AN IDEA FROM AFRICA.

Cupboard for Use Between Kitchen and Dining Room.

Yankee notions of convenience are not so confined to Yankee-land that a description of a household contrivance from far-away Africa would fall to prove interesting to housewives.

In a Morocco hotel, whose stone walls are very thick, there is a long dining-room and a kitchen adjoining. With a direct communication between the two rooms, both odors and sounds might pass disagreeably between the two; this is, however, obviated by a revolving cupboard or dumb waiter placed between the two rooms.

The wall is about 18 inches thick. By permitting the cupboard to project slightly into the room, a circle of two feet and a half or three feet is secured. This is occupied by a revolving drum or cylinder four feet high and divided into two shelves. There is an opening down one side only. When this is toward the kitchen the closed back of the cylinder faces the dining-room, and, as it is made of highly polished mahogany, and the cupboard opening is finished at top and bottom with window casing, the appearance is not at all bad. When the cook has placed the dishes for one course upon the two shelves of the drum a touch of the finger whirled it noiselessly about, and the waiter on the other side has only to take the dishes off.

In New York the average number of persons to a dwelling is eighteen and one-half.

Many of the mediaeval churches were originally constructed to serve also, when occasion required, as fortresses.

The Pasteur Institute in Paris is still as popular a resort for hydrophobic patients as it was when the fame of the scientist's cures by inoculation was at the flood-tide.

The Chinese have bred a whole colony of goldfish, each having two well-developed tails and two sets of anal fins. Biologists say they would be equally easy to breed quadrupeds with eight legs.

In Wyoming is a mound of rock and earth standing alone in the middle of a plain, called Church Butte. It is of most fantastic shape and looks in the distance like the ruins of some grand old cathedral.

A Danish author told Dr. Felix Oswald, of the case of a relative who would steal from himself. He used to tip into his own pantry and shake off with uncooked prunes, raw onions or anything of the kind.

The flagstaff upon which the first secession flag was hoisted in South Carolina when the State seceded in 1860 is still standing. It is fastened with iron cuffs to the gable end of an old storehouse at Skull Shoals post-office.

An ingot of gold weighing 24 ounces and worth about $50 is made by the gold beaters into sheets so fine that it would take 48,000 to measure an inch in height. By the labor of beating the gold acquires a value of $400, making over 26,000 sheets of gold foil or gold leaf, as it is usually called.

Pages at the English court, appointed at the ages of 13 or 14, are mostly the sons of distinguished officers in the army or of high dignitaries in the royal household, serve usually four years, at about $1,000 a year, and are then presented with commissions in the army, unless turned down for some cause.

It is pointed out that the only mechanic buried in Westminster Abbey is George Graham, a native of Cumberland, the inventor of the deadbeat escapement, the cylinder escapement and the mercurial pendulum, besides several other improvements in apparatus useful in astronomical work. He was buried in 1751 and his funeral was attended by all the members of the Royal Society.

No theory or hypothesis which has commanded general acceptance has yet been suggested for the explanation of the aurora borealis or northern light.

What is known is this: The direction of auroral jets or rays and the position of the aurora have a connection with the magnetic meridian, and the aurora produces great magnetic perturbation. Therefore it seems evident that the theater of its action is the atmosphere, and that the agent to which its development is due is electricity, influenced in some unascertained manner by terrestrial magnetism.

With Assets of $600,000.

LABOR UNION TRUSTS.

MOST POWERFUL OF ALL THE GREAT COMBINES.

Ex-Senator Edmunds Declares They Are the Worst of All—Chicagoan's Determined and Successful Effort to Die—Memphis Shortage Made Good.

