

Don't Blame 'Em, Bless 'Em.
The women of Zurich, Switzerland, have secured the suppression of the Thierbuch, a publication revealing their ages, occupations, descendants, etc. It was issued annually, and was more frequently consulted at cafes and other public resorts than the city directory.

An Expert's Opinion.

Our readers have doubtless noticed the numerous discussions by the scientists and hygienists as to the relative value of the various baking powders. A careful sifting of the evidence leaves no doubt as to the superiority of the Royal Baking Powder in purity, wholesomeness and strength, from a scientific standpoint. An opinion, however, that will have perhaps greater influence with our practical housekeepers, is that given by Marion Harland, the well-known and popular writer upon matters pertaining to the science of domestic economy, of housekeeping, and of home cooking. In a letter published in the Philadelphia Ladies' Home Journal, this writer says:

"I regard the Royal Baking Powder as the best manufactured and in the market, as far as I have any experience in the use of such compounds. Since I have used no other in making biscuits, cakes, etc. and have entirely discarded for such purposes the home-made combination of one-third soda, two-thirds cream of tartar.

"Every box has been in perfect condition when it came into my hands, and the contents have given complete satisfaction. It is an act of simple justice, and also a pleasure, to recommend it unqualifiedly to American housewives. MARION HARLAND."

DOLLARS bring dollars.

A DISTURBANCE

isn't what you want, if your stomach and bowels are irregular. That's about all you get, though, with the Royal Baking Powder. It may leave you for the moment, but you're usually in a worse state afterward than before.

This is just where Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do most good. They act in an easy and natural way, very different from the huge, old-fashioned pills. They're not only pleasant, but they're no reaction afterward, and their body lasts. One little sugar-coated pellet for a gentle laxative or corrective—three for a cathartic. Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Diarrhoea, Sick and Bilious Headaches, are promptly relieved and cured.

They're the smallest, the easiest to take—and the cheapest pill you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

You pay only for the good you get.

DO YOU COUGH
DON'T DELAY
TAKE KEMP'S BALSAM
THE BEST COUGH CURE

It Cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Infuses, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A few drops in advanced stages. Use it now.
You will see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Sold by dealers everywhere. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.00.

The Marked Success
of Scott's Emulsion in consumption, scrofula and other forms of hereditary disease is due to its powerful food properties.

Scott's Emulsion

rapidly creates healthy flesh—proper weight. Hereditary taints develop only when the system becomes weakened.

Nothing in the world of medicine has been so successful in diseases that are most menacing to life. Physicians everywhere prescribe it.

Prepared by Scott & Bowes, N. Y. All druggists.

RADWAY'S PILLS,

Purely vegetable mild and reliable. Cures perfect.

Diarrhoea, Colic, Abortion and habitual constipation. For the cure of all disorders of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys, Bladder, Nervous Diseases,

LOSS OF APPETITE,

SICK HEADACHE,

INDIGESTION,

DIZZY FEELINGS,

BILIOUSNESS,

TORPID LIVER,

DYSPEPSIA.

PERFECT DIGESTION will be accomplished by taking Radway's Pills. By their ANTI-BILIOUS properties they stimulate the liver in the secretion of bile, and thus facilitate absorption and healthful excretion. For the cure of all disorders of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys, Bladder, Nervous Diseases, etc.

RADWAY & CO., NEW YORK.

$40,000,000
Earned by the Bell Telephone Patent in 1891. Your investment may be valuable. You should protect it by patent. Address for full and intelligent advice, free of charge.

W. W. DODGE & CO.

Pacific Bldg., 62 F. St. N. W., Washington, D. C.

Mention this paper.

BEST POLISH IN THE WORLD.

RISING SUN STOVE POLISH

DO NOT BE DECEIVED—

With Pastes, Enamels, and Paints which stain the hands, injure the iron, and burn the skin. RISING SUN Stove Polish is gentle, Odorous, Durable, and the consumer pays for no tin or glass package with every purchase.

WAS AN ANNUAL SALE OF 3,000 TONS.

DEPOSED THE QUEEN.

SUDDEN BUT BLOODLESS RE-VOLT IN HAWAII.

Illuokalani Tries a Coup Which Proves a Boomerang—Provisional Government Recognized—Annexation to the United States Demanded—Foreigners Are in Control.

Uncle Sam's Tars Landed.
Little Hawaii's turbulent history has come to a climax. Queen Illuokalani has been deposed and four citizens, two of them Hawaiians of American parentage, one an American, and one a Scotchman, are in charge of the provisional government which has replaced the island monarchy. The overthrow of the government was accomplished without bloodshed or violence, and was the work of a few hours. The crisis came as a bolt from the blue sky, though those who knew and feared the dusky Queen's intrigues were not wholly surprised.

