WISE KING HUMBERT.

He Does Not Wish His People to Present Gifts to Him.

King Humbert's announcement that neither his wife nor himself will consent to receive any gifts from their subjects on the occasion of their silver wedding, which takes place next spring, has given universal satisfaction, as government officials all over the country had already stated local subscriptions for the purpose of presenting some offering to the majesties on their silver wedding day.

King Humbert has, moreover, intimated that any sums which may have already been collected for the purpose, and which the donors do not wish to receive back, should be devoted to the foundation of an establishment for the care of the invalids at Paris or the Chelsea Hospital in London, where old pensioned soldiers, wounded in the service of their country might find a comfortable home for the remainder of their days.

What They Eat.

The ways of royalties are so interesting to outside barbarians that it thrills us to hear on good authority that the Czar of all the Russias eats five meals a day, and that England's Queen, at no matter how big a banquet, dines modestly on mutton or beef and wines or beer. His Holiness Pope Leo XIII. is the most abstemious of all the monarchs. Sweden's Queen loves above all things the meat pies that are served in Nice; next to that dainty she prefers the national dish of salmon. The German Emperor is fastidious about food. His special weakness is for ham and eggs cooked in the English fashion. The Empress of Austria gives her whole mind to culinary improvements. She has invented an apparatus for roasting 100 fowls at once. She is not particular about her own eating, but likes to provide for others. The much-reviled Sultan of Turkey lives frugally on rice and mutton, and drinks only water. Bismarck is a tremendous eater. Almost fasting through the day he reserves his forces for a stupendous dinner at 7, when he eats like a pig and drinks like a fiend. President Carnot sets as good a table as the country can supply, and as his digestion is unknown to him, he eats like an artistic epicure. King Humbert is a very small eater, but it is his wife, Maria Theresa, that the beautiful empress enjoys her dinners as much as the emperor. Every day of the year her majesty has a dish of strawberries served to her. The King of the Belgians eats too much. The King of Greece is a voracious eater. The Danish monarch. His wife, Queen Olga, insists on Russian cooking. Little Alphonse, under the care of a wise physician, and a profound doctor, is becoming as might a mount-

If you would avoid sickness among the children, keep a bottle of Mehol in your house and when your child shows symptoms of sickness, give a few doses and you will have no doctor bills to pay. For sale by druggists.

Your children that are in school will be tired of a distressing headache which is so common among school children in warm weather, by the use of an occasional dose of MEHOL. For sale by all druggists.

Go to the New York Millinery store for your stylish hats and dress making.

The Monon route has discontinued the sale of Flayer commutation tickets, and in their stead have placed on sale excursion tickets good for five days from date of sale, Rensselaer to Chicago and return at the rate of $2.50.

DR. HARLAN H. BALLARD, PRESIDENT OF THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION IN POPULAR SCIENCE NEWS, ON THE BIRDS OF NORTH AMERICA.

In connection with the foregoing report of our Ornithological Chapter, it is only right to call the attention of all lovers of birds to the magnificent work now being issued by the Natural Science Association of America, in its little "THE BIRDS OF NORTH AMERICA." Edition limited to 1,000.

It is emphatically an original work, original in design and execution, and ethically pure and unimpeachable in its ornithology yet given to the public. Dr. Elliott Coues, author of "Birds of the North West," says: "It is a really notable work." Prof. C. J. Maynard, author of the "Birds of Eastern North America," says: "It contains the best pictures of the species which I have ever seen." Thomas G. Gentry, author of "Life Histories of Birds," and "Nests and Eggs of the Birds of the United States," says: "It is the cheapest and best publication on ornithology of any high order, and rivals in beauty of design and finish the more costly works published abroad in this country. It should be found in our houses and in libraries generally." And, according to Dr. Theodore Gil, a member of the National Academy of Sciences, it is not only a magnificent volume, but is altogether so handsome as to make it a very appropriate presentation book or ornament for the family table.

It is an imperial quarto volume of engraved figures of all our species, artistically reproduced, true in all lines of color to their natural plumage and botanical surroundings. It also includes a copious text description of their habits and characteristics, and embracing in general the observations made by the most eminent writers on ornithology and a systematic table, arranged according to the classification adopted by the American Ornithologists' Union, includes all the additions and corrections of our North American species which have been made to date, with an index to page, plate and figure of each species according to the A. O. U. number. It is illustrated with one hundred and thirty full colored plates, each representing from one to thirty or more species. It is the finest book on American birds issued since Audubon, and is renowned by some authorities as superior to Audubon's and his bindings, in leather, seal or morocco, at the net price of $4.00 and $4.50 respectively; but in response to a special letter, the association authorized me to say that a special discount will be made to such of our A. O. U. members and others as are working naturalists. We commend this work especially to members of the Wilson Ornithological Club.

It is also a very useful and appropriate addition to the home and reference library, and for pre-entation purposes generally. Address regarding it, the NATURAL SCIENCE ASSOCIATION, 114 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y. Samples of plates and text can be had by sending twenty five cents in postage stamps.