At the dinner in Philadelphia given in honor of the former ambassador to Italy, Wayne MacVeach, ex-Senator George F. Edmunds received a cordial welcome. He touched a responsive chord when he spoke on the hostility that is now prevalent to trusts. He declared that the hostility was all one-sided, inasmuch as it ignored the great labor trusts. This is what he said: "Somebody has said something in the course of this evening on the subject of our economy, of the intensities of the concentration of various trusts, sugar, oil, tobacco and rope trusts. We find in the newspapers which print anything and everything anybody wants to say many things we don't say, lots of things about these trusts. But have they got them all? Where is your plumbers' trust? Where is your plasterers' trust? Where is your carpenters' trust? Where is your every trust of labor and organization in every human industry that exists in the United States? There came under my observation in your city of Washington a touching illustration a few years ago. I had occasion to employ a plumber to do a small piece of work for me, and, during the progress of the work, he asked me if I could not find a place for his son in one of the departments. I asked him why he did not take his son into his own establishment and there teach him his trade. He said—I can hardly get it without emotion myself: 'Senator, I cannot do it.' 'Why?' 'Why,' he said, 'the Plumbers' Union only allows two apprentices in the State from a certain district, and my son cannot get in.' I said, 'Why don't you teach him your own trade in your own shop?' and, gentlemen, the reply he made was this: 'Why, Senator, if I did, I could not get a job in this whole city.' Is not that a trust which is wrong? Well, that runs through every trade."

THE PRESSURE OF THE CUBAN QUESTION, says a Washington correspondent, is becoming great in various directions that it is difficult to see how some action on the part of this Government can be much longer delayed.

Growth of the feeling in favor of direct intervention, without wasting more time in useless resolutions of recognition, was indicated by two powerful pleas in favor of intervention by this Government for the purpose of putting an end to the war.

These speeches were made by Senators Lindsay of Kentucky and Foraker of Ohio, and both were strong and impressive.

Thus the Cuban question is gradually assuming an acute form at the capital. There is not much difference of opinion as to the propriety of performing in Cuba, and that in all probability the only solution of the problem is intervention on terms which will save Spanish pride and give Cuba a free government under the protection of this Government and without war between Spain and our country. The real difference is between those who wish to go at this delicate task in an orderly, cautious, reasonable way, doing everything possible to avert war, while still pressing on to the main point in view, and those who would rush into war at the drop of a hat or the firing of a pistol.

There is some surprise that the administration should have given the official copies of the correspondence which took place between this Government and the Government of Spain a year ago concerning mediation or the use of our good offices. That the administration had a purpose in permitting this correspondence to become public just now is generally accepted, and the purpose was, in the opinion of most Senators, to show the world that this Government had already attempted the mild form of settlement called good offices, or mediation, but to no purpose on account of the unwillingness of Spain to accept our kindly intentions. The inference is that the administration wishes it known the next step in the matter which the United States may take with a proper regard to its own dignity is direct intervention.

Annexation or a protectorate might naturally follow intervention, for if Spain and her colony be separated order and peace must be secured in some manner. But a desire to meet the responsibilities of the United States in a strong and unselfish way, to suppress a useless and apparently interminable war and avert human suffering, is the impelling motive. The agitation indicates that a great deal of history is to be written during the coming six months.

KENTUCKY MAY BRAND THIEVES

Extraordinary Bill Introduced in the State Legislature.

There was recently introduced in the Kentucky Legislature a bill providing for the branding of all burglars who are committed to the penal institutions of the State. The measure directs that all such convicts shall have the letter "B" branded on both cheeks during their incarceration. The purpose of the father of the bill is to forever separate such criminals from honest men and prevent them from hiding their past. The bill has many supporters and many enemies. Chief among the latter are the optimists who believe that criminals can and will reform under proper influences and circumstances. In such instances, they claim, the branding would be an outrage. It would prevent their living a decent, honest life, even if they were so inclined. It would also, they argue, drive men to more desperate crimes after their release, for the brands would be a barrier to a life of anything save crime.

FLOOD OF 1897 OVER AT LAST.

Relief Work Practically Abandoned—Loss Estimated at $14,520,000.