Mail advices via the steamship Claudine to San Francisco say that the revolt began on the forenoon of Saturday, Jan. 14, and by the following Tuesday stood around his bier. All business in the nation's capital was suspended while the funeral services were in progress. The presence of the President and his Cabinet and Supreme Judges and high officials of Congress and of the diplomatic corps was not more significant than the homage of the waiting crowds who in respectful silence lined the streets through which the funeral cortège passed.

DEPOSED QUEEN LILIUOKALANI

The body of the late ex-Secretary was removed Sunday evening at 5 o'clock and placed in the parlor on the north side of the second floor of the Blaine residence. The windows of this room open upon Lafayette Square, one of most delightful spots in Washington. This plat of ground stands the State, War and Navy Building, where the dead man achieved his latest triumphs in statecraft and diplomacy. During the afternoon and evening a number of Mr. Blaine's friends called at the house and took a last look upon the face of the departed. The expression of the face was peaceful, and the lineaments of that well-known countenance showed but few traces of the ravages of the disease that carried him to his grave.

The casket was almost buried under the mass of floral tributes which were received, many of them from a distance. It lay in the room where the first prayers of the funeral service were said by the Rev. Dr. Tunis S. Hamlin of the Church of the Covenant. Notwithstanding the fact that the funeral was a private one the attendants upon the services were as truly national in their representative character as if a President were being buried. The State of Maine sent a delegation of fourteen, headed by Gov. Cleaves; Massachusetts had a delegation of five members; the Union League Club of New York sent twenty-five of its members to represent the organization, and the Union League Club of Philadelphia twenty. From various other states, Pennsylvania, New England, and the South, delegations of societies and organizations. Altogether a hundred or more of these representatives were present. Personal friends to the number of sixty-five came from various parts of the country. Mrs. Garfield was there, and others from cities as widely separated as Portland and Omaha. The Maine delegation was invited to attend the services at the house.

Services at the House.
The ceremonies inside the house were impressively simple. Before the hour of 10 the invited guests began to arrive and take their seats in the front part of the mansion. There were no chairs reserved, except for the President and for the immediate family of the deceased. Eleven o'clock was the hour named for the simple service of prayer which was to precede the removal of the body to the church for the more public rites. It was only a few minutes after that hour when the mourners entered, and the afternoon it ended. The four men who rule the islands are: Sanford B. Dole, in charge of the Department of Foreign Affairs; P. C. Jones, Finance; James A. King, Department of the Interior; William G. Smith, Attorney General. They were appointed by a citizens' committee of thirteen, to which the people gave entire control of the government.

The deposed Queen at last accounts was in her private residence in Honolulu, at her own request was under an honorary guard of sixteen men. The deposed Queen at last accounts was in her private residence in Honolulu, at her own request was under an honorary guard of sixteen men. The ceremonies inside the house were impressively simple. Before the hour of 10 the invited guests began to arrive and take their seats in the front part of the mansion. There were no chairs reserved, except for the President and for the immediate family of the deceased. Eleven o'clock was the hour named for the simple service of prayer which was to precede the removal of the body to the church for the more public rites. It was only a few minutes after that hour when the mourners entered, and the afternoon it ended. The four men who rule the islands are: Sanford B. Dole, in charge of the Department of Foreign Affairs; P. C. Jones, Finance; James A. King, Department of the Interior; William G. Smith, Attorney General. They were appointed by a citizens' committee of thirteen, to which the people gave entire control of the government.

The deposed Queen at last accounts was in her private residence in Honolulu, at her own request was under an honorary guard of sixteen men. The

ceremonies inside the house were impressively simple. Before the hour of 10 the invited guests began to arrive and take their seats in the front part of the mansion. There were no chairs reserved, except for the President and for the immediate family of the deceased. Eleven o'clock was the hour named for the simple service of prayer which was to precede the removal of the body to the church for the more public rites. It was only a few minutes after that hour when the mourners entered, and the afternoon it ended. The four men who rule the islands are: Sanford B. Dole, in charge of the Department of Foreign Affairs; P. C. Jones, Finance; James A. King, Department of the Interior; William G. Smith, Attorney General. They were appointed by a citizens' committee of thirteen, to which the people gave entire control of the government.

The deposed Queen at last accounts was in her private residence in Honolulu, at her own request was under an honorary guard of sixteen men. The

ceremonies inside the house were impressively simple. Before the hour of 10 the invited guests began to arrive and take their seats in the front part of the mansion. There were no chairs reserved, except for the President and for the immediate family of the deceased. Eleven o'clock was the hour named for the simple service of prayer which was to precede the removal of the body to the church for the more public rites. It was only a few minutes after that hour when the mourners entered, and the afternoon it ended. The four men who rule the islands are: Sanford B. Dole, in charge of the Department of Foreign Affairs; P. C. Jones, Finance; James A. King, Department of the Interior; William G. Smith, Attorney General. They were appointed by a citizens' committee of thirteen, to which the people gave entire control of the government.

