Issues.

The Sentinel in its several editions reaches more readers in Indiana than any other newspaper published within or without the state.

It is read in every city, town and hamlet.

The Daily is an eight to twelve-page paper of 56 to 84 columns and contains the very latest market reports, in addition to all the important news of the day. It has a special news service from New York, Washington and Chicago.

The Weekly is a mammoth issue of 12 pages and 84 columns, and in addition to the cream of the news of the week includes an invaluable farm and home department, with a variety of special features for all classes of readers.

The Sunday issue contains regularly 20 pages of 140 columns of reading matter, and frequently 24 pages or 168 columns. This issue is much like the Daily, but political topics except as items of news are allowed but little space and the additional columns are used to meet the tastes of those who desire clean, wholesome and entertaining miscellany.

IROQUOIS DITCH.

Mr. Editor: The Republican, which represents my party, exerted its influence to defeat the gravel roads after it had received the advertising and is now playing the same game as to the Iroquois Ditch. I wasted enough time to read its statement of the woes to come in two weekly issues touching the health, pleasure and beauty of the lovely town on the river and the lovely river in the town because we want to drain our land. The editor may not see himself, as others see him when he stands up for the ice fields, the "swimming" holes and the fish ponds bawling their loss to the town duds. Why does he do so? I prefer to raise good crops on all my lands and have fat fry land birds and beasts. He claims for the sake of the town that the rocks must be carved on the exact line of beauty with a very gentle slope or we are warned to keep hands off. The idea of leaving any ragged edge or rough place anywhere within the sacred limits of the town is horrible to his soul.

The total cost of this work in the rough is twenty-eight thousand dollars—his share is two dollars and eighty cents, he being one amongst ten thousand. For his sake and the sake of those of like taste the corners of the channel must be filed down to a slope of thirty degrees or less, or the army of anglers, ice men, hunters and swimmers will have the whole thing stopped. The funny thing, muskrats and minks must abide in our rich farming lands in order that these lilies of the town may march and counter-march over our fields with rod and gun on shoulder and dog at heels in search of fish, fowl or fowl. We have had too much of the muskrat, the coog fish and the turtle, and do not feel like sparing even the ice pond so dear to his heart, if we can help it.

He no doubt opposed taking away the mill race because the pleasure boats and rat boats could no longer glide along its humid channel and the sewers no longer have their outlet under its stagnant water. The mill dam and mill race have vanished however, and the human race of town and country are living longer and feeling better even if they have lost some sand—quicksand. We need deeper drainage to tile our farms. The town needs it for its basements, cellars and sewers.

When it is proposed to carry this drainage of the town lower so as to slay all the typhoid germs, he cries aloud for the sake of the town duds to spare the homes of the bulldog, the mud turtle and the snake. His theory is, the deeper we go into water learning rock the dryer the channel will become. This is absurd. Why not carry the sewerage into the deeper channel where the winds cannot blow into the mouth of the sewer and carry the stench back into your house to spread disease and death in your family? This new channel will become a living, running, perennial stream sufficient to bear away all the filth of the whole of your very nice town. The country people will have to pay nearly all the costs of this channel and don't want to waste much time on the two dollar and eighty cent chaps. We want this valley to bear rich harvests without any regard for the lazy habits of the drummers on store boxes, the delvers for fish worms or the army of the dog and shot gun. We want a prevalence of better lands, better roads, better health and better sense. The shape of the channel can be improved in width and slope by the beauty loving town duds using the extra material to make the streets passable. What us farmers want is depth and capacity to bear away the water from our bog lands.

The location, depth and shape of the channel must follow the report of the viewers. We can not suit the taste of every one. This project will be difficult to carry through at best. I would like to see my town friends keep us out of the mud and mud in this as they do in our move for good roads.

"Quite a number of former Democrats and Populists whose eyes have been opened to the true political gospel, appeared as delegates in the Republican convention."—Republican.

Name 'em, neighbor, name 'em, and thus verify your statement.

Engineer Bestwick went to Indianapolis the other day and had his report on the Iroquois Ditch bound.

