Hood's Sarsaparilla Made Her Strong and Healthy

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has been of great benefit to my little girl, and also to myself and husband. When she was three years old Mabel was seized with stomach trouble, like cramps or inflammation. I was taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for my blood, and as the doctor's prescription did not help her, I occasionally gave her a little of my own medicine. I soon realized that Hood's Sarsaparilla was

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the right quantity is taken. When the lungs are affected it causes shooting pains, like needles passing through them; the same with the Liver or Bowels. This is caused by the ducts being stopped, and always disappears in a week after taking it. Read the label.

If the stomach is foul or bilious it will cause squishy feelings at first. No change of diet necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it. Dose, one tablespoonful in water at bedtime. Sold by all Druggists.

COXEY IS CONVICTED.

LEADERS OF THE COMMONWEALTH FOUND GUILTY.

Judge Miller's Charge Was Strongly Against the Defendants—Released on Bail Pending a Motion for a New Trial—Gen. Randall Arrested.

They Walked on the Grass.

The three leaders of the commonwealth, Coxe, Browne and Christopher Columbus Jones, have been found guilty of violating the laws of the District of Columbia in their recent demonstration on the Capitol grounds. The jury retired after hearing a long charge from Judge Miller, which left them little alternative but to convict if they followed his instructions. The verdict was guilty as to the first charge—carrying banners upon the Capitol grounds—against all the defendants, and on the second charge—walking on the grass of the Capitol grounds—guilty as to Coxe and Browne, and not guilty as to Jones.

Attorney Lipscomb immediately entered a motion for a new trial and another in arrest of judgment. Judge Miller gave four days to file the formal paper. Then the judge made inquiries about bail, and Frank Hume, a well-known wholesale grocer, who several times has run for the Democratic nomination for congress from the Potomac district across the Potomac River, signed a bond in $500 for each of the three convicted commonwealthers.

Gen. Coxe left the room on the arm of his wife, pushing through a curious crowd, which made no demonstration. The conviction of himself and Jones was a surprise to the Commonwealth sympathizers. Two weeks, a Washington dispatch says, may elapse, during which the trio will be free on bail, before the motion for a new trial is argued and decided. The penalty provided by law is the same for each offense, viz: A fine not to exceed $100 and imprisonment in jail for not more than sixty days, or both, within the discretion of the court. Accordingly the maximum punishment which may be meted out to Coxe and Browne is $200 and 120 days, while Christopher Columbus Jones is subject to $100 and sixty days.

By a curious Congressional error in a recent bill which reorganized the District courts there is no Appellate Court to which a Police Court case can be carried. The only method of appealing from Judge Miller's sentence will be by an application to a higher court for writs of habeas corpus and certiorari. Attorney Lipscomb has announced that he will take this step if Judge Miller overrules the motion for a new trial. However, such a petition will not operate as a stay of judgment.

ARREST OF "GEN." RANDALL.

He and Three of His Staff Taken Into Custody at La Porte, Ind.

"Gen." Randall, of the Chicago Commonwealth Army, and three of his staff were arrested and placed in jail at La Porte, Ind. The arrest, a dispatch says, was made a mile outside the city limits and without a warrant, before any demonstration had been made by the army, which was en route to the city. Opinion is very much divided over the legality of the action, and is the cause of much discussion.

The General was indignant when he was told that he was under arrest, and using every bumpy he shouted: "I protest against this arrest. I am an American citizen and I have a right on this highway." Col. Hoefler, who was on horse-back, turned to the group of officials and asked them if they had a warrant. His answer was that if they did not have a warrant they would get one out in good time. While Randall was descending from his buggy an other pair of deputies were assisting Hoefler off his horse and the pair were half dragged, half pulled toward the row of deputies that guarded the highway. Randall again remonstrated with his captors over his arrest as illegal. They roughly hauled him away, alternately protesting and pleading. For an instant it looked as if the column would make a rush to rescue their leader, although the voice was as powerless as a band of high school cadets.

A telegram was sent to Chicago for Dr. Grier and the best of counsel, and one of the best criminal lawyers in the State. Many citizens say that it would have been cheaper for all concerned to have had the army. They argue that it would have cost but $100 to feed the men, whereas it has now cost the city and county $500, and it is quite possible that they are not through with the affair.

KELLY'S ARMY SAILS AWAY.

The Commonwealthers Leave Des Moines on Flatboats.

The railroads having refused to transport Kelly's commonwealth army from Des Moines, the "General" set about building flatboats on which to float his men down the Des Moines River to the Mississippi. About a hundred of these boats, rudely constructed by their own hands, were required to move the army. The fleet got away Wednesday at noon, bidding good-by to Des Moines from the packing-house two miles south of the city. Most of the boats in the fleet were rigged with oars or sailing gear, and sails were improvised from army blankets.

"GEN." KELLY.

