baffled and say that the trouble comes primarily from the liver.

The Gasol ne Route.

One man was burned to death and four men and two women were badly injured by a fire caused by the explosion of a gasoline stove at San Francisco.

Gone Hence.

Colonel L. M. Dayton, an intimate military companion of General Sherman, died at the Queen City Club in Cincinnati.

Matthews in the Field.

Col. A. C. Matthews, First Comptroller of the Treasury, announces that he is a candidate for Governor of Illinois.

One End of the War.

First Lieutenant C. A. L. Totten, Fourth Artillery, United States Army, who is at present detailed as a military instructor in the Sheffield Scientific School at Yale, believes that the end of the world is at hand and that Christ will reappear on earth before 1893.

An Habitual Criminal.

Wilson Osman, of Lima, Ohio, while drunk attacked Bob Shirliff with a knife and killed him. Osman was only released from the penitentiary last week for stabbing a man about a year ago.

SAYS TERRORISM MUST END.

Mayor Shakespeare of New Orleans Lectures a Leader of the Mafia.

Mayor Shakespeare, of New Orleans, sent a message to Joe Provenzano to call upon him, and when Joe presented himself he was addressed as follows: "I know well enough that you have long been at the head of a disturbing element here that has been a menace to the peace of this community. Now, there must be once and forever an end of this. I am sick and tired of it. I tell you you must take your hands off. I have issued orders to the chief of police that he use his entire force to prevent you from carrying your designs into execution. I am sorry now that I am obliged to go to Denver. If I could remain here I would personally take command of the police force and I would use every means at my command to wipe from the face of the earth every member of your gang who tries to raise his hand against a member of this community. In my absence my representatives will act for me. When I return I shall act myself. But this reign of terror must stop, and if there is a way possible to do it, it will stop. Now you have been warned." Provenzano had very little to say, except to protest his innocence. He left the hall very much crushed. The Provenzos, who were charged by the Rev. Father Manoritta, were at the head of the Mafia society.

THIS IS ENCOURAGING.

There is a Notable Strengthening in All Lines of Business.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

In every respect the outlook is more favorable than the larger exports of gold and the advance in Bank of England rate to 5 per cent, obviously for the purpose of drawing more gold from this country. It is a most favorable symptom that the cotton exports in April were about double last year's in value as to cotton, and showed an increase in oil and provisions, but a decrease in cattle and in breadstuffs, yet in breadstuffs the decrease was wholly in corn, and the surplus of wheat available for export was, May 1, about 39,000,000 bushels. The exports of wheat from Atlantic ports have been much smaller than a year ago, until last week, when an increase of 10 per cent appeared. In corn the decrease is heavy, of course. The iron furnaces in blast May 1 were of about 2,000 tons greater weekly capacity than April 1, 115,500 tons, against 113,485 a month ago, and 150,000 a year ago. But the trade is less depressed and the long delay in settlement of the coke strike tends to strengthen prices. The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days number 237 as compared with a total of 243 last week. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 212.

A LITTLE TOO REACTIVE.

Jennie Yeamans Faints, but She Pulls the Hero from the Plank Just in Time.

The "buzz-saw" scene in "Blue Jeans," at McVicker's Theater, Chicago, was never more loudly applauded than at a recent performance. In this particular scene, Mr. Harcourt, the hero, is thrown by the villain and fastened on a board, which, as the machinery is set in motion, gradually approaches the big circular saw. It is the duty of the heroine, Miss Yeamans, to cut herself out of the office in which she has been locked up, and save the hero at the moment the saw is about to cut him in two. "Fascinated there me just six inches out of place," said Mr. Harcourt, "but I didn't know it. Miss Yeamans saw the danger I was in, and tried to get at me. She tried to open the door as she usually does, but for some unaccountable reason she couldn't. She then burst in with her hands, slightly cutting them. Instead of running down the steps, she jumped, nearly upsetting herself. She managed to get to me just in time to free me, and as the curtain fell she fainted." This will seem singular, as it is generally believed that the huge saw that looks so dangerous cannot do any injury to any one. Evidently such is not the case.