We note, with pleasure, that Mr. Bapts, the well and favorably known agent of the Dayton, Ohio, Nurseries is making his annual rounds of this and adjoining counties. He is highly esteemed and his mode of fair dealing has made friends of all with whom he has come in contact.

SUPREME COURT CLERK.

C. W. WELMAN, EDITOR OF THE SULLIVAN TIMES AND COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT, A CANDIDATE.

"C. W. Welman, of Sullivan, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Clerk of the Supreme Court, and will be a strong candidate. He has a large acquaintance over the state, and is in every way fitted for the position. He is editor of the Sullivan Times, and prominent and popular in newspaper circles. He is president of the Indiana Democratic Editorial Association, and a member of the Southern Indiana Press Association; was a delegate to the National Editorial Association at Detroit in 1889. Boston in 1890, and Chicago in 1893; and is also County Superintendent of Sullivan County and is a member of the County Superintendents' Association. He is a brilliant writer, a forcible, eloquent speaker, and has done good service for his party.

Mr. Welman was born in Crawford county, Indiana, Sept. 18, 1855; removed with his parents to Gibson county, where the latter still reside, in 1860. His grandfather was a pioneer of Indiana, and his father was born in Orange county in 1826. He attended the High school at Fort Branch and the Northern Indiana Normal school at Valparaiso, and taught school in Gibson and Vanderburgh counties from 1878 to 1886; engaged in the newspaper business, editing various local papers, and took charge of the Sullivan Times in 1888, which paper he continues to edit. He was elected County Superintendent of schools in 1891 and re-elected in 1893.

At the first meeting of the County Superintendents after his election he electrified the association by a brilliant defense of the Superintendents against an attack by a speaker. He is held in high esteem by school officers and other educators of the state, with whom he enjoys a large acquaintance. He is prominent, locally, in secret society work, and is a member of the Masonic fraternity, the Knights of Pythias and Improved Order of Red Men. The nomination of Mr. Welman will add strength to the ticket, especially in this district where Sullivan county must turnish the majority to elect a congressman. The Gazette wishes him success."—Terre Haute Gazette.

DON'T MISS THIS.
Come, Democrats and Republicans all, and learn something important—something good for your business and your politics. Read this and keep it around where you can read it often:

"Last week's gold exportation brings the net exports of the metal thus far this year up to $3,300,000. The chancs are, though, that the outgoing will be far smaller this year than it was in 1893. The trade balance is heavily in our favor and Europe is not dropping many of our securities."

The statement, which we understand to be a calm, colorless utterance of a fact and an opinion, appeared in the editorial columns of the Globe-Democrat yesterday. Take notice that a year ago the Republican party's place in the White House and in the senate was yet warm and that no Democratic legislation was to be found in the books of the preceding 30 years. Europe is not dropping American securities, because Europe has faith in our public and private credit. A year ago Europe was dropping them like hot potatoes and was getting gold for them as fast as possible.

A. W. CO. & CO'S BANK

Is prepared to make five year loans on farms at rates positively as low, and as favorable as can be obtained in town, giving the privilege of partial payments at any time, and stopping the interest on the amount paid. We are also prepared to make loans on personal security on shorter time, at reasonable rates. If you are in need of a loan, give us a call. 13-44.

A year of Democratic ascendancy finds men hopeful. It finds Europe buying our securities. The drain of gold has stopped. The Republican panic is over and the footing of business is solid.

The contrast of what Republicanism left to the country with what Democracy has to show is a campaign argument which ranks with the other contrast of what Cleveland left in 1889 with the showing of a Republican term. He left a full Treasury, unimpeachable credit and general prosperity. In three more years the Democracy will get the country back to where it was when the Republicans of the Harris, R. and McKinley brand got hold.—St. Louis Republic.

Don't Forget!—Tommy Crockett will pasture colts at 75c per month; cattle at one cent a day. Running water.

AN OLD FALSE PRETENSE.

Two of the New England cotton manufacturers, whose views of the Wilson bill and the action of the Senate were solicited by the World, declare that the "wages must come down" if the bill becomes a law. They must have, they say, "sufficient protection" against English competition.