The rapid fall of the Mississippi at all points from Memphis to the Gulf gives notice that the flood of 1897 is over. It is now conceded by all the engineers, State as well as national, that there is no longer need for any fear from high water. Not even from the rise which comes down the Mississippi in June. The Mississippi will have fallen so by June that it can take care of any rise that may come down from the Ohio or upper Mississippi. It has been decided also to abandon all relief work, except in a few localities. The colored relief committee at Vicksburg has disbanded because its services are no longer needed. The refugee camps at Natchez and Vicksburg have been broken up and the refugees sent home.

An estimate of the actual damage done in the loss of stock and crops, houses destroyed and swept away, and railroad track injured in Louisiana, $1,975,000; Arkansas, $4,325,000; Mississippi, $8,220,000; total, $14,520,000.

SPURNED BY SPAIN.

CUBAN REPORTS SHOW OLNEY OFFERED MEDIATION.

Senator Foraker Springs a Sensation by Making Known Diplomatic Correspondence—Secretary's Plan for Pacifying the Island Is Disclosed.

Given Out in Secret.

Sensational developments marked the Cuban debate in the Senate Wednesday. It was disclosed that President McKinley and Secretary of State Sherman had given to the Committee on Foreign Relations certain information furnished by our consuls in Cuba, and requested that the names of the consuls be kept secret, because of fear that they would meet with violence, in case their identity became known to the Spaniards.

Several Senators complained because confidential information had been given to the Committee on Foreign Relations, while it was withheld from the Senate as a whole. Then Senator Foraker submitted to the Senate copies of correspondence between Secretary Olney and the Spanish minister of foreign affairs a year ago, in which this Government proposed to Spain the use of our good offices in bringing about peace in Cuba.

Spain rejected, with the plea that "there is no effective way to pacify the Cubans except upon the condition that they first submit to the mother country."

The pressure of the Cuban question, says a Washington correspondent, is becoming great in various directions that it is difficult to see how some action on the part of this Government can be much longer delayed.

Playin' Possum.

"Playin' possum" comes from the fact that the possum will feign sleep or death when pushed into sudden danger of being captured. But pains and aches never play that kind of a game. They never try to fool anybody, and go to work to wake up people, leaving no chance to feign sleep.

On the other hand, there is a remedy known as St. Jacobs Oil that will lull a pain or an ache so that it won't wake up again in the cure that follows its use. Pains and aches are great or less in intensity just in degree as we treat them. Prompt treatment with the best remedy—St. Jacobs Oil—prevents their increase and by curing prevents their return. Everything is gained by taking pains and aches in time for a prompt and permanent cure, and there is nothing better than the use of St. Jacobs Oil.

The King of Siam's Palace.

The palace of the King of Siam is enclosed in high white walls which are a mile in circumference. Within them are contained temples, public offices, seraglios, stables for the sacred elephants, accommodations for 1,000 troops, cavalry, artillery, war elephants and arsenal and a theater.

Then Sleep Soundly.

You can't afford to lie awake or nights. Nothing compensates for loss of sleep. Eight hours of good sleep every night is what you need if you hope to keep healthy nerves in your body and a clear head on your shoulders. Yet you cannot get rest enough while you persist in drinking coffee. No habitual coffee drinker can depend on his sleep. Why not give up the coffee habit and drink Grain-O in place of it? Grain-O is made from pure grains, has the rich real brown color of Mocha or Java, is nourishing and palatable—a food drink—without any of the noxious properties of coffee. Having a short time you will prefer it to the best coffee that was ever set on your table. Two points gained—health promoted, money saved. All grocers. In packages at 15c. and 25c.

Herod the Great loved Mariamne, his wife, so devotedly that when he was summoned to Rome by Augustus to answer certain charges made against him and was afraid he might never return, he left her in care of three trusted servants, with orders that if he himself were put to death by Augustus she was to be immediately killed.

Drunk for Twenty Years.

A correspondent writes: "I was drunk on and off for over twenty years, drunk when I had money, sober when I had none. Many dear friends I lost, and numbers gave me good advice to no purpose; but, thank God, an angel hand came at last in the form of my poor wife, who administered my marvelous remedy, 'Anti-Jag,' to me without my knowledge or consent. I am now saved and completely transformed from a worthless fellow to a sober and respected citizen."