Because of the numerous sand bars the men were frequently compelled to wade and push the boats. The men, a dispatch says, have enough provisions for several days, and the towns along the route will contribute liberally. "Prof." King led the flotilla on his aquatic bicycle. The start was witnessed by a large crowd. Kelly's boats were soon strung along the river five miles and made slow progress. One boat with ten army men and a number of Des Moines women and children capsized, and all on board narrowly escaped drowning. Fully 2,000 people straggled along the banks watching the flotilla. Women and children from the city were in nearly every boat at the start, taking a short pleasure ride.

EMIGRATION FALLING OFF.

Decrease of 17,187 for the First Quarter of 1904, Compared with 1903.

The British government returns on emigration for the three months ending April 1 show a most pronounced decrease in the forced expatriation of British subjects. The total emigration in this period aggregated 2,915, or a decrease of 17,187 compared with the same period of 1903. The reduction is shared proportionately by the three nationalities of the United Kingdom. There were 16,801 emigrants from England, a decline of 8,712; 2,003 from Scotland, a falling off of 2,015; and 3,022 from Ireland, a falling off of 4,461. The falling off in emigration from Ireland is attributed to the hard times now prevailing in the United States, which has militated against Irish-Americans forwarding remittances to pay the passage of their relatives and friends to the other side of the water. The decrease was general to every country, except South Africa, which shows an increase of 19 over the corresponding period of last year. The falling off of emigration to the United States for the quarter aggregated 207,9; to Canada, 4,303; to Australia, 704. The falling off was most noticeable in the month of March.

GRESHAM ON SAMOA.

He Opposes Present Methods of Governing the Islands.

In transmitting to the President voluminous correspondence relative to Samoa, which has been laid before Congress, Secretary Gresham declares that the so-called autonomous government of the islands is really a tripartite foreign government imposed upon the natives. He points out the grave difficulties it is now experiencing, and in conclusion asks "What have we gained by our departure from our established policy beyond the expense, the responsibilities, and the entanglements that have so far been its only fruits?" He further holds that the treaty of Berlin has "not only involved us in an embarrassing alliance but has utterly failed to correct, if indeed, it has not aggravated, the very evils it was designed to prevent."

PULLMAN MEN GO OUT.

BIG CAR SHOPS CLOSED UP TIGHT.

The Walk-out Wholly Unexpected by the Managers—The Discharge of Grievance Committees Undoubtedly Precipitated the Strike—Serious Trouble May Ensnare.

Thousands Quit the Works.

Three thousand men stopped making palace cars for George M. Pullman Friday forenoon and spent the day in discussing their wrongs in the streets of the "model city" of Pullman, Ill. The strike, which had been threatened for a week or more, was precipitated mainly by the discharge of three prominent members of the grievance committee. A rumor current the night before that the company intended to close down the works within a day or two also played an important part in bringing the trouble to a crisis.

About 600 men who did not belong to the union remained sprinkled through the all but deserted shops until 6 o'clock Friday evening. When they came trooping out with their dinner pails they were confronted with the following notice posted conspicuously in each building:

THE SHOPS ARE CLOSED UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE.
WILLIAM A. MIDDLETON, Foreman.

The result is that Saturday morning, for the first time since the great strikes of 1898, the wheels and forges at Pullman were silent. The struggle is likely to be both prolonged and bitter.

The men claim that their wages have been cut down 33 per cent., but that they are compelled to pay just as much rent and water and gas taxes as they did in flush times. Instances are cited in which workmen have received, after all the extra have been deducted from their wages, only a few dollars with which to buy bread and butter for their families. They claim, also, that they are not allowed to purchase property in Pullman, and this fact, combined with the company's system of requiring rent in advance, and holding back their wages until it is paid, keeps them so bound down that they cannot leave without losing from one to four weeks' pay.

The position which the American Railway Union, as expressed by Vice President Howard, has taken with regard to the matter has given the strikers much confidence in their ultimate success. "Unless the company comes to terms," said one of the leaders, "we can prevent the Pullman cars from being hauled on any of the principal railroads of the United States."

THE COMPANY STANDS FIRM.

On the other hand, the company is equally firm in its position. President George M. Pullman claims that he has been losing money rapidly this spring, and cannot afford to pay any higher wages than the present scale. In a speech to the committee, he said that he had been running the works for several months just to keep the company busy. He further made the threat that every man who participated in the strike will never be allowed to resume his position in the Pullman shops.

TO GET RID OF THE PEST.

Clothing Men Confer with State Health Secretaries at Chicago.

By the concerted action of the health officers of Illinois, Ohio, Wisconsin, Michigan and Indiana, small-pox is to be stamped out of Chicago and the West. At a meeting of the secretaries of the various State boards of health held at the Grand Pacific Hotel in Chicago, a committee of clothing manufacturers was present to confer about measures to prevent the spread of small-pox through clothing made in the infected sweatshop districts.

The clothing manufacturers' committee was chosen at a meeting of fifty-five manufacturers held earlier in the day. Resolutions were introduced to the effect that an embargo be laid against clothing made in Chicago unless the State board of health maintain an efficient daily inspection of all pieces in the city where garments are made.