This is an old story. What are the facts upon which the claim is based?

The duties on manufactures of cotton in the Wilson bill average 36 per cent.—the same, almost to a fraction, as under the Republican tariff competition law of 1883.

About that time Sec'y Blaine, in a state paper on the consular reports, said: "Undoubtedly the inequalities in the wages of the English and American operatives are more than equalized by the greater efficiency of the latter and their longer hours of labor."

The labor cost in English cotton was shown to be higher than in American cottons.

The pretense that a 36 per cent. duty will not protect the New England manufacturers against those of Old England is demonstrably false. Before these hoary infants "reduced wages"—always their first resort—let them look after some of their high salaried sine cures, and be content with dividends somewhat smaller than 8 or 10 per cent.—New York World.

I have made arrangements with Eastern capitalists whereby I can loan $30,000.00 in amounts from $500.00 and upwards, borrower to pay commission 5 per cent.—Keep money 5 years or more.

M. F. CHILCOTE.

Farming Implements for sale.
By Mrs. James A. Kays, four miles northeast of Rensselaer.

The manufacturers of agricultural implements at a meeting held in Chicago entered their protest against the Wilson bill for putting agricultural implements on the free list. This was to be expected as a matter of course. For the last ten months of 1893 the exports of the manufactures of these gentlemen aggregated about $6,000,000 and were sent to every country on the face of the globe. They were sold in competition with implements manufactured by the "pauper labor" of Europe of which our Republican friends prate and were sold for less than is charged the American farmer for the same class of goods. Yet the American farmer is asked to continue McKinley duties and enable these men to control the home market while selling to foreigners at free trade prices.—Huntington (Ind.) Democrat.

A. P. A. BOUNDARY DENOUNCED.

The Protestant Clergy of Terre Haute Practically Unanimous.

A special to the Indianapolis Sentinel from Terre Haute, March 18th, says:

In published interviews here tonight a number of the protestant ministers denounced the methods of the A. P. A.

Among those who gave expression to this condemnation are the Rev. R. V. Hunter, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church; the Rev. S. V. Leach, pastor of the century Methodist; the Rev. J. K. Crum, pastor of the First Congregational; the Rev. J. S. Hoagland, pastor of the Mattox Methodist; the Rev. J. D. Stanley, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, and the Rev. J. S. Holmes, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The Rev. Mr. Hunter says that he at first gave his support to the order, thinking that it was patriotic, but since learning of its anti-Catholic nature he disavows all sympathy with it.

The interviews indicate that the protestant ministers of Terre Haute are practically unanimous in their opposition to the new secret order.

MANIFESTATIONS OF THE A. P. A.

The Indianapolis News says:

"The past week has been fruitful in anti-Catholic demonstrations at the West and Northwest. Within a few days there have been some curious manifestations of the A. P. A. spirit. At Neenah, Wis., Tuesday night, a lecturer of the order addressed an audience on 'The Pope in American Politics.' He averred that it was the whole aim of the Catholic church to secure political control of this country. He expected that in a few more years the Roman Catholics would overthrow the Government. At Cleveland, O., the Catholics made a retaliatory movement. The roster of a local A. P. A. lodge fell into the hands of Catholics and some lively boycotting may follow. A milkman, whose name was on the roll of members of this lodge, was at once notified by 140 Catholics that they would discontinue their patronage unless he withdrew from the order. At Rockford, Ill., it was asserted that the sheriff had denied a prisoner access to a condemned murderer who was a Roman Catholic, but this story was quickly pronounced false.

At Milwaukee an interesting incident occurred at a Republican caucus held Thursday night. There were about three hundred voters present, and most of these were employees of the rolling-mills operated by the Illinois Steel Company. The presiding officer was a member of the American Protective Association. Resolutions were offered denouncing the A. P. A. movement at length, and pledging those present to purge the Republican party of 'this vilest outgrowth of ignorance, intolerance and bigotry.' The resolutions were laid on the table. The about one hundred men left the hall and held an independent caucus in another place, the rejected resolutions being adopted there with great enthusiasm.