If "Anti-Jag" cannot be had at your drugstore, it will be mailed in plain wrapper with full directions how to give secretly, in receipt of One Dollar, by the Renova Chemical Co., 68 Broadway, New York, or they will gladly mail full particulars free.

English Cycle Trade.

Ponder Over It.

A prominent building owner, with years of experience, gave the following instructions to his architect: "I have had my experience with kalsomine and other goods claimed to be just as durable as Alabastine. I want you to specify the durable Alabastine on all my walls; do not put on any other manufacturers' dope, if they furnish it for nothing. Alabastine is right, and when I cease to use it I shall cease to have confidence in myself or my own judgment."

England has turned against its own sparrows. The birds are being slaughtered wholesale by the farmers, especially in Yorkshire, and great disgust is expressed at the matter of their taking off. The Board of Agriculture refuses to protect the birds.

American Ingenuity.

American ingenuity has always been a wonder to foreigners. We know of no better illustration of it than is displayed in the manufacture of wood. In this respect, the repeating shot gun made by the Winchester Repeating Arms Co., New Haven, Ct., which retails for about $20, will outshoot foreign hand-made guns of the same twenty times as much. This has been demonstrated time and time again. The leading shots of the country appreciate this and have put aside their expensive guns for the less costly but better shooting Winchester. The large illustrated Winchester catalogue is sent free upon request.

Who are injured by the use of coffee. Recently there has been placed in all the grocery stores a new preparation called GRAIN-O, made of pure grains, that takes the place of coffee. The most delicate stomach receives it without distress, and but few can tell it from coffee. It does not cost over one-fourth as much. Children may drink it with great benefit. 15c. and 25c. per package. Try it. Ask for GRAIN-O.

Motherhood.

A mother who is in good physical condition transmits to her children the blessings of a good constitution. The child fairly drinks in health from its mother's robust constitution before birth, and from a healthy mother's milk after.

Is not that an incentive to prepare for a healthy maternity?

Do you know the meaning of what is popularly called those "longings," or cravings, which beset so many women during pregnancy?

There is something lacking in the mother's blood. Nature cries out and will be satisfied at all hazards.

One woman wants sour thin, another wants sweets, another wants salt things, and so on.

The real need all the time is to enrich the blood so as to supply nourishment for another life, and to build up the entire generative system, so that the birth may be possible and successful.

If expectant mothers would fortify themselves with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for twenty years has sustained thousands of women in this condition, there would be fewer disappointments at birth, and they would not experience those annoying "longings."

In the following letter to Mrs. Pinkham, Mrs. Whitney demonstrates the power of the Compound in such cases. She says:

"From the time I was sixteen years old till I was twenty-three, I was troubled with weakness of the kidneys and terrible pains when my monthly periods came on. I made up my mind to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and was soon relieved. After I was married, the doctor said I would never be able to go my full time and have a living child, as I was constitutionally weak. I had lost a baby at seven months and a half. The next time I commenced at once and continued to take your Compound through the period of pregnancy, and I said then, if I went my full time and the baby lived to be three months old, I should send a letter to you. My baby is now seven months old and is as healthy and hearty as one could wish."

"I am so thankful that I used your medicine, for it gave me the robust health to transmit to my child. I cannot express my gratitude to you; I never expected such a blessing. Praise God for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and may others who are suffering do as I did and find relief, and may many homes be brightened as mine has been."—Mrs. L. Z. WHITNEY, 5 George St., E. Somerville, Mass.

The Man who is Raising a Big Crop —realizes that the harvest time is ahead.

Ideal farming comprehends not only the growing of the tallest grain—the most tons-to-the-acre of hay; the best farming—the farming that pays—must contemplate something more than this for there is a harvest time, and just in proportion as a crop is raised successfully, speedily and economically, in just that proportion may be measured the season's profit or loss.
