The U. S. Treasury closed the month of September in very comfortable shape with a surplus of $3,175,040 in receipts over expenditures instead of a deficiency.

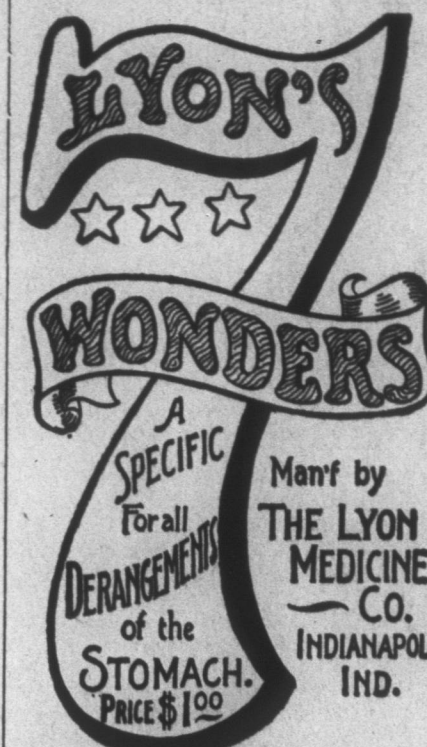

It is reported that "Kid" Landis, of the Delphi Journal, has been invited by the republican state central committee of Ohio to take part in the campaign in that state. If Charley accepts the invitation, we suggest to him that he keep a vigilant on his train and that he permits no "bluff" game to run him off the track. Had he not succumbed to Judge Johnson's "bluff" he would today be the representative from this district in congress.

Recently the state window glass manufacturers met in rooms of the Randolph Selling Agency, in Muncie. Thirty large glass works were represented at the meeting and the agreement reached that every window glass factory in the state should be put in operation Saturday morning, Sept. 28th. Thousands of men will be given employment and the glass workers are very happy. The manufacturers are confident of a prosperous season as the outlook is as bright as a new silver dollar.

VOORHEES TO MATTHEWS.
The Former Praises the Governor's Speech at Chickamauga.

Upon the return of Governor Matthews from his trip to the dedicatory exercises on the Chickamauga battlefield he found awaiting him the following letter from Senator Voorhees, which had been written immediately upon the reading of the governor's speech at the Indiana exercises by the senator:

"Terre Haute, Sept. 19, '95.
"My Dear Governor—I wish to congratulate you on your Chickamauga speech. I have just read it in The Sentinel. It is not only the best, in my judgment, you have ever made, but it is by far the best produced by the great occasion on which it was delivered. It will greatly add to your already brilliant reputation and I rejoice in my heart that the governor of 'he great and beloved state of Indiana spoke so well on such a notable and splendid national day. With kind regards, as ever, your friend,
"D. W. VOORHEES."

Governor Matthews immediately replied as follows:
"EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
"Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 25, '95.
"My Dear Senator—I have read with pleasure your kind note of the 19th and thank you for its generous expressions. Such commendation as yours on this subject is to be highly valued.
"Although our last legislature provided no means for Indiana's representation on this great occasion, I still flatter myself that we, in a modest and unassuming way, made a fair showing. Other states made ample provision, Ohio $15,000, Illinois and other states $5,000. Indiana, with the second largest number of military organizations engaged, and her troops in the most desperate encounters on that field, through her legislature did nothing. To have not been officially represented would have been humiliating, so we did the best we could, and I believe Indiana held her own with other states. This is a sad commentary on a republican legislature, with all their professions for the veterans. The old soldiers who bore the brunt of that hard battle deserved better at their hands.
"The gem of all that week was Gordon's oration. It was classic, and magnificently delivered. What a actor he is! I wish you could have been there, too.
Sincerely yours,
"CLAUDE MATTHEWS.