The deposed Queen at last accounts was in her private residence in Honolulu, at her own request was under an honorary guard of sixteen men. The

ceremonies inside the house were impressively simple. Before the hour of 10 the invited guests began to arrive and take their seats in the front part of the mansion. There were no chairs reserved, except for the President and for the immediate family of the deceased. Eleven o'clock was the hour named for the simple service of prayer which was to precede the removal of the body to the church for the more public rites. It was only a few minutes after that hour when the mourners entered, and the afternoon it ended. The four men who rule the islands are: Sanford B. Dole, in charge of the Department of Foreign Affairs; P. C. Jones, Finance; James A. King, Department of the Interior; William G. Smith, Attorney General. They were appointed by a citizens' committee of thirteen, to which the people gave entire control of the government.

The deposed Queen at last accounts was in her private residence in Honolulu, at her own request was under an honorary guard of sixteen men. The

ceremonies inside the house were impressively simple. Before the hour of 10 the invited guests began to arrive and take their seats in the front part of the mansion. There were no chairs reserved, except for the President and for the immediate family of the deceased. Eleven o'clock was the hour named for the simple service of prayer which was to precede the removal of the body to the church for the more public rites. It was only a few minutes after that hour when the mourners entered, and the afternoon it ended. The four men who rule the islands are: Sanford B. Dole, in charge of the Department of Foreign Affairs; P. C. Jones, Finance; James A. King, Department of the Interior; William G. Smith, Attorney General. They were appointed by a citizens' committee of thirteen, to which the people gave entire control of the government.

The deposed Queen at last accounts was in her private residence in Honolulu, at her own request was under an honorary guard of sixteen men. The

ceremonies inside the house were impressively simple. Before the hour of 10 the invited guests began to arrive and take their seats in the front part of the mansion. There were no chairs reserved, except for the President and for the immediate family of the deceased. Eleven o'clock was the hour named for the simple service of prayer which was to precede the removal of the body to the church for the more public rites. It was only a few minutes after that hour when the mourners entered, and the afternoon it ended. The four men who rule the islands are: Sanford B. Dole, in charge of the Department of Foreign Affairs; P. C. Jones, Finance; James A. King, Department of the Interior; William G. Smith, Attorney General. They were appointed by a citizens' committee of thirteen, to which the people gave entire control of the government.

The deposed Queen at last accounts was in her private residence in Honolulu, at her own request was under an honorary guard of sixteen men. The

ceremonies inside the house were impressively simple. Before the hour of 10 the invited guests began to arrive and take their seats in the front part of the mansion. There were no chairs reserved, except for the President and for the immediate family of the deceased. Eleven o'clock was the hour named for the simple service of prayer which was to precede the removal of the body to the church for the more public rites. It was only a few minutes after that hour when the mourners entered, and the afternoon it ended. The four men who rule the islands are: Sanford B. Dole, in charge of the Department of Foreign Affairs; P. C. Jones, Finance; James A. King, Department of the Interior; William G. Smith, Attorney General. They were appointed by a citizens' committee of thirteen, to which the people gave entire control of the government.

The deposed Queen at last accounts was in her private residence in Honolulu, at her own request was under an honorary guard of sixteen men. The

ceremonies inside the house were impressively simple. Before the hour of 10 the invited guests began to arrive and take their seats in the front part of the mansion. There were no chairs reserved, except for the President and for the immediate family of the deceased. Eleven o'clock was the hour named for the simple service of prayer which was to precede the removal of the body to the church for the more public rites. It was only a few minutes after that hour when the mourners entered, and the afternoon it ended. The four men who rule the islands are: Sanford B. Dole, in charge of the Department of Foreign Affairs; P. C. Jones, Finance; James A. King, Department of the Interior; William G. Smith, Attorney General. They were appointed by a citizens' committee of thirteen, to which the people gave entire control of the government.

The deposed Queen at last accounts was in her private residence in Honolulu, at her own request was under an honorary guard of sixteen men. The

ceremonies inside the house were impressively simple. Before the hour of 10 the invited guests began to arrive and take their seats in the front part of the mansion. There were no chairs reserved, except for the President and for the immediate family of the deceased. Eleven o'clock was the hour named for the simple service of prayer which was to precede the removal of the body to the church for the more public rites. It was only a few minutes after that hour when the mourners entered, and the afternoon it ended. The four men who rule the islands are: Sanford B. Dole, in charge of the Department of Foreign Affairs; P. C. Jones, Finance; James A. King, Department of the Interior; William G. Smith, Attorney General. They were appointed by a citizens' committee of thirteen, to which the people gave entire control of the government.

