Witness, My hand and the seal of said Court, at Rensselaer, Indiana, on this 30th day of December, A. D. 1893.

Wm. H. COOVER, Clerk, Thompson & Bro., Attys.

December 30, 1893—94.

If you would avoid sickness among the children, keep a bottle of Moxon in your house and when your child shows symptoms of sickness, give a few doses and you will have no doctor bills to pay. For sale by druggists.

Your children that are in school will be cured of that distressing headache which is so common among school children in warm weather, by the use of an occasional dose of Moxon. For sale by all druggists.

Not Looking for Glory. That Oregon girl who saved a woman from destruction and then went on her way home, not even telling her name, is a genuine heroine. The report says: "She was on her way home from a party when she discovered that a rail had been removed on a high trestle, and thereupon she procured a lantern and signaled the approaching train to stop. Having done a heroic deed and saved many travelers from a horrible death, she modestly went on her way without waiting for thanks or reward and without mentioning her name."

He Was Too Happy to Live. George Westlake, of Long Island City, died of joy consequent on hearing of his wife's recovery of her sanity. He had been in an asylum, and the correspondent wrote that she was grinning. When the news was received, Westlake suffered violent pains in his heart, from which the physicians could not relieve him, and he died.

And Yet He Lives. One of the most remarkable attempts at suicide ever known in Mexico has just been reported. Funstino Gonzales, a well-known young business man, became despondent, because his sweetheart did not reciprocate his affection. Going to his room, he began feasting on sulphur matches. He swallowed two boxes of them, sticks, sulphur, and all, and was suffering terrible agony when discovered by his roommate. It required several doctors to save his life.

Puckering. The girl of the period seems to be a case of suspended animation. An unprofitable job—Laboring under a delusion. The distance that lends enchantment is hardly distance of manner. Shabby treatment—Cleaning and repairing. If you want a thing well done, do it yourself. If Noah had trusted his ark to a contractor, he might have got wet.