From Morris, Ill., comes the story that the proprietor of an opera-house was so persecuted by members of the A. P. A. that he became demented, was stricken with apoplexy and died. He had formerly belonged to the order.—The Republican caucuses at Toledo, O., held Thursday night, were captured by the A. P. A. in five of nine wards. These incidents we gather from the daily press reports. So far away as Massachusetts a proposition was made in the Legislature a few days ago that a law should be passed preventing the street railway companies of the State from employing persons over the age of twenty who have not been for the previous twelve months bona fide residents of Massachusetts. This is more direct know-nothingism than is behind the A. P. A., but both are of a piece.

If within a few days there can be so many and so varied manifestations of the spirit of this organization, it seems likely that the movement will soon reach its limit. The politicians are viewing it with alarm. At Minneapolis the other day Ignatius Donnelly delivered an address in which he denounced the A. P. A. because, he charged, it was established to divide up the Populace. If the Populace were to wield an influence, the membership must not be considered from a religious point of view. As has been pointed out by Dr. Gladden, the anti-Catholic movement has for its impetus false terrors. There is an undeniable, unwholesome and unnatural fear behind it. The propagation of its principles is carried on by deceit. The record given above indicates how great its capacity for mischief."

PATRONIZE THE HOME NURSERY.

F. A. Woodin, the well known and reliable nurseryman of the neighboring town of Goodland has appointed John Callow as his agent at this place. Give him your orders for anything wanted in the nursery line—fruit and shade trees, shrubs, flowers, etc.

S. E. Yeoman sells McCormick Harvesters and Mowers at Nowels' mill, near the depot; also Disc Harrows, Ideal Corn Planters, Seeders, Binding Twines, etc.

White county is to have a court house, built of stone, not to exceed in cost $70,461.

Hugh Robertson has purchased the Mayler house moving tackle and is prepared to give proper and prompt attention to such jobs in the future. We wish him success.

M. O. Halloran, it is said, contemplates the erection of a fine brick business block, corner of Washington and Va. Rensselaer streets.

The Republican county convention was held last Saturday in the court house, at this place, and the following gentlemen compose the ticket:

Clerk—Wm. H. Coover.
Auditor—Henry B. Murray.
Treasurer—Jesse C. Gwin.
Sheriff—Charles W. Hanley.
Surveyor—John E. Alter.
Coroner—T. P. Wright.
Com'r 1st Dist.—Wm. Dahneke.
" 2d —John Martin.
" 3d —Dexter K. Jones.

The convention was not so largely attended as customary, and lacked the old-time enthusiasm.

Our neighbor still haps on "impending free trade" as the cause of hard times. The extraordinarily high protective tax of the McKinley bill diverted the revenue from the treasury into the coffers of the trust extortionists; the republican billion dollar congress looted the national treasury; the trusts and combines joined in a conspiracy to bluff congress from reforming the tariff as the people had elected them to do—these cause hard times. The Republican editor argues very much like a "damphool" or idiot.

It is gratifying to know that Democrats of the 10th district are not hanging after office. This is a fact established by Mr. Hammond being driven to the necessity of making two appointments from one family.

Considerable opposition is manifesting against the removal of the postoffice from its present location. One forcible argument is that the contemplated new quarters is in too close proximity to a saloon—that women and children should not be compelled to run the gauntlet of drinking and drunken men when going to and from the postoffice.

In point of continuous editorial service Bro. McEwen is about the oldest as well as one of the most faithful democratic editors in Northern Indiana; hence his defeat (for the postoffice) is greatly deplored by true democrats throughout the district.—Winamac Democrat-Journal.

When President Cleveland retired from the Presidency in 1889 he left nearly $200,000,000 in the Treasury.

When President Harrison retired from the Presidency in 1893 he left a deficiency in the Treasury of many millions. The McKinley tariff, prohibitory in its operations on foreign trade, reduced the revenues of the Government and increased the profits of the trusts and combines.

The accounts concerning the movements of the A. P. A. do not give the organization the high and noble character claimed for it by its rank leaders. It is proposed to make it the tail to the Republican kite.