Indianapolis Sun: C. F. R. Wapenhans, who forecasts the local weather, and often knows a great deal about it, says weather history shows that every seven years this section of the country has exceedingly hot and dry summers. At the same time there are many warm winters in the south. A hot summer is generally followed by a very cool one. One warm year is invariably followed by a cooler one. Collectively a number of cool summers and cold winters are followed by a number of warm ones. There have been in the last 25 years only few interruptions in this rule.

The summer just ended was warmer than the one of 1894, but the summers of 1874, 1881 and 1887 were much warmer. The mean temperature for last summer was 75.4. In 1874 it was 76.8; in 1881, 77.10 and in 1887 it was 75.8. The summer of 1895 will be remembered for many years as a very long and trying one—one when Old Sol fried the earth on one side for twelve hours and then went on

Lyon Medicine Co., Indianapolis, Ind.:

GENTLEMEN—It is with pleasure that I can conscientiously say a good word for LYON'S SEVEN WONDERS. For more than a year I was troubled with indigestion and stomach disorders. Various remedies which I tried gave me no relief, until one day last summer I was told by a brother drummer of the virtues of LYON'S SEVEN WONDERS. I concluded to try it, and am happy to say one box, costing only one dollar, entirely cured me. To those who suffer as I did I would strongly advise them to use LYON'S SEVEN WONDERS.

Yours truly,

JOHN R. SPENCER,

the other side and sizzled it for another 12. The warm weather began the last three days of May when the thermometers showed the temperature to be 93, 94 and 96. There had been so many cool days from May 14 to 27 that the average temperature for the month was nearly normal. June took up the heat where May left off, and turned out the hottest days of the summer. On June 1 the mark reached was 95, on June 2 it was 97 and on the 3d it was 100. Only on six days during the month did the temperature go below normal. July, for July, was a cool month. The temperature was above normal only on seven days. The highest temperature was on the 16th and 17th, when the thermometer marked 94, and for six days it was above 90. August also gave a "reat many mean people a foretaste of their future. The temperature was below normal, only six days. The highest point was reached on the 16th, when it was 100 and for 13 days the temperature was 90 and above.

It does not require a serious stretch of the memory to recall the heat of the past month. Up to Sept. 26 the temperature was below normal only on four days. On nine days the temperature was 90 and above. The weather observer, who has lived through a few winters and has the records of the office to back him, says the coming winter is going to be a warm one. Last winter was one of the coldest Indiana ever had. The mean temperature was 26.5. Should weather history repeat itself, December will be cool, but January and February will be much warmer, much warmer than the same months of last winter.

Ex-President Harrison says if his advice is asked he will not recommend either Czar Reed or Boss McKinley for the republican presidential nomination. Now let us hear from Reed and McKinley as to their presidential preferences.

The Public Press, New Albany, may rest assured that true and tried democrats take no stock in the personal animosity it displays toward Gov. Matthews. The governor's democracy will survive its assaults.

An inexpensive, but attractive rug may be made from coffee-sacks. Take a sack of the size required and hem it. Now, from another sack cut strips eight inches wide, fold down the center (leaving the double strips four inches wide), and sew firmly to the foundation about half an inch apart. After it is all covered dye the rug any desired color, and after it is dry fringe out the strips in half a dozen threads. Moss color will make a pretty rug, and by dyeing it before the strips are fringed the threads will retain the kinky, mossy appearance so desirable.

Other dainty contrivances may be manufactured from these odds and ends that will brighten the home wonderfully, and it will be so much better to use them in this manner than to pack them away for another year, to collect the dust and draw the moths.—Philadelphia Times.

Obituary.
Charles Rhoades died Monday morning, Sept. 30th, 1895, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Amanda Reeve, at the ripe age of 81 years, 10 months and 8 days.

He was born at Winslow, Maine, where he lived until he came to Jasper county, in 1857, where he has since resided.

He was married in 1833 to Mary Ann Duren, who died May 18, 1893, having lived in wedlock for the unusually long period of 60 years lacking only a few months.
