The Bane of Beauty.

Beauty's bane is the fading or falling of the hair. Luxuriant tresses are far more to the matron than to the maid whose cascade of charms is yet untried by time. Beautiful women will be glad to be reminded that falling or fading hair is unknown to those who use

Ayer's Hair Vigor.

The Perfect Pill

Perfect in preparation. Perfect in operation.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills

Perfect post-prandial pill. Perfect for all purposes.

THE PILL THAT WILL

REFLECTED HER PROFESSION.

Her Dress and Hair Betrayed that She Was a Schoolma'am.

"How unconsciously men and women take on the atmosphere of their surroundings and vocations," remarked a man recently to a New York Advertiser reporter. "I can recall an illustration of that fact in an experience I had some years ago. I had been so long accustomed to the association of women school teachers that I am rarely mistaken when I come in contact with one. A prominent woman teacher from a northern city was expected at an educational meeting. I had never seen her, but received a telegram asking me to meet her at the train. I was sure I would be able to identify her. I went through the train, which was crowded with passengers. I looked around and soon found the teacher. She was perfectly astonished when I came up and said: 'Is this Miss Blank?'"

"Yes, that is my name," she replied, "but how did you know me?"

"I did not explain, but it was easy enough. At first glance I saw her hair was short, that she wore eye-glasses and had on a plain-looking sort of gray cloth dress. Any doubts I might have had were soon relieved as I noticed hanging from her watch fob a small globe, being a miniature of the earth. Another earmark was a small hand satchel that snapped loudly when she closed it. I knew I could not be mistaken, and results showed I correctly diagnosed the profession of that woman."

Salaries of the World's Rulers.

The President of the United States receives a salary of $50,000 and a house; the Emperor of Austria and King of Hungary gets $3,875,000, besides several palaces; the King of Italy gets $2,858,000; the King of Prussia gets $3,852,770, but nothing as Emperor of Germany; the Czar has an income of $12,000,000, out of which he supports the grand dukes and the court; the King of Spain gets $1,400,000; the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, $2,175,000; the President of France gets $120,000, and a like sum for entertainments; the Emperor of Mexico gets $50,000; the Emperor of Japan gets $3,000,000; and no one knows what the Emperor of China gets. The King of Greece gets $280,000, and the President of the Swiss Confederation has a salary of $3,000. This last named ruler is the only one who does not receive the use of a house.

The Same... Old Sarsaparilla.

That's Ayer's. The same old sarsaparilla as it was made and sold by Dr. J. C. Ayer 50 years ago. In the laboratory it is different. There modern appliances lend speed to skill and experience. But the sarsaparilla is the same old sarsaparilla that made the record—50 years of cures. Why don't we better it? Well, we're much in the condition of the Bishop and the raspberry: "Doubtless," he said, "God might have made a better berry. But doubtless, also, He never did." Why don't we better the sarsaparilla? We can't. We are using the same old plant that cured the Indians and the Spaniards. It has not been bettered. And since we make sarsaparilla compound out of sarsaparilla plant, we see no way of improvement. Of course, if we were making some secret chemical compound we might.... But we're not. We're making the same old sarsaparilla to cure the same old diseases. You can tell it's the same old sarsaparilla because it works the same old cures. It's the sovereign blood purifier, and—It's Ayer's.

SENSATIONS IN ILLNESS.

Curious How a Man Feels When He Knows He Needs a Doctor.

"It is curious," said a man yesterday, "the various sensations a man experiences when he goes to see a doctor or a dentist. There is a long, preliminary stage of mental agony, alternately exaggerating and belittling your ailment, until finally in a moment of desperation you decide to go and see what is the matter, anyway. Perhaps you have a cold, which has settled on the lungs and developed a troublesome cough that keeps you awake nights. The cough itself is not so bad as the terrible possibilities it suggests. Visions of swift demise from pneumonia, of slow, wasting away with consumption rise up before your eyes, and every wheeze and cough confirms these terrible premonitions. If you could, you would go then in a hurry, but in the morning you feel better.

"The cough is still there, but the terrors of the imagination have fled before the daylight, you put it off another day. But finally decide to go, and with firmness born of despair, march up to the medical man's door to learn your fate. In the case of toothache every one knows how a tooth will hop and jump and smart all day until you get to the dentist's, and then calm down so quiet and painless that you can't tell which one was aching. It is the same way with a cough or other ailment. As you go up to the doctor you secretly hope that the doctor is not at home. You pull the doorbell gently, and half wish that you had not come. Then the funniest part of it all is how mad you will get when you find the doctor is not at home, and feel as if you had been cheated out of one of your dearest hopes."—Washington Post.

His Clothes Were Deceiving.

A queer incident took place yesterday in the office of one of the natural gas companies. A seedy-looking and poorly dressed man entered the office and asked for the president. The clerk whom he addressed had been annoyed more than usual of late by beggars and tramps and replied brusquely: "Well, he don't want to see you, so clear out unless you have some business here, and if you have you can transact it with me."

"All right, I can deal with you. I did want to refer the president to a customer who is desirous of taking some stock in a new enterprise he is about to embark in. But I can see him at another time when he is not so carefully guarded by such zealous subordinates. I will pay the gas bill for my North Meridian street house, however, and I suppose you will be good enough to take my money."

The clerk's eyes bulged until they were in danger of dropping from their position when he was handed from a well-filled wallet a hundred-dollar bill to change in payment of a good-sized monthly account. He had been dealing with one of the city's most prominent and prosperous workmen who did not see it necessary to cease his manual labor because he had accumulated a fair proportion of wealth.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

SICK-ROOM DON'TS.

Don't appear anxious, however great your anxiety.

Don't let stale flowers remain in a sick chamber.

Don't have the temperature of a sick-room over 70 degrees.

Don't jar the bed by leaning or sitting upon it. This is unpleasant to one ill and nervous.

Don't ask a convalescent if he would like this or that to drink, but prepare the delicacies and present them in a tempting way.

Don't neglect during the day to attend to necessities for the night, that the rest of the patient and the family