BEYOND THE SEA.

Agents of the World's Fair Will Be Sent Abroad.

Director General Davis, of the World's Columbian Commission, recently requested the Secretary of the Treasury to permit the payment of the expenses of certain persons to go abroad in the interest of the Exposition of the money appropriated by Congress to be used in connection with the admission of foreign exhibits. The department has decided that not exceeding three citizens, to be suggested by the Director General, may be designated by the Secretary of the Treasury to not under the provisions of the law above mentioned and to be paid from the appropriation referred to. Such persons will co-operate with such representatives of the Treasury Department as may be sent by the Secretary directly to furnish information in foreign countries as to the methods of admitting foreign exhibits.

NAVASSA RIOTERS SAVED.

Their Death Sentences Commuted to Imprisonment for Life.

The President has commuted to imprisonment for life at hard labor the sentence of the three Navassa rioters sentenced by the Circuit Court of Maryland to be hanged. In taking this action President Harrison says: "The conditions surrounding the prisoners and their fellows were of a most peculiar character. They were American citizens under contracts to perform labor upon specified terms within American territory removed from any opportunity to appeal to any court or public office for redress of any injury or the enforcement of any civil right. Their employers were, in fact, their masters. The bosses placed over them imposed fines and penalties without any semblance of trial. These penalties extended to imprisonment and even to the cruel practice of trying men up for a refusal to work. Escape was impossible and the state of things generally such as might make men reckless and desperate."

THE GOT NO FAVORS.

The Chilean Warship Put into Acapulco and Makes Several Requests.

A delayed telegram from Acapulco states that the Esmeralda had left that port after having sought several favors, which were refused. The Esmeralda is well armed and equipped. She received telegrams from the United States and then went to meet the Itata. A Manzanillo telegram says that the captain of a fishing boat there claims that his vessel was nearly run down before daylight by a large steamer without lights bound north.

POSSIBILITY OF THE CHASE.

What May Happen if the Itata Enters Acapulco Harbor.

The San Francisco Call has an interview with A. K. Coney, the Mexican consul-general, in regard to the probable action of the Mexican government if the Itata enters the port of Acapulco. He says Acapulco is a neutral port, and he is confident the Charleston would not be permitted to seize the Itata there. But if the Chilean vessel enters there with contraband goods on board it is probable the Mexican officers will train the guns of the fort on her and seize her themselves. The fort is not a very powerful one, but is strong enough to capture the Itata.

SMALLPOX AT NASHVILLE.

Wholesale Vaccination of People in the Infected District.

A Knoxville (Tenn.) special says: Four reputable physicians of this city are authorized for the statement that there is a well-defined case of smallpox here. The Board of Health, in conjunction with the city authorities, at once took charge of the premises, put a strong guard around the house, and began the work of vaccinating all the people near by.

A SEA OF FIRE.

A Tract of Country in Pennsylvania Sixty Miles in Extent Swept by Flames.

A special from Punksutawney, Pa., says: A great fire is raging along the mountains between Punksutawney and Bellwood. It is sixty miles in length. Men who live in this section state that a fire of like proportions previous to this date was never known.

Cannon May Roar.

The United States steamer Charleston and the Chilean ironclad Esmeralda are both at Acapulco, Mexico. The Esmeralda's Captain spoke the Charleston, and said to Captain Remy that the Itata would not be taken unless the Esmeralda was sunk first. "All right," said Remy, "I have orders to take the Itata, and will do so." The Itata is not yet in sight, but a fight is surely expected when she appears. Naturally lively times are looked for. The men in the Chilean cruiser have been expressing their wish for an engagement with the Charleston's men. Both cruisers are now keenly watching each other, and the residents of Acapulco are in a fever of excitement. They expect to see a fierce sea battle right off the coast at any time.

Looking to a Third Party.

The so-called National Union conference of the organization supposed to favor a third party has attracted a large crowd of grangers to Cincinnati, but it is a significant fact that comparatively few States in the East are represented. Two delegates from Maine and four from Massachusetts comprise the contingent from New England. The Maine delegates are old Greenbackers who were here four years ago at the organization of the old Union Labor party, while those from Boston are disciples of Edward Bellamy and his utopian ideas. The New York delegation is small and there are only two or three from Pennsylvania.