Commissioner Reynolds said the prevalence of small-pox was, relatively to the population, far less to-day than at former periods. The highest mortality was in 1882, with 3,011 cases and 1,292 deaths. During 1884 up to Thursday night, the cases numbered 1,450. The population in 1882 was 660,639 as against 1,600,000, now, while Chicago was not then the world's focal point as it is to-day. World's Fair visitors undoubtedly introduced the small-pox. Last July three cases were found miles apart, since which time the city has not been free from the disease, and it is still being imported. The first cases were discovered last fall and prevented from spreading by health department measures. Small-pox never reappeared in premises once disinfected by the department. A canvass of the worst districts is now in progress and from 5,000 to 15,000 people are vaccinated daily.

Don't Blame the Cook

If a baking powder is not uniform in strength, so that the same quantity will always do the same work, no one can know how to use it, and uniformly good, light food cannot be produced with it.

All baking powders except Royal, because improperly compounded and made from inferior materials, lose their strength quickly when the can is opened for use. At subsequent bakings there will be noticed a falling off in strength. The food is heavy, and the flour, eggs and butter wasted.

It is always the case that the consumer suffers in pocket, if not in health, by accepting any substitute for the Royal Baking Powder. The Royal is the embodiment of all the excellence that it is possible to attain in an absolutely pure powder. It is always strictly reliable. It is not only more economical because of its greater strength, but will retain its full leavening power, which no other powder will, until used, and make more wholesome food.

Protection Against Lightning.

It seems strange that notwithstanding the great advance which has been made in electricity during the last twenty-five years so little progress should have been made in developing a method for protecting buildings from the destructive effects of lightning. The need of this protection was never before so great as now, as the annual loss of property in the United States from lightning alone reaches hundreds of thousands of dollars, to say nothing of the hundreds of lives which are destroyed by the same agency. The lightning rod remains in almost exactly the same primitive state in which it was left by Franklin, even the main question of its efficiency not being settled beyond dispute. If the rod is able to accomplish what is claimed for it there seems to be no reason why its usefulness should not be conclusively proven. The fact of its protective qualities established there should be no delay in hastening its development into that state of perfection in which it could be relied upon with something akin to certainty. There is certainly a promising field here for ambitious electricians.—Manufacturers' Gazette.

A Sad Time for Actors.

The critic met the old-school actor on the highway, and observing a pale melancholy in the face of the Thespian he said: "What's the matter, Hamleigh? You look blue."

"I am blue," returned Hamleigh. "These new-school actors are knocking us old fellows completely out."

"What seems to be the trouble?" asked the critic.

"I am not educated up to the standard," said Hamleigh. "A man to be a good actor nowadays has got to swim in real water, or ride a race, or manage a buzz-saw, or be an expert farm hand. I can't swim, ride, or milk cows, and I am as afraid as of death of a buzz-saw. Result, ruin!"

Tossing on the "Betsy."

Is very far from amusing, untraveled reader, if to be you are one. A rebellion fomented by such mountaineers wave that smites the vessel's hull threatens absolutely to dislodge your very vitals from their natural resting place, and a nausea so frightful that it would reconcile you to a termination of your suffering by shipwreck harasses you. Well for you then, or rather before this crisis, if you are provided with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a swift remedy for and preventive of the nausea of travelers by sea or land, nervousness caused by the vibration of the screw of a steamer or the jarring of a railway train, and an antidote to bowel, liver and stomach troubles caused by impure water and unaccustomed food. The Bitters also counteracts the effects of fatigue and exposure, and is a safeguard against malaria, rheumatism and kidney trouble.

up both solid flesh and strength after grip, pneumonia, fever, and other prostrating diseases, "Golden Medical Discovery" has no equal. It does not make fat people more corpulent, but builds up solid, wholesome flesh.

Do you feel dull, languid, low-spirited, have fullness or bloating after eating, tongue coated, bitter or bad taste in mouth, irregular appetite, frequent headaches, "floating specks" before eyes, nervous prostration and drowsiness after meals?

If you have any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from torpid liver, associated with dyspepsia, or indigestion. The more complicated your disease the greater the number of symptoms. No matter what stage it has reached, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will subdue it.

Nervousness, sleeplessness, nervous prostration, nervous debility, and kindred disturbances are generally due to impoverished blood. The nervous system suffers for want of pure, rich blood to nourish and sustain it. Purify, enrich and vitalize the blood by taking "Golden Medical Discovery" and all these nervous troubles vanish.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is far better for this purpose than the much advertised nervines and other compounds, so loudly recommended for nervous prostration, as they "put the nerves to sleep," but do not invigorate, brace up, or so strengthen the nervous system as does the "Discovery," thus giving permanent benefit and a radical cure.

Buy of reliable dealers. With any others, something else than "Pierce's" better will probably be urged as "just as good." Perhaps it is, for them; but it is not for you.