The deposed Queen at last accounts was in her private residence in Honolulu, at her own request was under an honorary guard of sixteen men. The

ceremonies inside the house were impressively simple. Before the hour of 10 the invited guests began to arrive and take their seats in the front part of the mansion. There were no chairs reserved, except for the President and for the immediate family of the deceased. Eleven o'clock was the hour named for the simple service of prayer which was to precede the removal of the body to the church for the more public rites. It was only a few minutes after that hour when the mourners entered, and the afternoon it ended. The four men who rule the islands are: Sanford B. Dole, in charge of the Department of Foreign Affairs; P. C. Jones, Finance; James A. King, Department of the Interior; William G. Smith, Attorney General. They were appointed by a citizens' committee of thirteen, to which the people gave entire control of the government.

The deposed Queen at last accounts was in her private residence in Honolulu, at her own request was under an honorary guard of sixteen men. The

ceremonies inside the house were impressively simple. Before the hour of 10 the invited guests began to arrive and take their seats in the front part of the mansion. There were no chairs reserved, except for the President and for the immediate family of the deceased. Eleven o'clock was the hour named for the simple service of prayer which was to precede the removal of the body to the church for the more public rites. It was only a few minutes after that hour when the mourners entered, and the afternoon it ended. The four men who rule the islands are: Sanford B. Dole, in charge of the Department of Foreign Affairs; P. C. Jones, Finance; James A. King, Department of the Interior; William G. Smith, Attorney General. They were appointed by a citizens' committee of thirteen, to which the people gave entire control of the government.

The deposed Queen at last accounts was in her private residence in Honolulu, at her own request was under an honorary guard of sixteen men. The

ceremonies inside the house were impressively simple. Before the hour of 10 the invited guests began to arrive and take their seats in the front part of the mansion. There were no chairs reserved, except for the President and for the immediate family of the deceased. Eleven o'clock was the hour named for the simple service of prayer which was to precede the removal of the body to the church for the more public rites. It was only a few minutes after that hour when the mourners entered, and the afternoon it ended. The four men who rule the islands are: Sanford B. Dole, in charge of the Department of Foreign Affairs; P. C. Jones, Finance; James A. King, Department of the Interior; William G. Smith, Attorney General. They were appointed by a citizens' committee of thirteen, to which the people gave entire control of the government.

The deposed Queen at last accounts was in her private residence in Honolulu, at her own request was under an honorary guard of sixteen men. The

ceremonies inside the house were impressively simple. Before the hour of 10 the invited guests began to arrive and take their seats in the front part of the mansion. There were no chairs reserved, except for the President and for the immediate family of the deceased. Eleven o'clock was the hour named for the simple service of prayer which was to precede the removal of the body to the church for the more public rites. It was only a few minutes after that hour when the mourners entered, and the afternoon it ended. The four men who rule the islands are: Sanford B. Dole, in charge of the Department of Foreign Affairs; P. C. Jones, Finance; James A. King, Department of the Interior; William G. Smith, Attorney General. They were appointed by a citizens' committee of thirteen, to which the people gave entire control of the government.

The deposed Queen at last accounts was in her private residence in Honolulu, at her own request was under an honorary guard of sixteen men. The

ceremonies inside the house were impressively simple. Before the hour of 10 the invited guests began to arrive and take their seats in the front part of the mansion. There were no chairs reserved, except for the President and for the immediate family of the deceased. Eleven o'clock was the hour named for the simple service of prayer which was to precede the removal of the body to the church for the more public rites. It was only a few minutes after that hour when the mourners entered, and the afternoon it ended. The four men who rule the islands are: Sanford B. Dole, in charge of the Department of Foreign Affairs; P. C. Jones, Finance; James A. King, Department of the Interior; William G. Smith, Attorney General. They were appointed by a citizens' committee of thirteen, to which the people gave entire control of the government.

The deposed Queen at last accounts was in her private residence in Honolulu, at her own request was under an honorary guard of sixteen men. The ceremonies inside the house were impressively simple. Before the hour of 10 the invited guests began to arrive and take their seats in the front part of the mansion. There were no chairs reserved, except for the President and for the immediate family of the deceased. Eleven o'clock was the hour named for the simple service of prayer which was to precede the removal of the body to the church for the more public rites. It was only a few minutes after that hour when the mourners entered, and the afternoon it ended. The four men who rule the islands are: Sanford B. Dole, in charge of the Department of Foreign Affairs; P. C. Jones, Finance;