Shipping Chinesen in Bond.

At San Antonio, Tex., a train load of Chinesen in bond arrived on their way from Europe to China. They were in second-class cars, the doors of which were locked and two policemen had charge of the shipment. They will not be permitted to leave the cars until they are placed on board the steamer at San Francisco.

Coke Strikers Encouraged.

Reports from the Pennsylvania coke region are rather encouraging for the men. One hundred and fifty men joined the strikers, many of them leaving the region. Operators, however, are confident and say they will ship ten men in to one who leaves. Evictions are occurring with monotonous regularity, the strikers invariably giving peaceful possession.

Wholesale Discharge of Switchmen.

The Chicago and Northwestern Railroad discharged all the switchmen employed on its main line. The switchmen have antagonized not only the management of the road but other employees, and the action of the company is said to have been taken after an understanding had been reached with the other organizations of railroad employees.

At Last a Conviction.

A Charleston (W. Va.) dispatch says: In the United States District Court, Warren M. Frame, of Raleigh County, was convicted of violating the lottery law by sending a letter through the United States mails to the Louisiana lottery, and was fined $25 and costs by Judge Jackson. This is the first conviction for the offense known to have been made in the United States.

Slew His Father.

The grand jury at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., failed to indict William Coulter for the murder of his father. Coulter was on a load of hay when he met his father at a road. The old man had an ax in his hand and told his son he would kill him if he passed the gate. When the old man attempted to strike the horses with the ax the son shot him dead.

He Will Survive.

A German court has sentenced the proof-reader of a paper, which published a seditious article, to four months' imprisonment. The sentence seems to cause some surprise in Germany. It would be accepted as a matter of course here where one of the fundamental principles of journalism is to lay all blame upon the meek and long-suffering shoulders of the proof-reader.

Big Blaze at Joliet.

Joliet, Ill., has been visited by one of the most disastrous fires in her experience. The extensive works of the Joliet Enterprise Company were entirely destroyed, involving a loss of at least $125,000, on which there was an insurance of $90,000. Three hundred men are thrown out of employment.

Aid for Needy Jews.

The trustees of the Baron Hirsch fund are considering the question of investing $100,000 of the fund in fifty dwelling houses to be built near New York. It was said by those in authority that this is an experiment and intended to relieve some of the densely populated Jewish districts in New York City.

India Will Send an Exhibit.

From far-away Bombay comes Henry Ballantine, to tell the Exposition Directors what British India is likely to do for the World's Fair. He was born in India, is the son of an American missionary, and is an attaché of the American Consulate in Bombay. He predicts that India will contribute a magnificent exhibit at the fair.

More Pennsylvania Rioting.

Hungarian strikers assaulted two Italian deputies at Leith, Pa. The assailants robbed one of the deputies named Tony of his revolver, watch, and $100 in money. Both men were badly hurt. The Hungs were recently evicted from company houses and are very bitter.

Twelve Thousand Coke Handlers Idle.

A Scotland (Pa.) special says the Stonerville and Eagle plants resumed with a sufficient force of 400 men to make a fair showing. The operators now have over five thousand ovens burning, and more than that number of men working. There are yet over twelve thousand men idle.

Slow Collections Downed Him.

W. R. Holland, a merchant of Louisville, Ind., made an assignment to W. A. Holland. His liabilities are about $13,000, and the assets are estimated at from $10,000 to $25,000. He will pay dollar for dollar. Saw collections were the cause of his trouble.

Poisoning Fish by Wholesale.

Near Martinsville, Ind., thousands of dead fish are floating down White River. The cause of this is the poisoning of the water by the sewage of the strawboard works at Noblesville. Efforts will be made to prevent this wholesale poisoning of fish.

Admiral Braine's Successor.

Secretary Tracy has announced his selection of Captain Henry Erben to command the New York Navy Yard, succeeding Admiral Braine, who is about to be placed on the retired list of the navy.
